Ray Pleads Guilty; 99 Years In King's Death

Still Maintains A Conspiracy Existed

JAMES EARL RAY
99 years in prison

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—James Earl Ray pleaded guilty today to murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and was sentenced to 99 years in the Tennessee State Peniteniary.

"You have pleaded guilty to first degree murder and it is the judgment of the court that you be confined for 99 years in the state penitentiary," Criminal Court Judge Preston Battle intoned.

Ray, pleading guilty to the slaying, had told the court he wanted to add a statement that he did not agree with "the theory there was no conspiracy" in the killing of Dr. King.

The entire proceeding, from original guilty plea to metting of the sentence by the jury, lasted less than three and one-half hours.

A minute before the judge passed sentence, Ray, who was 41 today, sat quietly in a checked blue sport coat and dark pants as the judge asked the jurors if they still agreed to a state-defense arrangement that Ray plead guilty and accept the sentence.

ALL 12 AGREE

All 12 raised their right hands in assent. With today's action Ray could possibly be paroled in 33 years.

The judge than thanked the jurors and all others who had helped in the case. He repeated defense and prosecution contentions that there was no evidence of a conspiracy in King's slaying.

Should any such evidence arise, the judge made it clear, the state will prosecute.

Ray said he did not agree with the theory that there was no conspiracy to assassinate King. He did not elaborate. He said, however, "I agree with the stipulation" to plead guilty.

"I've never had hopes of anything except . . . to save this man's life," said Ray's lawyer, Percy Foreman of Houston, Tex. "It took me months to prove to myself . . . that it was not a conspiracy."

Five witnesses then testified to the actual fact of King's slaying, at the Lorraine Motel here April 4, 1968. This is necessary under Tennessee law in a case where the death penalty could be involved.

JURY RETIRES

Then, the jury retired to go through the formality of setting the 99-year sentence.

The jury was chosen from a venire picked two weeks ago, but the jurors themselves had no idea, a court spokesman said, that they would be assigned to the Ray case until court began this morning.

Criminal Court Judge Preston Battle asked Ray, who was called to the stand, whether he understood that his guilty plea meant he waived all rights to appeal. He also was asked if the decision to plead guilty was his own and of his own free will.

In Atlanta, Ga., Rev. Martin Luther King Sr., father of the slain civil rights leader, said he had no comment on Ray's plea. Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., widow of the slain man, was reported to be out of the city and not immediately available.

At that point, testimony began

Planners Hear Sign Arguments

By WAT TAKESHITA

An absolute maximum height of 25 feet should not be imposed on free-standing signs, representatives of business and industry declared this morning during a discussion of a new sign ordinance by the Marin County Planning Commission.

At present, the height limit is 12 feet, but this may be exceeded by use permit, with no absolute limit. County planner Wesley Wilkes proposed a height limit of 15 feet, and a maximum of 25 feet if allowed by sign review.

HINDER INDUSTRY

Richard P. Nave, president of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau, charged that an absolute maximum of 25 or 75 square feet would hinder industry in the county. "For large businesses, there may be occasions when the sign should be 200 square feet or 250 square feet," he said.

Nave argued that a business which wants a 30-foot sign should be allowed to get it through a use permit, and not be required to get a variance, "which is tougher and puts the businessman right behind the eightball."

Ben A. Farlatti, director of the county chamber of commerce, suggested that the height of signs be guided by the maximum building height allowed in each area.

SIGN HEIGHTS

Norman Traverso, executive manager of the Marin Property Owners Association, also objected to maximum height limitations.

Chairman Hugh Dougherty said he sees possibilities in relating the height of signs to the building height but postponed a decision until other provisions of the new sign ordinance had been discussed.

Businessmen also objected to a proposed ban on trademarks or brand names such as Coca Cola or Pepsi Cola, where the premises do not require such signs for identification.

"You're treading on dangerous ground when you regulate the nature of signs," warned Virgil

THE DRUG SCENE

Young America On A Wild Kick

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of 10 articles written by a prize-winning reporter to inform parents about the drug and narcotics situation and suggest what they can do to guard their own children against its hazards.)

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Writer

The use — and abuse — of drugs that affect human minds is spreading across the country like smog.

Young Americans by the hundreds of thousands, perhaps by the million, are tasting, experimenting or going still further with marijuana, with LSD, with the uppies and downies of pep pills and sedatives, with speed, and even in some cases with heroin.

By the millions, parents are increasingly puzzled, worried, or even downright panicky. Most distrubing to them, marijuana or "pot" especially is becoming popular among junior high and high school students.

"My 7-year-old daughter can spell marijuana; I never heard of it until I was in college," says one 37-year-old father.

At high schools and colleges, arrests for possession of marijuana and other drugs are increasing. Simple possession of marijuana is a felony punishable by jail terms of two to 10 years or more.

Drug use is unquestionably becoming a way of life for some young people — and for an untold number of adults also.

This series of stories, based on interviews with dozens of authorities across the country, deals with questions such as these that confront parents and young people as well:

What can or should parents do to steer their children away from using mind-affecting drugs?

Opening Of Raceway Causes Traffic Snarl

Traffic was backed up for five miles in each direction on Highways 37 and 121 at the Sears Point Intersection yesterday with the first weekend of racing at the Sears Point Raceway, according to Lt. Arnold Zink of the Sonoma County California Highway Patrol. (See sports section for racing story.)

The traffic tieup started before 9:30 a.m. with the first race scheduled for 10 a.m., Zink said. It was not cleared out until 6:30 p.m., he said.

Officers from the Marin County office of the California Highway Patrol, controlled traffic on Highway 37, he said, while other highway patrolmen from Sonoma County tried to handle the traffic at the gate.

"We knew we would have a problem, but did not realize it would be that bad," he said.

Zink blamed the lack of parking at the speedway and slowness of taking admission money as the major cause of blocking traffic back onto the two lane Highway 121 and Highway 37, both east and west of the speedway.

Zink said that at 11;30 a.m. all available parking places at the race track were filled.

At 11:51 the Sonoma County office asked all radio stations in the area to broadcast an alert asking all people to stay off those highways as the traffic had backed up five miles in each direction.

President Deciding On ABM

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI)—President Nixon scheduled last-minute consultations with his national security adviser on the controversial antiballistic missile system before returning to Washington later today.

The Florida White House said Dr. Henry A. Kissinger was en route from Washington to consult with Nixon on the ABM and "other matters."

Acting press secretary Gerald L. Warren said Nixon awakened early, breakfasted alone and spent the morning working on official papers in preparation for his return to the capitol, where he will announce his decision on deployment of the Sentinel missile defense system — probably tomorrow.

(Marin County facing the prospect of one of the Sentinel missiles being built on Wolfback Ridge, is among areas of the United States vitally concerned with Nixon's decision. The Army has already started tests on Wolfback Ridge and was eyeing Marin's Angel Island as a second choice when Nixon halted work on the system for a review.)

In Washington, Nixon's press secretary Ronald Ziegler ruled out a television appearance for announcement of the ABM decision. The White House said Nixon still has not decided how he will make public his decision.

He planned to fly back to Washington with Kissinger and other aides late this afternoon. His press aides declined to say whether the President has made up his mind on the ABM.

He is under strong pressure from the Pentagon to approve a modified program for deploying the ABM near missile sites, away from urban areas.

Nixon mulled the issue over the weekend while relaxing on his island hideaway and yachting in Biscayne Bay. He met with several other advisers Sunday to further discuss the ABM system.

He has several options, and could conceivably postpone a decision in view of mounting diplomatic reports a summit meeting with Soviet leaders is in the making.

College Election Code Held 'Illegal'

Actions of the College of Marin student Executive Council Friday changing several election code provisions were declared "illegal" today in an editorial in the school newspaper, the Times.

In a special one-page edition, the Times gave its views editorially on last Thursday's botched-up election and the three new demands of the Black Students Union.

Editor Rick Beban wrote:

"The constitution states that statutes which are going to be changed have to be posted a week in advance." There was no such posting.

In a 14-inch editorial Beban supported one of the three Black Student Union demands: recruiting programs for black students, more black counselors and financial aid for all black students.

That demand, plus one that David Garber, student activities adviser, be fired for his involvement in Thursday's election and one asking reforms in the election methods, were made Friday. With them came an ultimatum that they be met by today.

The Independent-Journal talked to a Black Student Union member by telephone at the Associated Students office today. He said there would be no statement made until 9:30 a.m. tomorrow, following a BSU meeting set for today.

Election code changes made Friday included the rule that a student no longer needs two full semesters work at the college to be eligible to run for student body president.

This would automatically make eligible Conrad Harris II, a black who was on Thursday's ballot but who does not have the two semesters work.

Other code changes relate to having representatives near ballot boxes and roping off the ballot place to prevent casting of unauthorized ballots.

The Time's editorial said flatly that the botched-up election was not Garber's fault but that of the student government.

It said Garber is being used as a scapegoat by the BSU since he was asked to interfere with the student government process. "Because Garber stood for noninterference he has been branded as a racist and his removal demanded," the editorial said.

The editorial asks that student government place its affairs in hands of an interim committee composed of two members of the Third World Liberation Front Association, the Inter-Club Council, the Associated Students president and treasurer and Garber.

"We must find a solution or else no one will be able to function on any level," the editorial read. It was signed "Peace — Beban."

Apollo 9 Astronauts Fire Spaceship Engine

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 9 astonauts triggered their spaceship engine for 25 seconds today to jockey into a more favorable orbit in the event of an emergency reentry and to try to learn why warning lights flashed on an earlier firing.

"That's pretty smooth. Like an arrow in the sky," commented Air Force Col. David R. Scott as the engine ignited high over the United States.

With stormy weather buffeting their planned Atlantic landing area, they were told they might have to shift Thursday's planned splashdown to calmer seas.

To help ground controllers plot the storm, Air Force Cols. James A. McDivitt and Scott and civilian Russell L. Schweickart turned space age weathermen and reported on conditions in the landing zone near Bermuda and over a wide area of the United States.

They lit up the big 20,500-pound thrust engine for the seventh time today, dropping their orbit's low point from 117 to 112 miles and raising the high point from 131 to 292 miles.

One more firing is planned, to bring them out of orbit Thursday. If the engine should fail, the new orbital path would permit the astronauts to use their small control jets for an effective re-entry.

North Korea Believed War-Minded

CORONADO (UPI) — Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher faced a Navy Court of Inquiry today as a volunteer witness after an admiral testified he believes North Korea wanted a war over the USS Pueblo affair.

Vice Adm. J. Victor Smith, who negotiated with the Communists after the vessel's capture, called the North Koreans "mad dogs."

Smith described North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and his advisers as "intelligent people but completely without scruple or conscience."

"I felt that Kim Il Sung welcomed, perhaps wanted, war at that time," Smith said. "Seizure of a vessel on the high seas has in the past been an occasion for war."

Smith said the Pueblo's capture occurred shortly after North Korean efforts to assassinate South Korean president Park Chung Hee, which Smith called another grave provocation.

Bucher was to go before the court this afternoon to answer unfavorable testimony about the way he commanded the Pueblo.

The aim of his civilian attorney, C. Miles Harvey, was to put Bucher's case into sound shape before the court begins its deliberations. It could recommend Bucher for anything from a court-martial to a decoration.

Bucher's decision to testify again left him open to cross-examination by the admirals conducting the inquiry into the espionage vessel's capture Jan. 23, 1968.

Most of the Pueblo's 74 enlisted men have testified in open court during the last two weeks.

Unruh Eying Nomination

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assembly Minority Leader Jesse M. Unruh has decided to seek the Democratic nomination for governor, some of his legislative associates said today.

Fellow Democrats in the Assembly said Unruh, former speaker of the lower house, has told some of them informally that he has made up his mind to seek the nomination — barring what they term "a catastrophe."

Republican Gov. Reagan is expected to seek a second term in 1970.

Armed Bandits Take $40,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two armed thugs who lay in wait when employees arrived held up a Wells Fargo Bank today and escaped with about $40,000.

The pair, described as Negro males, started to take two hostages out of the bank as they left, but changed their minds and released them unharmed.

A bank spokesman said the robbers forced a janitor to let them in the 24th and Irving branch around 8 a.m. They met employees as they arrived for work.

The estimate of cash taken was made by FBI agent Charles R. Bates.

Bolinas Harbor Fate Is Tomorrow

Bolinas voters tomorrow will decide the fate of the Bolinas Harbor District — and possibly of Bolinas Lagoon.

The vote on dissolution of the district was ordered last year by Marin supervisors, dissatisfied with the board's plans for the lagoon.

The harbor board proposed enough lagoon development to finance dredging which it says is needed to keep the lagoon from silting in and dying within a few years.

Proponents of dissolution say the lagoon is threatened more by overdevelopment than by silting, and want the county to administer the lagoon.

If the voters approve dissolution, state action will be required to turn the lagoon over to the county, since the district grant came from the state Lands Commission in 1957. The dissolution vote is conditioned on the county taking over administration.

Polls at the Stinson Beach Community Center and Bolinas community building will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Oscar-Winning Producer Dies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Charles Brackett, a four-time Academy Award winning producer and screenwriter, died yesterday in Hollywood at the age of 77.

Brackett

He won Oscars in 1945 for "Lost Weekend," in 1950 for "Sunset Boulevard," and in 1953 for "Titanic." The Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences presented him with an honorary Oscar for outstanding service in 1957.

Brackett came to Hollywood in 1932 after writing two novels and contributing to the Saturday Evening Post and New Yorker Magazine. Among his other films were "Ninotcha," "Hold Back the Dawn," "The Major and the Minor" and "Five Graves to Cairo."

Brackett, who was retired, is survived by his widow, Lillian, and a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Moore.

A Strong Quake

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea (UPI) — A strong and potentially damaging earthquake struck just off the coast of Western New Guinea yesterday, about 1,000 miles northwest of Port Moresby.

The Geophysical observatory here said the quake measured 6.5 on the open-end Richter scale.

A spokesman for the observatory said it was likely the quake had caused considerable damage in the area. "There are a lot of villages along the coast near there and it is likely these were damaged," he said.

Goes Berserk

CAN THO, Vietnam (UPI) — A U.S. military policeman apparently went berserk and started firing his grenade launcher at American servicemen and Vietnamese civilians, killing two and wounding nine. He was undergoing medical tests today.

Military officials said Sp/4 Larry R. Crook, 19, of Rossville, Ga., was on duty in a guard tower Saturday night when he suddenly started firing his M79 grenade launcher around the U.S. compound here.

Two Vietnamese civilians were killed and two wounded. Nine Americans were injured, one seriously.

NATO Pullout?

STUTTGART, West Germany (UPI) — West German President-elect Gustav Heinemann says there cannot be a united Germany so long as his country remains a member of NATO.

Heinemann, 69, a Social Democrat elected president Wednesday, said in a newspaper interview over the weekend "NATO membership cannot be the terminus of German policy because it is impossible to achieve reunification of our people within NATO."

"It is also impossible to achieve reunification through the Warsaw Pact. We must be prepared in principal to get out of these bloc formations," he said.

A Bride At 12

PALERMO, Siycil (UPI) — Marcella Rosciglione eloped with Giuseppe Greco over the weekend and became Italy's youngest bride. She is 12.

The pair received special dispensation for the wedding from the Roman Catholic church. Normally girls must be 14 to marry, but consent is given if younger girls elope with a man for two days.

Maritime nations generally are conceded full rights over the undersea areas close to their shorelines, but there is no agreement on how far out the "territorial sea" extends.

University Reopens

ROME (AP) — The University of Rome reopened today after a 16-day shutdown and two months of students occupation and disorders.

Ptlice stood guard at the gates to the main campus and at entrances to other schools of the university scattered around the city. They let anyone go in without checking on credientials.

There was no disturbance as students filed in to class. But militant students of both the right and left vowed to keep up the fight.

Funds Slashed

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — Because of a shortage of funds, organizers of Japan's Expo 70 have decided to curtail the cultural part of the exhibition by dropping three foreign attractions.

However, the majority of the program is still intact. It includes appearances by the Metropolitan Opera of New York, the Soviet Union's Bolshos Opera, Britian's National Theater, the National Ballet of Canada, the New Philharmonic Orchestra of London, the Cleveland Symphony and the New York Philharmonic.

The three that have been dropped are the Royal Danish Ballet, the Comedie Francaise and the Stuttgart Philharmonic.

Kremlin Snub

BELGRADE (AP) — Yugoslavia's Communist Party conference opens tomorrow but the Soviet Union and its East European allies — including Czechoslovakia — are staying home, local Communist sources say.

The Kremlin snub is a result of Yugoslavia's opposition to the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia last year. Romania, which also came out against the invasion, is sending a delegation.

One of the Yugoslav documents to be adopted at the congress assails military intervention in Czechoslovakia and the Soviet doctrine that Moscow can intervene in any Communist country when it considers that the government there is threatened.

French Franc Trouble Held No Emergency

BASEL (AP) — Western Europe's central bankers decided yesterday the French franc's troubles don't constitute an emergency requiring international action but the price of gold continued to rise today on Europe's free markets.

Bullion was selling at $43.75 an ounce in London, 25 cents over Friday's price. Dealers said the demand was normal and the turnover small, indicating the upward movement was caused by the absence of sellers at the lower levels.

On London's foreign exchange market the pound opened a little better—at $2.3908 compared to Friday's $2.3895. But the franc, which pulled sterling down last week, was still shaky.

ZURICH PRICES

In Zurich, the price of gold jumped from $43.40-$43.60 to $43.75-$44, hitting a record high for the second time in four days. One bullion dealer said there was "demand from almost everywhere," but a banker said the buying "did not appear to be really hectic."

The Paris free gold market hit another record—the fifth in the past week—at an equivalent of $48.41 an ounce. This was a hike of 10 cents over the Friday cost. Volume was moderate and few holders of gold were willing to sell.

The West German domestic price of gold was fixed in Frankfurt at a record $42.14, up from $41.88 Friday.

On the Frankfurt money market, both the dollar and the pound sterling were up. The dollar opened at 4.0130 marks, up from Friday's closing price of 4.0100. Sterling opened at 9.5940 compared to 9.5800 Friday.

ENOUGH GOLD

After their regular monthly meeting, several of the bankers said the French government has enough gold to cope with the current flow of money beyond its borders.

They also said France has not asked for help under emergency arrangements the bankers made last month to help countires with money troubles.

However, the present uncertainty about the franc will not be resolved until the French government and the country's labor unions settle their differences over wages. The unions have called a 24-hour general strike tomorrow.

The unions are seeking a 12 per cent wage increase. The government is resisting such a large boost would make French exports so expensive the value of the franc would have to be lowered so French business could compete in international markets.

MAYFIELD, Ky. (UPI)—One of the nation's stranger memorials to the dead is at Mayfield in far western Kentucky. Henry G. Wooldridge is interred in a vault amidst 16 statues which he designed of persons, horses and dogs.

Savage Attacks Costly To Allies

SAIGON (AP) — Hundreds of enemy troops ambushed about 300 South Vietnamese paratroopers, killing 30 of the government soldiers and wounding 105 in a two-day battle that was still going on late today, the Saigon government said.

The savage battle said was one of five major fights reported in the past 24 hours—at three points near the Cambodian border and to the north and south of Saigon. The dead included 31 Americans and at least 127 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, allied spokesmen said.

TOWNS SHELLED

The Viet Cong also shelled more than 35 towns and allied bases during the night as the enemy's spring offensive continued in its third week. U.S. Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird told newsmen as he left Saigon after a four-day visit that the offensive is a "calculated escalation of the war." But he said it "has not been successful" and the rocket attacks which have been made on Saigon were not significant.

Laird would not reveal the recommendations he is carrying back to President Nixon, except to say that he would request additional funds to strengthen the South Vietnamese armed services. At Da Nang yesterday, he had indicated the amount would be about $70 million.

TROOP REPLACEMENT

The secretary said some American troops would be replaced in due course by South Vietnamese as the latters' armed forces grew stronger. But he would not give any timetable.

Laird said the question of the mutual withdrawal of American and North Vietnamese troops is one of the subjects under consideration in Paris, and consequently he did not feel it proper to comment further in Saigon. But he did say that on the basis of his trip, he could not foresee any circumstances which would require more American forces in Vietnam.

Laird reiterated an earlier statement that continuation of rocket and mortar attacks on Saigon constituted a violation of an understanding with North Vietnam under which the United States stopped bombing North Vietnam on Nov. 1.

"If they continue," he said, "an appropriate response, in either a diplomatic or a military way, will be made."

Meanwhile, the Viet Cong pushed its spring offensive into its third week yesterday, and enemy troops dealt a battalion of South Vietnamese paratroopers and a platoon of American air cavalrymen heavy losses in two border clashes. Another American ambush patrol suffered serious losses when Viet Cong troops outmaneuvered it and sprung their own ambush.

The South Vietnamese paratrooper battalion reported 14 of its men killed and 80 wounded in a savage fight 54 miles northwest of Saigon and three miles from the Cambodian border. American bombers finally drove off the enemy force, but enemy casualties were not known.

About 20 miles to the south, every U.S. air cavalryman in a 40-man platoon was killed or wounded when an estimated 400 troops from the Viet Cong 9th Division ran into the platoon as it was checking the Cambodian border for infiltrators. American reinforcements poured into the battle, but 14 U.S. troops were killed and 31 were wounded. At least 37 of the enemy were killed, the U.S. Command said.

Drug Aiding Parkinson's Treatment

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Several Philadelphia hospitals report dramatic results in the treatment of Parkinson's disease with an experimental drug.

The hospitals report that the drug L-dopa produces virtually complete recovery in about 25 per cent of their Parkinson patients and improvement in most others suffering the debilitating disorder of the nervous system which causes trembling of the hands.

Since L-dopa must be administered indefinitely, however, it is not claimed as a cure.

At Episcopal Hospital, Dr. Jack Greenberg said 10 to 35 patients lost nearly all signs of the disease after they were given the drug over a six month period, and marked improvement in another 10.

The University of Pennsylvania Hospital, which began L-dopa trials last summer, reported that about 25 per cent of 70 to 80 patients given the drug lost nearly all signs of the disease, and about half the remaining patients showed noted improvement.

Parkinson's disease is one of the most prevalent and disabling neurological disorders. There are an estimated one million victims in the United States, with 50,000 new cases diagnosed yearly.

When cells in the body fail to manufacture a chemical called dopamine, corresponding nerve signals to the brain fail. L-dopa breaks down in the body to become the missing dopamine.

Copper Pipe Stolen

Copper tubing, valued at $500 and owned by Perma-Built Enterprises, 1914 Las Gallinas Road, San Rafael, was taken from 24 Skyview Terrace and 22 Salvidor Way between 5:30 p.m. Thursday and 7:30 a.m. Friday.

Quake Doom Predictions Put Down

PASADENA (UPI) — Wild predictions that California will break off and fall into the sea during a cataclysmic earthquake next month are labeled "clearly ridiculous" by leading seismologists.

Dr. Charles F. Richter, who devised the Richter scale for measuring the magnitude of quakes, recalled yesterday that seismologists at the California Institute of Technology have been knocking down such reports for years.

BACK IN 1965

"A few years ago, in 1965 to be exact, we received spurious earthquake predictions for Jan. 17, Feb. 4, March 17, April 1, April 16, all of May, May 30, and for the Imperial Valley sometime in June or July," Richter said.

"But it was a normal year—none came true."

"If you look at the record," said Dr. James N. Bruno of the CalTech Seismological Laboratory, "These people have been predicting major disasters for years, and they've consistently been wrong. There is no way yet to predict earthquakes although seismologists are seeking ways to accurately estimate and reduce earthquake hazards."

FORECASTS OF DOOM

Bruce, who supervises CalTech's network of seismological station in Southern California, noted that in recent months self-proclaimed oracles have been frightening persons needlessly with forecasts of doom.

"A common characteristic of most of these dire predictions is the idea that a great part of California—all of the territory on the west side of the San Andreas fault—will split off and slide into the sea," Brune "This is clearly ridiculous."

The reports of impending doom in early April are chronicled in popular songs, jokes, and posters depicting Los Angeles sliding into the sea like a modern Atlantis.

QUAKE SONG

One popular song, sung to a calypso beat, warns, "Do you know the swim? You better learn quick, Jim." A tongue-in-cheek commercial by "Sam Andreas" touts Mecca Shores, a housing development in the inland desert where "the beaches are in and the Pacific Ocean will arrive soon."

Brune noted that in recent months a Pasadena clergyman predicted disaster for Wednesday, Feb. 12, that never occurred. Another minister led his congregation out of California for fear of an earthquake last Oct. 12 that never came.

Italy is planning to build a new railroad line from Rome to Florence offering trains traveling up to 150 miles an hour and reducing the running time between the cities to 90 minutes.

Egypt Forces Chief Killed By Israel Fire

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

GEN. ABDEL MONEIM RIAD
Fatally wounded

Egypt gave its armed forces chief of staff a hero's funeral today. Israel claimed one of its tank gunners killed him with a direct hit during a three-hour, 25-minute battle yesterday across the Suez Canal.

Lt. Gen. Abdel Moneim Riad, 50, died near Ismailia, on the edge of the canal's west bank, while inspecting front lines and directing return fire against the Israelis. Nearby, Egyptian oil refineries still blazed from attacks on Saturday and yesterday.

'GOD'S WILL'

"It was God's will," announced the office of President Gamal Abdel Nasser in Cairo.

Israeli officials said in Jerusalem that in addition to killing Riad, "it was possible" the tank gunner may have also hit several other senior officers who were believed accompanying him. Egypt said only Riad was hit.

In a report from Cairo, the Soviet news agency Tass said that Cairo newspapers were reporting today that yesterday's artillery battle was "the biggest battle from the time of the June War of 1967."

Israeli sources said at least three Israeli soldiers were killed in yesterday's fighting and 14 others wounded in the fight along a 75-mile stretch of the canal.

A communique issued in Jerusalem said tanks and artillery were leveled to fire across the 150-yard wide canal, smashing at least nine huge fuel storage tanks containing 27,000 tons of fuel at the Nasr refineries, south of Suez.

FIVE-HOUR BARRAGE

Yesterday's battle followed a five-hour barrage Saturday across the canal where, according to Israeli officials, a fuel tanker and four oil storage tanks were still ablaze.

In Beirut the Palestinian guerrillas, Al-Fatah, today claimed their commandos had shelled three Israeli settlements and one town near the Sea of Galilee with heavy rockets.

Preliminary estimates showed Israeli casualties were "high" in both lives and properties, the statement said.

In the wake of the two-day battle, foreign ministers or their representatives from 13 Arab League nations and the Palestine liberation organization met in Cairo to discuss policy towards Israel.

High on the conference agenda were discussions of recent Arab world reports the United States and Britain planned to sell tanks to Israel.

Peking Says Russ Masking Internal Fuss

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China charged today that the Soviet Union provoked the Manchurian border clash March 2 to divert the attention of Russians who are massing for a "revolution" against "Soviet fascist rule."

Some Western analysts have suggested that Peking provoked the bloody fight for a similar reason—to make the Chinese forget internal dissensions and rally behind Mao Tse-tung by raising the specter of a "Soviet threat."

Bolstering this view was an announcement from Peking yesterday that Red Chinese militiamen and peasants are patrolling with frontier guards "in preparedness for war."

Press reports in Hong Kong and London said Peking has put 5 million men on an armed alert. The official Chinese announcement gave no exact figures.

Each side has accused the other of starting the March 2 battle on a disputed island in the Ussuri River, which separates the Soviet Far East and Manchuria. Moscow said 31 of its soldiers were killed and 14 were wounded. China has not released casualty figures.

Six Slain

PUERTO MONTT, Chile (UPI) — Police sent to evict hundreds of squatters from illegally occupied land shot and wounded 34 yesterday, officials said.

A mob estimated at about 2,000 attacked the police with stones and iron bars. When one policeman was wounded by gunfire, police began shooting into the crowd.

One of those charged with instigating the clash was Luis Espinoza, a newly elected Socialist Party member of congress.

Bagley Introduces Bail System Overhaul

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Efforts got under way in the Legislature today to reshape the state bail system and take a new turn in how alcoholics are dealt with by courts.

Republican Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael, proposed legislation seeking to free many persons, usually poor, from jail on their own word that they will show up for trial.

The aim, he said, is to make sure "that a court must release a defendant on his own recognizance if the court believes that the defendant will appear for trial."

If the court won't let the defendant go, his status would have to be reviewed within three days and if the court still wouldn't free the prisoner, or reduce his bail, it would have to state its reasons.

The current bail system, Bagley contended, is "checkbook justice. . .The traditional money use of bail is a prime example of a practice which has proven unnecessary, ineffective and discriminatory against the poor. . . The concept of equal justice cannot tolerate the continuation of such a system."

A Democrat, Assemblyman Alan Sieroty of Beverly Hills, put forth a bill to take most cases of drunkenness out of the criminal courts and treat them instead as a public health problem.

That would unclog the courts of their biggest non-traffic case, relieve the pressure on overcrowded jails and speed up the administration of justice generally, he said.

It would also be more humane for the alcoholic, Sieroty declared. He remarked: "The use of the criminal process to control alcohol abuse has failed. It has failed to deter chronic drunkenness and it has failed to rehabilitate chronic alcoholics, In addition, the present system is very costly, and it places a burden on the police, the courts and the jails."

His legislation would require every county to set up a treatment center where drunks could be held for up to six months of specialized treatment. Sieroty said he woule propose that part of the cost be paid by a raise in the statewide liquor taxes.

Bond Idea For Cal-Vet Financing

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman Ernest N. Mobley, R-Sanger, said today he will ask the Legislature to take another look at a measure authorizing the sale of revenue debentures as an alternate way to finance the Cal-Vet farm and home loan program.

"The reason for reintroducing the bill is obvious," he said. "The California bond market has collapsed."

There still is outstanding $200 million in Cal-Vet bond authorization, but a saturated bond market has made sale of the issue doubtful in the immediate future.

Banks are not now permitted to underwrite revenue debentures. Mobley said his bill, defeated last year, was turned down partly because banking interests feared it would interfere with the sale of general obligation bonds.

Mobley said he was afraid that if revenue debentures are not authorized to help finance the Cal-Vet loans it would mean "a costly end to the eminently eminently successful 47 - year - old program..."

Drug Suspects

Reform Of State's Ballot Initiative Process Sought

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Reform of California's ballot initiative process was proposed today by a legislator who complained recent campaigns were more a product of public relations than grass - roots public sentiment.

Assemblyman John F. Dunlap, D-Napa, put forth legislation that would make it harder to qualify initiatives for the ballot, and require more detailed reports on who is paying for the campaigns.

His proposals came as the Legislature began the 10th week of its session with several lawmakers attending a British - American legislative conference in Oxford, England.

Dunlap's call to change the ballot initiative procedures reflected the sentiments of dozens of lawmakers who complained last year about Prop. 9.

It would have drastically cut the amount and use of the local property tax, facing legislators with the task of making up the money that would have been lost. It led the Legislature to put a smaller rival proposal at the top of the ballot as Prop 1-A. That passed, while Prop. 9 lost.

Prop. 9 was sponsored by Los Angeles County Assessor Philip Watson, but foes of the measure said during the campaign it was a plot by landlords and others to get a huge tax break.

Dunlap said "this measure was allowed to qualify under current law without anyone knowing who paid to get it on the ballot."

His legislation would require proponents of such a measure to reveal their financial support and how much it cost to get signatures to qualify for the statewide vote.

At present, it takes 520,276 signatures of registered voters to qualify an initiative that would change the State Constitution. Some 325,173 signatures are needed for an initiative that simply changes a law passed by the Legislature.

In recent years, only paid, professional petition circulators have succeeded in rounding up the necessary signatures to put inititatives before the general electorate.

Dunlap proposed to require full, specific disclosure by initiative organizers of who circulated their petitions, and how much it cost.

He also would require that petitions could be signed only in public places, such as fire stations, schools or courthouses. At present, they can be signed anywhere, such as on street corners or at supermarkets.

Dunlap commented, "If the legislature and the governor truly are irresponsible to the public needs, the public will act. It will attend in mass to the nearest public building and sign on the dotted line. On the other hand, if there is not true need for the legislation it may not be pushed before an unwanting public through signatures obtained by street-corner solicitation."

His proposal would require two constitutional amendments, which need approval by two - thirds of each house before going on the 1970 ballot for final decision by voters.

I. McNabb, community relations official for Western Gas and Oil Co. of San Francisco.

Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. agreed that such a ban "comes under the general philosophy of censorship."

Trade name advertisement such as Coca Cola signs are a type of billboard, replied Mrs. T. J. Donnelly, representing the Marin Conservation League.

"What's the difference between Berkeley Farm Products and Coca Cola?" asked Commissioner Michael Praszker. The new ordinance proposed that trade name advertisement be banned except dairy farm signs.

The business representatives also objected to banning readerboards at shopping centers.

Commissioners Eugene R. Trombley and Walter F. Freitas sympathized with their objection.

The commissioners decided tentatively that readerboards and trade names be allowed, but limited to a certain percentage, perhaps 25 per cent, of the total sign space allowed.

The commissioners had several more pages of the lengthy new ordinance to discuss in their paragraph by paragraph reading.

Sarah Lawrence Girls Ask More Men On Campus

BRONXVILLE, N. Y. (UPI)— Administrators at exclusive Sarah Lawrence College faced a deadline today in a "rich girls' revolt" by a student minority demanding more men on campus and other "non-negotiable" concessions.

Forty to 100 of the college's 600 students, who have held the administration building or six days, presented an ultimatum to the administration Saturday night demanding action by this morning on a series of changes in the rules.

The sitins demanded that the predominantly female college, which opened its doors to men only a year ago, increase the number of males on campus to 50 per cent of the student body. There are now 24 male "coeds" at Sarah Lawrence, and about 90 have applied for admission next year.

JOSE MOYA DEL PINO
Spanish artist dies

OBITUARIES

Jose Moya Del Pino Dies At 78

Requiem Mass for Jose Moya del Pino, Spanish artist and Bay Area art educator who lived in Ross, was offered today at the Chapel of the Dominican Fathers in Kentfield, with burial in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Moya del Pino died Friday at his home on Laurel Grove Avenue following a long illness which had prevented him from painting since 1961. He was 78.

A native of Priego, Spain, near Granada, he began painting when he was six. He studied at the National School of Fine Arts in Madrid from 1908 until 1911 when he won the Prix de Rome, a scholarship to study art in Rome.

However, he preferred Paris and studied there at the Colarossi School from 1911 to the middle of World War I when he returned to Spain, and was commissioned by the Spanish government to copy all of the paintings of Velasquez for a traveling exhibit to the United States.

He began that tour in 1925 and reached San Francisco in 1927, a year the Spanish government fell and could no longer afford to finance the exhibit. Del Pino gave the paintings to the University of California at Berkeley and settled in the Bay Area.

He painted in oil, tempra, fresco and water color and did about 30 murals in post offices, homes, businesses. One of his murals is at the Ross School. He was also a portrait painter and his subjects ranged from King Alphonso XIII of Spain to Katharine Branson and Caroline Livermore in Marin.

He taught at the California School of Fine Arts, San Francisco, from 1937 to 1940, gave private instruction in portrait painting and was in instructor in the College of Marin adult evening school in the 1950s and early 1960s.

He was the founding vice president of the Marin Art and Garden Center, a member of the Artists Equity Association, the San Francisco Art Association, the Marin Society of Artists, Sigma Delta Pi, a Spanish honorary, and the Family Club and Merchants Exchange Club of San Francisco.

Survivors are his wife, Helen Moya del Pino; two daughters, Mrs. Giovanni Coda-Nunziante of Naples, Italy and Mrs. Ernest Kun of San Francisco; a son, Clemente Miguel Moya of Sloughhouse, Scaramento County; a sister, Maria Moya del Pino of Ross, and four grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Jose Moya del Pino Library at the Marin Art and Garden Center or to the donor's favorite charity.

Scranton Woman Better Next Day... Pain Of Piles Relieved

Treatment Promptly Relieves Pain, Itching In Most Cases

Scranton, Pa. Mrs. J. Straniere, Jr. of this city writes: "When I had our son, I got hemorrhoids and how painful. My husband bought Preparation H for me. The next day, I was much better —just after using it once."

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases—Preparation H® actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced.

There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

Young America's Use Of Drugs Puzzling, Confusing To Parents

story about various drugs do young people and children know?

How can you tell if someone is smoking marijuana, or taking LSD or other drugs?

Why did the great turn-on with drugs come along now?

What benefits do drug users say they find? What harms may various drugs cause?

Just what are all these drugs, new and old?

What should parents do if teen-agers or college students become dependent on drugs?

What is the argument all about over legalization of marijuana, or reducing the penalties for possessing it?

There are of course no simple, pat answers to these and other questions.

But knowledgeable authorities in medicine, psychiatry, education, drug research, and law enforcement do offer numerous guidelines, and advice on specific things you can do.

These are spelled out in detail in later stories in this series.

For a majority of young people, observers remark, the encounter with mind-affecting drugs appears as a flirtation, a one time or once-in-a-while event, with users sure they can take it or leave it.

But some authorities say such experimentation can amount to drug roulette — that some young people particularly susceptible to various drugs, can become dependent, and get hurt, badly hurt, from what they intended as a rather innocent adventure.

The "drug scene" is part of a larger one. For the truth is that American society is heavily a pill society. Its people for years have been swallowing billions of pills and capsules, including tranquilizers.

American society tolerates alcohol and nicotine, both of which technically are drugs, and millions of people abuse both of them. It has long had a corps of addicts hooked on heroin or opium, but fewer now than 30 or 40 years ago.

Many among a huge variety of drugs are taken legitimately, prescribed for medical benefits. But there is also a great black market among some potent drugs, and illegal manufacture or importation.

Each year, says the Food and Drug Administration, billions of sedative and pep pills are diverted to illegal use and ultimate misuse. That means enough pills or tablets per person per year to "keep everyone in the United States awake and jumping for a week, and enough barbiturates to keep them in a stupor for a week."

No one knows what the overuse of potent drugs of many kinds is doing to that priceless possession, the human brain, how much it is constituting a brain drain of intelligence and skills.

The newer element in the nation's drug problem is the rather sudden spread of drugs that induce fantasies or hallucinations, or that "expand the mind."

This drug problem is here. It is now. It is big. It is apparently growing bigger.

And it has set loose a storm of emotion that confuses the issues, and that blocks effective answers.

Part of the problem is "a tyranny of opinion, attitude and belief in the absence of knowledge," says Dr. Helen H. Nowlis, University of Rochester psychologist and director of the drug education project of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators.

The real extent of drug use among young people is not known, although estimates are given in the next article.

Many parents are baffled or alarmed because the drug scene is something totally outside any of their own personal experience. Many cannot help wondering whether their children will remain immune to the appeal of present drugs, or to a raft of new drugs which experts predict will inevitably come along.

Many parents are far more alarmed, so experts say, than they really need be.

But practically all agree that parents are not likely to get very far unless they know the real facts about different drugs. Only with knowledge can they give sound counsel.

Youngsters and students generally know a good deal more than parents about mind-influencing drugs. But they may also tend to believe what they choose on a controversial subject. And they have tended to learn about drugs from their own companions — not all of them well or fully informed.

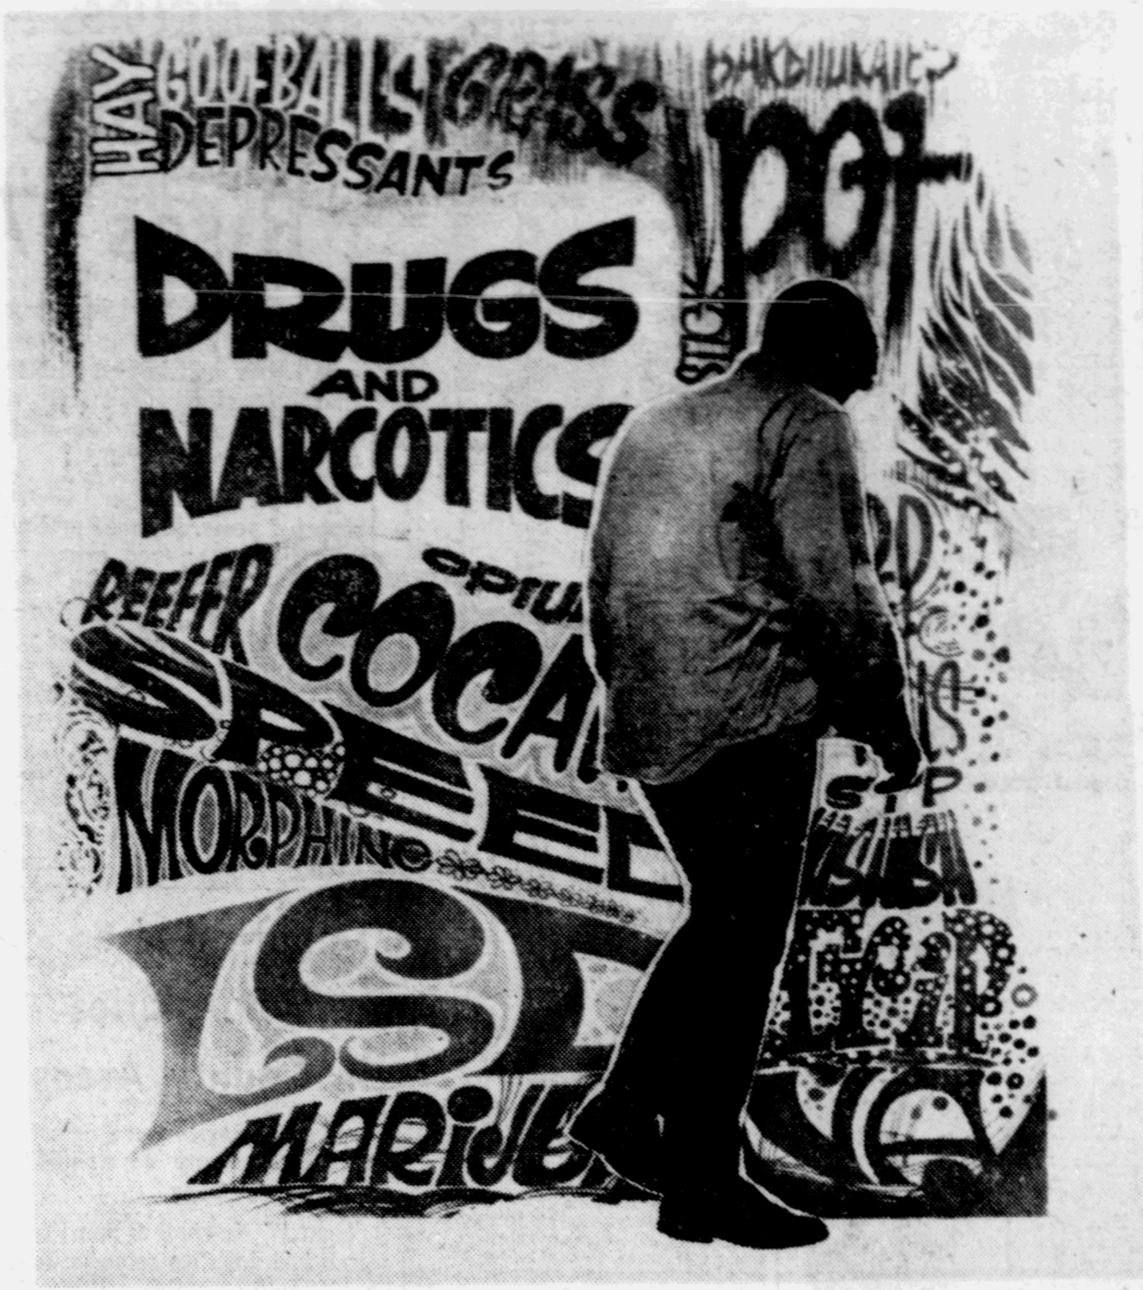
Parents are wrong, for example, if they argue that marijuana is a "narcotic" or that it is physically addictive. The reasons why it is not, and why parents could honestly have been misled into thinking it is, are explained later.

The point that authorities make here is that parents get into trouble if they DO insist marijuana is a narcotic, or if they lump all drugs together as being equally bad.

"Once the youngster can prove the parent is wrong about a big point, he very likely takes the position — 'Now I can't believe anything you say at all'," says one psychiatrist.

"Any drug education which is not scrupulously honest will fail with the kids," a psychologist adds. "Once you exaggerate, you lose them."

(NEXT: Why the drug explosion is occurring now — and how extensive it is.)



Drug Case Penalities Are Varied

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Penalties for taking, selling and producing drugs in California range from probation to life imprisonment—depending on the type of drug and whether the person is a repeated offender.

Several bills are before the Legislature this year aimed at stiffening penalties for possession and sale of narcotics such as heroin, coedine and morphine and all restricted dangerous drugs including LSD, speed and tranquilizers.

The Legislature eased the penalty for possession of marijuana by a first offender last year, giving the judge the option of making the crime a misdemeanor or a felony rather than a straight felony.

Under present law, a person convicted of marijuana possession for the first time can either be sent to state prison for one to ten years as a felony offender or to county jail for up to one year on a misdemeanor.

Persons convicted of possessing restricted dangerous drugs face the same penalties. However, possession of all other narcotics except peyote is a felony punishable by two to ten years in state prison.

Second and third offenders face much stiffer sentences in all cases. A person with two prior convictions for narcotics possession must spend a minimum 15 years in state prison with a possible maximum term of life imprisonment.

Sentences for the sale of marijuana and narcotics are much stiffer than those for possession. The penalty for selling restricted dangerous drugs is not as stiff, though a measure is now before the legislature to make the sentence the same as the term for selling marijuana.

First offenders convicted of selling marijuana or narcotics face five years to life imprisonment—with a minimum three-year term before parole. A first offense for selling restricted dangerous drugs, however, can be either a misdemeanor with up to one year in county jail or a felony with one to five years in state prison.

Cyclist Reported In Fair Condition

Paul Brooks Wolfe, 16, of 65 Santa Maria Drive, Novato, was reported in fair condition with a head injury in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital today after being knocked unconscious when his motorcycle hit a fire hydrant Friday night.

Novato police said the accident occurred in the 100 block of Grande Vista.

Lip, Ankle Hurt In Chain Accident

Rita J. Stoermer, 68, of 379 Sunset Way, Tamalpais Valley, suffered a cut lip and scraped right ankle in a three-car chain collision on Highway 191 in the southbound Waldo Grade Tunnel at 10:40 a.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported yesterday.

Mrs. Stoermer was to be treated by a private physician, officers said. The accident occurred when traffic stopped in the tunnel, and Mrs. Stoermer's car struck a stopped car driven by Marjorie L. Ference, 40, of 5038 Bodega Avenue, Petaluma, knocking it into a stopped car driven by Rita L. Beacock, 26, of 645 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, officers reported.

Suspect Booked For Grand Theft

An eight-year employee of Goodman Buildings Supply Co. in Mill Valley was arrested Saturday after he allegedly stole $1,500 from the store and spent most of it gambling in Las Vegas, Mill Valley police reported.

Wayne Dahl, 39, of 41 Granada Drive, Corte Madera, was held in Marin County Jail on suspicion of grand theft, pending $3,125 bail. He was scheduled to appear today in Marin Municipal Court for arraignment.

Police said Dahl took the money when the store at 775 Redwood Highway closed Tuesday evening. He was arrested at his home Saturday after he had returned from a three-day trip to Las Vegas.

About $480 of the $1,500 was recovered at Dahl's home Saturday, police said.

Woman Reports 'Investigator'

A Corte Madera woman reported to police yesterday that a man, who identified himself as "an insurance representative of many companies," investigated her home March 5, questioning her about her valuables.

The woman reported this to police after reading Larkspur police chief Howard Clark's warning in Saturday's Independent-Journal. The warning was that a man, posing as an insurance investigator, is believed to be checking at houses for valuables such as furs, jewelry and paintings, then returning at night to perform a burglary.

The Corte Madera insurance representative's description fitted that of Chief Clark's in that the man also drove a robin's egg blue Chevrolet.

Impala Custom Coupe equipped for trailering.

If Chevrolet can't haul it, maybe you'd better leave it.

Whoever said you can't take it with you just hasn't tried taking it with a Chevrolet.

The same things that make Chevy first choice for ordinary driving come on even stronger when you take on something out of the ordinary. Like toting a trailer, a boat or all your camping gear.

Under Chevrolet's hood you'll find the biggest standard V8 in its field—327 cubic inches of it. Or, you can order all the way up to our 390-hp 427-cubic-inch V8. And if that won't haul it, see our truck line.

We have the right connections for your trailering too. Like body/frame trailer hitches and trailer wiring harnesses.

You can also order heavy-duty suspension and Superlift shocks to make sure you stay on the level when you load up your car. Or heavy-duty wheels for heavy-duty hauling. Or anything else you may need when you want to leave town—from luggage racks to tissue dispensers.

So drop down to your Chevrolet dealer's and get a load off your mind.

And put it in a Chevrolet.

Railwaymen, Probation Officers Set To Strike

SAN FRANCISCO kUPI)—City officials today faced threatened strikes by municipal railwaymen and by adult probation officers.

The Board of Supervisors was expected to amend city codes when it met today to permit an extra salary boost for railway supervisors. The supervisors said they would go on strike at midnight if the city did not meet their demand for the pay boost, claiming that without it they would be receiving less money than some of the men they supervise.

A tentative settlement was worked out Friday by officials of the Transport Workers Union, representatives of the mayor's office and George Grubb, civil service general manager.

Chief Probation Officer John Kavanaugh meanwhile was reported considering the suspsnesions of 28 adult probation officers from a 38-man bureau because they refused to accept more than 125 cases a month.

The probation officers, who belong to the Union of City and County Employees, said they would go on strike if suspended. A spokesman said they did not want more money but "just a chance to do a fair and adequate job of suervising persons on probation or of making pre-sentence investigations."

The officers claimed their present caseloads were three to four times that of surrounding counties.

1968 FIGURES

Serious Crime Rises 17 Pct.

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Serious crime in the United States rose 17 per cent in 1968 with the sharpest rises registered in large cities and suburban areas, according to the FBI.

Director J. Edgar Hoover reported yesterday that preliminary figures showed crimes of violence were up 19 per cent, including a 29 per cent rise in robberies, 14 per cent in murders and forcible rapes and 12 per cent in aggravated assault.

The overall increase compared to a 16 per cent rise in 1967.

Hoover said crime increased in all parts of the nation last year. The North-Central states showed up 13 per cent, the Southern states 16 per cent, Western states 18 per cent and the densely populated Northeast, 21 per cent.

At the same time the FBI statistics were announced, the city government of the nation's capital proposed spending an additional $11.5 million to bolster its war on crime. Congress would have to approve the funds.

As for the FBI figures, they were derived from reports by 4,904 police agencies representing a population of 149,197,000. Final crime figures and a detailed analysis will be available in the Uniform Crime Reports scheduled to be released in the summer, the FBI said.

Arrests of adults rose 3 per cent while arrests of juveniles continued to climb with an 11 per cent increase, Hoover said.

Serious assaults in which a gun was used rose 24 per cent and nearly one out of every four aggravated assaults was committed with a gun, he said.

Deputies List Five Burglaries In County Areas

Five burglaries were reported to Marin County sheriff's deputies Saturday.

Scott W. Newhall of San Francisco told deputies someone took a hi fidelity amplifier from his summer home on Wharf Road in Bolinas between 5 p.m. March 3 and 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Burglars took a camera, guitar and guitar case, valued at $525, from the home of Elaine M. Martin, 141 Reed Boulevard, Strawberry, between 7:30 a.m. and 10:40 p.m. Wednesday.

A tape recorder, stereo equipment and cigarette case, valued at $630, and $3 in pennies were taken from the home of Thomas F. Robuck, 570 Panoramic Avenue, Mount Tamalpais, between 6:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Thursday.

Bruce B. Jones of 441 Live Oak Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, said someone took a portable television and clock radio, valued at $207, from his home between 6:15 and 10:35 p.m. Thursday.

Burglars took a record player, tape recorder and two microphones, valued at $440, from the home of Virginia L. Brorsen, 435 Laverne Avenue, Mill Valley, at approximately 3 p.m. Wednesday.

U.S. Smashes International Dope Ring

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal agents have smashed an international narcotics smuggling ring and made one of the largest seizures of illegal drugs in history, a Customs Bureau spokesman announced today.

Agents arrested four persons, two of them French citizens, in New York yesterday and seized 62 pounds of heroin — concealed in a shipment of canned fish products.

The four were arraigned before a U.S. commissioner and given a preliminary hearing today under the direction of U.S. Atty. Robert Morgenthau in the Southern district of New York, a customs spokesman said.

"The seizure and arrests eliminate a major smuggling syndicate, culminating a lengthy investigation involving narcotics smuggling activities of various European and South American couriers," some of them previously arrested in other cases, the spokesman said.

Arrested were:

Edward Louis Rimbaud, 48, a French citizen, who arrived at John F. Kennedy Airport, New York, March 8.

Mayo Mastromardi, 48, of Whitestone, N.Y.

Antonio Flores, 45, believed to be a Puerto Rican, and a New York City resident (no home address).

Christian Serge Hysohian, 24, of Paris, France.

Customs authorities said Hysohian is an importer of the Panamanian Food and Chemist Co. of Whitestone, N.Y. Mastromardi is landlord of the Whitestone premises, the bureau said.

The spokesman said the arrests followed the finding by customs agents in New York that a large amount of heroin was contained in a shipment of canned fish products aboard a ship, the S.S. Ragunda and consigned to Hysohian.

The vessel arrived from Spain Feb. 20 but there was a delay in unloading the shipment because of the longshoremen's strike.

A total of 700 cases of alleged canned fish composed the shipment.

TRIBINAL ACTION

Eavesdropping Guidelines Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court spelled out a set of new guidelines today in the running controversy over the government's use of evidence obtained by eavesdropping.

In a set of complex rulings, the court held:

The government may use evidence even if obtained by unlawful eavesdropping on others if the defendant was not a participant in the overheard conversation and if the bugging did not take place at his home, office of similar personal premises.

On the other hand, in cases where he was a party to the conversation or his premises "bugged" the defendant may demand under proper safeguards that the wiretap evidence be turned over to his attorney even in cases involving national security.

An adversary court procedure must then be held to determine the relevance of the eavesdrop information to his indictment and if the wiretap evidence is shown as being relevant, the defendant may have it suppressed. The Justice Department wanted the trial judge alone to rule on the admissibility of wiretap evidence.

Solicitor Gen. Edwin N. Griswold urged private inspection by the trial judge to protect innocent third parties, and in national security cases to protect the government's intelligence activities.

He said if the government were obliged to turn over all monitored conversations to defendants, it would have to stop prosecuting most spy cases. He said the practice would mean turning important information over to unfriendly governments.

The court took these other actions:

Upheld by a 7-1 vote an antitrust decision against two Tucson, Ariz., newspapers which combined their advertising and circulation departments. For the court majority, Justice William O. Douglas held that the Tucson Daily Citizen and the Arizona Daily Star had failed to show that their combined operation was protected by the "failing company doctrine." The decision, dissented to by Justice Potter Stewart, could have an important bearing on similar arrangements in 22 other cities.

Reversed the Birmingham conviction of Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth who with the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was convicted of parading without a permit in a 1963 Easter civil rights demonstration.

Threw out the disorderly conduct conviction of Negro enntertainer Dick Gregory stemming from a protest march around the home of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley in 1965.

Justice Byron R. White wrote the opinion in the eavesdropping cases.

Rejected a claim that students may not be suspended by a state-supported college without "fair and impartial hearings" at which their attorneys may be present.

Acting without comment, the court denied a hearing to several students indefinitely suspended by Bluefield (W. Va.) State College after a 1967 demonstration.

The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) appealed to the high court on their behalf after the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled on Sept. 3, 1968, that the administrative appeals afforded the students "satisfied the requirements of due process of law."

Justice Abe Fortas, concurring in the court's order, said "an adequate hearing was afforded (the students) on the issue of suspension."

The incidents which provoked the suspensions took place at Mitchell Field Stadium on Oct. 14, 1967, during a football game.

Two Million In State's Union

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Union membership in California has reached two million, state figures showed yesterday, but the increase in unionized workers lags behind the increase in nonunion workers.

The state's 2,029,800 union members made up only 30 per cent of the state's total workers.

The number of union members grew up by 39,000 in 1968 —a 2 per cent increase and the smallest growth rate since 1963—while the total number of workers increased by 4.4 per cent.

The largest gain of new union members, 12,600, was in government work.

Motions In Mutiny Case Being Heard

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Arguments started today on motions in the mutiny court-martial of six soldiers under way at the Sixth Army Presidio.

The out-of-court proceedings were to run through tomorrow, and the trial before a jury is scheduled to begin Wednesday morning.

Among the motions being heard by Col. John Lee, the law officer, is a defense move for a change of venue on the grounds that the defendants can't get a fair trial in San Francisco.

The six defendants are among 27 soldiers who staged a sitdown at the Presidio stockade last Oct. 14 in asserted protest of the fatal shooting of another prisoner.

Last Friday, a tentative panel of nine court members, or jurors, finally was chosen after extensive defense examination. However, each of the defendants has a peremptory challenge. some of these are expected to be made Wednesday.

Udall Calls Drilling Plan A 'Bay Of Pigs'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, said today his decision to permit oil drilling off the Santa Barbara coast "was a sort of conservation Bay of Pigs."

But Udall said if the underwater oil well blowout which coated the Santa Barbara beaches with black crude oil results in new water pollution safety legislation "it may have been a very good thing for the country."

Udall said all of the information he received from his subordinates indicated oil drilling would be safe in the Santa Barbara Channel.

He compared the advice he received to that which the late President Kennedy received prior to the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba.

"We did underestimate the risks," Udall told a Senate Pollution subcommittee.

"The Bureau of the Budget was in the picture," he said. "They were hungry for the revenues."

In the future, Udall said, "we should always err on the side of protection where a mistake could do great damage to the other resources."

Udall said the West Coast was "an oil deficiency area" at the time the Santa Barbara drilling was authorized.

He said recent oil discoveries in Alaska have corrected the oil deficiency and if they had been made earlier might have headed off granting of the Santa Barbara leases.

Ban Continues On Shellfish

Environmental health officials today warned Marin residents that a ban against taking shellfish from Richardson Bay is still in effect and will continue until otherwise announced.

The ban was imposed on Feb. 27 by Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht who said tests on clams and other edible shellfish have indicated "gross sewage contamination" from raw sewage entering the bay.

Health officials said such diseases as typhoid, infectious hepatitis and salmonella can be caused by eating the contaminated shellfish.

The contamination, detected in tests conducted by the state Department of Public Health, was blamed on raw sewage being discharged into the bay.

Nude Walker In Hospital

A persistent young man, still claiming he is Jesus Christ, was found yesterday noon walking nude along the middle of Highway 17 near San Quentin Prison, the California Highway Patrol said.

Patrick Michael Hyde, 23, of 10 Lakeside Drive, Corte Madera, was taken to Napa State Hospital for psychiatric examination .The patrol said he was walking along a white-striped lane divider with startled eastbound drivers dodging him on each side.

Stopped by a patrolman, he reportedly gave his name as Jesus Christ — just as he did when arrested Thursday for hitchhiking on the freeway. The patrol obtained his identity from Marin County Jail, from which he was released Friday after a medical examination.

Thursday, Hyde said his parents were Joseph and Mary and claimed he had already saved the world when he appeared in Marin Municipal Court.

Driver Booked In Drug Probe

George Wayne Barr, 25, of 19 Chenery Street, San Francisco, was arrested on suspicion of possession of marijuana early yesterday after California Highway Patrol officers checked his car parked along southbound Highway 101, two miles north of Novato.

Officers said Barr was lying on the front seat of the car and had been drinking beer. They discovered four hand-rolled cigarettes which had the odor of marijuana, they said.

Barr was booked at Marin County jail on suspicion of being drunk in a public place and possessing marijuana and placed under $350 bail.

Apartment Developers Hit With Foreclosure

A $2.3 million foreclosure suit has been filed in Marin Superior Court against the Shelter Bay Co., developers of apartments on Richardson Bay, by Manufacturers Life Insurance Co., holders of a loan on the property.

The insurance company claims that the Shelter Bay Co. is $154,000 behind in payments on a loan and asks that the entire loan and interest amounting to $2,373,739, be paid them.

The loan was made to Alcan-Marin Ltd., a predecessor firm to Shelter Bay, in 1963, the suit alleges, but was later assumed by the present company.

About $25,000 a month is being received by the company in rental payments, the suit says, and none of this amount is being applied to the loan.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Superior Court Friday signed an order appointing Lloyd D. Hanford receiver of the property and set March 17 for a hearing asking Shelter Bay to show cause why he should not remain as receiver.

Named by the suit as partners in Shelter Bay Co. were Christopher Ribers Jr., C. Louis Allen, Bartel W. Antell, Harry M. Stevenson, Stoddard H. Knowles and Peter Knowles and five John Does.

Franklin Supply Corp. and Title Insurance and Trust Co. and five more John Does were also named as defendants.

Four Honored For Service To Rohnert Park

The Rohnert Park Chamber of Commerce honored four persons for outstanding community service at its annual banquet Saturday night at Chesney's Carriage House.

Named "men of the year" were Bradley W. Koch, city public safety director, and Dr. Donald L. Davis, local dentist, who once served as chairman of the city's recreation commission. Koch resigned last week to take a position in Sacramento.

Selected as "women of the year" were Mrs. Marguerite Hahn, 8049 Old Redwood Highway, Cotati, and Mrs. Lennie Millard, 439 Ava Avenue. Mrs. Hahn is the first Cotati resident to have been honored by Rohnert Park.

Lt. Col. William F. Vernau, post commander of the Two Rock Ranch Army Station, Petaluma, was the guest speaker.

Session For Teens

A meeting for boys ages 12 to 18 years will be held at 8 p.m. Friday to discuss forming a junior branch of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows at the Odd Fellows Lodge, 1522, Fifth Avenue. Additional information is available from Edward Willey, 11 Lauren Avenue, Novato, who will be advisor to the group.

$118,014 Grant For Training

San Rafael-based Service Technicians, Inc., will get $118,014 from the Department of Labor to train 60 unemployed as janitors, the department has announced.

Following 22 weeks of on-the-job training, the workers will start regular jobs in San Francisco, Oakland, Seattle and Honolulu.

The training is part of Job Opportunities in the Business Sector, a joint effort by business and the U.S. government in which private firms provide jobs and training.

$1.59 Stolen

Ed Majesky reported to San Anselmo police yesterday that someone broke a window in his store, San Anselmo Floor Covering, at 112 Pine Street, entered and stole $1.59 from a counter. Entry was made by breaking glass next to the door handle, then reaching in and releasing the lock, police said.

Two Youths Booked In Sidewalk Brawl

Two Pacifica men were booked on a citizen's arrest Saturday after they reportedly attacked a Los Angeles man and his pregnant wife in a sidewalk brawl, Sausalito police reported.

David C. Achziger, 18, and William D. Dailey Jr., 24, each posted $315 bail to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Police said the two, who were with a third youth, accosted Charles Greene, 21, of Los Angeles, and his wife at 1:35 a.m. at Princess Street and Bridgeway. They reportedly pushed Greene through a store window and pushed his wife into the street. When Greene helped his wife out of the street, Achziger reportedly hit him in the face.

Police arrived a moment later and Greene made a citizen's arrest of the two and their companion, Gary D. Hanshew, 20, also of Pacifica. Hanshew, who reportedly tried to keep the other two from the attack, was released without charge.

Sirhan Described As Paranoid Personality

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A psychologist described the killer of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy today as a paranoid personality—"an individual who says I'm okay; everyone else isn't."

Martin M. Schoor, a clinical psychologist from San Diego, described Sirhan B. Sirhan, as "sort of like a roadrunner, unable to relax, constantly pushing."

Sirhan is on trial for first degree murder in the assassination of Kennedy.

Psychological tests conducted Nov. 25 and 26 in Sirhan's 13th-floor cell were "kind of a mental X-ray," Schoor said.

"This man responded by lying in only two responses," Schoor said. "This is actually lower than the average individual would have."

Hare, 34, was one of several prominent Negroes attending a two-day conference on black self-determination sponsored by the Congress of Racial Equality.

Field Inspection Tests A Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — Field tests in England have convinced the U.S. Disarmament Agency that small international inspection teams could safeguard a future arms control pact "without compromising the national security of the country under inspection."

During Exercise First Look small inspection teams monitored the activities of about 30,000 British troops in a 2,000 square miles area west of London last year.

It was a joint U.S.-British test, with the $3.4 million cost shared by the two nations.

The agency reported yesterday the tests shed new light on inspection techniques.

Officials said the experiment showed that information provided by a small inspection organization, together with data from other sources, would "give reasonable assurance that an agreement on levels of forces was being observed."

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, March 10, the 69th day of 1969 with 296 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1862 the first paper money was issued by the United States government in denominations ranging from $5 to $1,000.

In 1945 B-229 bombers began incendiary raids on Japan.

In 1949 Mildred Gillars, known as Axis Sally, was sentenced to 30 years in prison on charges of treason for broadcasting for Nazi Germany.

In 1964 Queen Elizabeth gave birth to a son, third in line for the British throne.

A thought for the day: Thomas Hardy said, "Patience is that blending of moral courage with physical timidity."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Avoid SOS Redouble At All Costs With Doubtful Partner

One of the most dangerous things you can do at the bridge table (aside from criticizing a partner who outweighs you) is to redouble when you really want your partner to rescue you in another suit. If your partner thinks you mean the redouble in its natural sense, you may lose the family jewels on a single hand.

NORTH UNHAPPY

In today's hand North is unhappy at two clubs doubled and redoubles in the hope that South will read the situation correctly. North is reluctant to choose his own rescue for fear of playing the hand at two diamonds if South has two or three diamonds but five or more hearts.

If South passed the redouble, North might well take a 1,600-point ride. This is considered a poor result even if North and South are playing for peanuts.

North would redouble in a natural way only if he could make two clubs and could also punish the opponents if they tried to rescue themselves. But if North had so powerful a hand he would have doubled one spade instead of bidding two clubs. South should therefore read the redouble as an unnatural call, and he bids his best suit, which fortunately happens to be a five-carder.

POOR DOUBLE

West should pass two diamonds, and eventually his side would play the hand at hearts. The unwise double gives South a juicy part score.

East wins the king of clubs and returns a diamond to the ace. Declarer unblocks by playing the jack of diamonds and wins the trump continuation with the queen. Declarer next leads the king of hearts to the ace. East returns a spade, on which South plays low.

DUMMY RUFFS

West takes the jack of spades and leads another trump. South wins with the ten and leads the queen of spades. West covers, and dummy ruffs.

Now South can discard a spade on the third heart, ruff a club and give up one spade. He makes the last trump and his last spade, fulfilling his doubled contract.

If you're lucky, you'll get partners like South when you use the SOS redouble. Don't say you weren't warned if you're left in the redouble and lose a peanut factory.

Finch Seeks Extension Of School Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration asked Congress today for a two-year extension of a school program designed to help the educationally disadvantaged.

In taking this position, HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch told the House Education and Labor Committee that "a careful review" of this and other programs inherited from the Johnson administration is under way.

Finch, in his initial appearance before the committee, said it is for this reason he suggested a two-year extension rather than five years as proposed in a bill introduced by Chairman Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky.

The program, which provides more than $1 billion to help schools with special projects for educationally disadvantaged, expires June 30, 1970.

This is the committee's final day of hearings before it starts drafting a bill tomorrow which house leaders hope to have passed before start of the Congressional Easter recess April 3.

Perkins said committee hearings show the real problem is under-funding, that the spending level should be increased from about $1.125 billion to $2.2 billion this year for this one activity alone.

Finch told the committee a two-year extension would provide continuity to local school officials, assuring them that programs begun under the act will not be suddenly terminated.

"And such an extension would allow for an orderly phase-in of any new or revised programs which may be suggested by the results of our various studies," Finch said. "When I return to propose more substantive changes or additions to current programs for elementary and secondary education, I would also hope to support a longer extension of this legislation."

San Geronimo Issues Bids To Candidates

Board members of the San Geronimo Valley Association have set two candidates' nights for prospective members of the Marin Junior College District board and the Lagunitas School District board, according to association director Mrs. Clarise Stevens.

The college candidates will be heard March 26 and the school board candidates will be heard March 27. Both meetings will be at 8 p.m. at Lagunitas School.

In other business at the association meeting Thursday, the directors voted to put pressure on the board of supervisors to hire an extra deputy for the valley. Residents feel that population growth in the area and an influx of hippies has created a need for additional help, Mrs. Stevens said.

It was reported at the meeting that three public meetings on the unification of school zones in the valley required to place the issue on the ballot have been scheduled: for March 19 at Sir Francis Drake High School, March 20 at Tamalpais High and March 25 at Redwood High.

All hearings will be at 8 p.m. and are sponsored by the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

For the association's March 17 meeting, the board set a discussion of pollution control. Areas to be discussed include air pollution by trash burning and water pollution by hippies bathing in the area's drinking water supply, Kent Lake, Mrs. Stevens said.

Teen-Ager To Plead On Burglary Count

Michael Vincent St. Martin, 18, of San Rafael, was arraigned Friday in Marin Municipal Court, accused of the Feb. 19 burglary of a San Rafael residence.

His case was continued until tomorrow for entry of plea.

Navy Court Studies Sealab Breathing Rig

SAN DIEGO (AP) — CPO Paul A. Wells told a Navy board of investigation that he removed an empty carbon dioxide cannister from a breathing rig being prepared at the Sealab site Feb. 14.

The board is probing the death of Sealab aquanaut Berry Cannon, 33, who died Feb. 17 while at a depth of 610 feet off San Clemente Island. A coroner's report listed the cause of death as carbon dioxide poisoning.

The Navy says that one of the breathing rigs taken down by the four divers that day lacked the chemicals used to remove carbon dioxide but it has not been established if Cannon wore that rig.

Testimony yesterday indicated that a cannister lacking the chemicals had been placed in a diving rig to determine if all parts fitted properly.

Wells, who was in charge of the diving equipment testified that he later removed the cannister.

"I don't like to see an empty cannister in a rig," Wells said.

The board called in 13 men yesterday in an attempt to determine what happened Feb. 14 while preparations were being made for the dive in which Cannon died.

Lt. Alan Goldberg, Wells' attorney, has been attempting to show that something other than the lack of the cannister may have killed the aquanaut.

"We are prepared to show other causes for Cannon's death," he said.

Four main groups of native peoples — southeast coastal Indians, Athabascan Indians, Eskimos and Aleuts — are among Alaska's relatively small population.

Feed Is Slated To Plight Of Mustangs

MINDEN, Nev. (UPI) — Horselovers will throw a buffalo feed next week to save the lives of 50 mustangs who fled from poachers and runners only to be trapped by heavy snows along a ridge on the 9,000-foot Pine Nut Mountains east of Lake Tahoe.

Max Jones, justice of the peace in Douglas County, now is also president of the newly formed Pine Nut Mustang Association, a group started two weeks ago to rescue the animals.

The mustangs, believed direct descendants of horses brought by Spanish explorers in the 16th Century, are huddled along the 30-mile ridge in groups of four and five and separated by snow drifts ranging in depth from 20-50 feet.

A dozen bales of hay are dropped to the horses every three days.

Marin City Youth Shot In Chest

A Marin City Youth was reported in poor condition in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital today from wounds suffered when he was shot in the left chest Saturday afternoon while standing in a gasoline service station at 100 Donahue Street in Marin City.

Wounded was Stanley Curry, 17, of 149 Drake Avenue, who underwent surgery at Marin General Hospital after a 22 caliber bullet lodged in his right abdomen.

Curry was standing in a doorway between the lubrication room and office when he was shot shortly after 4 p.m., sheriff's deputies reported.

Station attendant, Willie Edward Grayson, 22, of 89 Cole Drive, who was carrying the semi-automatic pistol, told deputies it discharged accidentally. Curry also told deputies it was an accident.

Grayson said he was moving the gun from his pocket to a desk drawer in the office. Then Curry said something caused him to look up to answer and the gun accidentally fired, he said.

Five Cities Selected In Transit Program

PITTSBURGH (AP) — John A. Volpe, secretary of transportation, said today five big cities have been selected by the U.S. Department of Transportation to participate in a program to improve center city transportation systems.

He said the cities of Atlanta, Dallas, Denver, Seattle and Pittsburgh would participate in the $1,460,959 program.

Volpe announced the five-city project in a speech at the fourth International Conference on Urban Transportation.

"The economic, social and physical decline of the center city area in the past two decades has probably resulted from inadequate transportation," Volpe said.

"Yet," he noted "during the same time rapidly advancing scientific and technical knowledge offered the potential for greatly improving existing transportation facilities and for creating entirely new systems for downtown mobility of people and goods."

"It is the president's determination as it is mine," he said, "to confront the crisis of the cities boldly, to provide leadership which dares to rock the boat; leadership which acts upon the premise that transportation is totally related to welfare, education, recreation and all other aspects of urban life."

In announcing the center cities transportation program, Volpe said, "It will be a policy of the Department of Transportation during this administration that any mode of transportation that commandeers or violates large sections of the landscape is going to be subject to a brutal analysis. Land is too precious a resource to be squandered."

COMFORT AFTER ORDEAL — Miner William (Buck) Jones is comforted by his wife, Ethel, after his dramatic rescue last night from a mine near Lark, Utah. He had been entombed eight days. (AP Wirephoto)

Detroit Study Reveals Mood On Integration

DETROIT (UPI)—Racial attitudes in post-riot Detroit find the majority of whites hesitant about full-scale integration while most blacks are eager to integrate, an in-depth social and psychological study shows.

Only 26 per cent of the whites, compard with 89 per cent of the blacks ,favored full integration, the study indicated.

Directed by Dr. Elliott Luby associate director of the LaFayette Clinic in Detroit, the study found the greatest danger for racial explosion comes from a small minority of extremists on both sides.

'FRIGHTENED MEN'

"These are intensely angry and profoundly frightened men, both black and white, who will attempt to move us toward more violence and a paranoid restructuring of all race relations in the city," the study said.

Some 16 per cent of the whites favored segregation as opposed to 2 per cent of the blacks, the study said.

Of the white segregationists, 67 per cent didn't finish high school while only 3 per cent of them had any college training. At the averages age of 55, they were 14 years older than the more-liberal white average age 41.

The study said 11 times as many white integrationists had gone to college as segregationists. Seventy per cent of the liberals had finished high school.

The white segregationist foresaw no change for better or worse in their lives, the study said, and four-fifths of them felt politically powerless. Half of the integrationists felt politically powerless but 58 per cent believed they could better their lives.

About two-thirds of the white segregationists trusted neither the federal and city governments nor other people, the study said.

'BLACK POWER'

"If these separatists feel confident enough, to act according to their view, they may be supported by the 74 per cent of the whites who oppose full integration, but they will meet opposition from the 89 per cent of the blacks who oppose separation," the report said.

The black separatists demonstrated many of the same attitudes as their white counterparts, it said.

However, the slogan "black power" was irrevelant to 22 per cent of the blacks interviewed although most blacks interpreted it as a fair shake and a unified race.

The study, conducted by a dozen social scientists after the Detroit riot of 1967, worst in modern U. S. history, concluded that "the great mass of people, if sufficiently terrified, can be driven by the enormous energy of frenzy.

"There is a remote danger in this city and in this country. But we must always be alert to it."

Some 850 Detroiters, black and white, were interviewed in the survey.

POURS OUT HEART

Entombed Miner Lifted To Safety

LARK, Utah (UPI)—The grizzled miner turned to his wife in the ambulance. Tears streamed down his grimy, whiskered cheeks.

"I'd never got out if the Lord hadn't had his arms around me," he sobbed.

William V. (Buck) Jones, 60, all but given up for dead last week when an avalanche entombed him five miles deep in a lead-zinc mine, was rescued last night. The wisecracking quips that had kept high his spirit and that of his rescuers disappeared in a flood of tears and relief in the ambulance to the hospital.

He turned to his wife Ethel, the mother of his 11 children, and poured out his heart.

His ordeal was over. Clean white sheets and a smooth shave—the little things—made Jones happy today.

"Oh, that looks good," he exclaimed when helped into a spotless hospital bed after his dramatic rescue by miners from the deep Lark ore mine.

Doctors were to decide today whether to release Jones.

Jones was entombed nearly five miles into the mine southwest of Salt Lake City March 1. A slide roared through the area in which he was working, filled a shaft leading to the main tunnel and gradually settled around him until he was cramped into a space the size of a packing crate.

Jones today had his first shave since the cave-in. When dust and grime were washed from his face and his heavy black whiskers removed, he told attendants "that looks very fine."

Hospital officials said the hard rock miner's condition was "just remarkable." They said he was in fairly good shape, with no apparent illness.

Jones' underground cell was a balmy 75 degrees, according to mine officials.

During his harrowing experience, air filtered through the loose rock and Jones, with more than 20 years of mining under his belt, settled into his cramped quarters to await rescue.

A frantic search was launched, but after three days hope faded. A muffled voice early Wednesday startled rescue crews.

"When are you guys going to get me out of here?" Jones asked.

Veteran miner Ken Squires straightened in surprise and stopped digging.

"We're gonna get you out, Buck," he shouted.

Getting to Jones through the treacherous slide area at the 1,300-foot level of the huge, catacombed mine was not easy. Enormous balanced precariously boulders threatened an even larger cave-in if the miners were not careful.

Jones went four days without food and water until engineers drilled a two-inch hole to him Thursday. After drinking greedily from the second tube of water, he cried out, "man, that tastes good."

Crews wrestled with the rescue around the clock and mine supt. Don O. Willie reported offers of help pouring in from "all over the country."

A prominent drilling company proposed a huge drill hole through which they could drag out the trapped man. Mine officials agreed to the plan.

However, Willie authorized a "backup" crew to continue using conventional hand methods to reach Jones.

Pact Is Near In Uniting Of Pakistan

KARACHI (AP) — President Mohammed Ayub Khan met opposition leaders today at Rawalpindi amid reports that the opposition has agreed on a more representative form of government for divided Pakistan.

Sources close to opposition leaders said they have decided Pakistan should return to a parliamentary government directly elected by the adult population, and also agreed to give 56 per cent majority representation to East Pakistan. The latter has the largest slice of the nation's 120 million population and valuable jute exports, and is separated from West Pakistan by Indian territory.

Both states would get more local control, with the federal government limited to defense, foreign affairs and currency, the sources said. But some disagreement was still reported among leaders of the six opposition parties banded in a coalition called the Democratic Action Committee.

Not included in the talks with Ayub were former Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, leader of the leftist People's Party, and 85-year-old Maulana Abdul Bhashani, leader of the pro-Peking wing of the National Awami party of East Pakistan. These two parties signed an agreement Sunday forming a leftist alliance independent of the DAC.

In Rawalpindi, 4,000 supporters of Ayub demonstrated yesterday, demanding that he continue in office. Ayub has announced he will not try for a fourth term in office next year because of the recent bloodshed and rioting resulting from opposition to his regime.

Trio Spends 5 Hours On Wing

HONOLULU (UPI) — Three men who spent five hours holding onto a wave-swept wing of their downed plane in the Pacific Ocean east of Hawaii said they never felt they were in grave danger.

"The Coast Guard was close by and an Air Force plane was constantly circling over us," said Larry Weintraub, of New York City.

Weintraub and two companions, Don Wharton of Santa Barbara, and Andrew Taylor of Los Angeles, are in seclusion in Honolulu resting from their ordeal.

The trio was forced to ditch their twin-engine DC3 some 250 miles east of Hawaii Island, the largest of the Hawaiian chain, after it developed engine trouble on a flight from Travis AFB, to Honolulu as dusk fell Friday.

For five hours, the men clung to a wing of their floating aircraft in the darkness until they were rescued by a small Navy tug. They were first transferred to the freighter Hawaiian Monarch and then to a Coast Guard cutter and taken to Hilo on Hawaii.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the plane went down because of oil line troubles in both engines. The spokesman said one of the engines conked out about midway and the men flew for four hours on one engine before finally going down.

Sgt. Sunshine Blames Troubles On Newscaster

Sergeant Sunshine, the former San Francisco policeman who won fame by smoking pot on the steps of the Hall of Justice last year, now faces a felony marijuana possession charge which his attorney has blamed on a "subterfuge" by Pat Michaels of Tiburon, conservative newscaster on KGO-TV and radio talk show personality.

Sunshine (also known as Richard Burgess) appeared in Contra Costa County Superior Court Thursday and pleaded not guilty to the possession count which stemmed from a Jan. 25 raid on his Walnut Creek home.

His attorney, Terence Hallinan, charged Michaels was a special deputy of the Marin County sheriff's office and had gained admission to the Burgess home "under the guise of an interview."

Michaels maintained he had gone to the home strictly as a reporter.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos confirmed that Michaels is a special deputy, for emergency and disaster assignments. Like other special deputies, Michaels volunteered for the job, said Mountanos.

He denied any knowledge of the Michaels-Sunshine case and noted special deputies are not allowed to use their credentials or act in any way as a deputy unless specifically authorized by him.

African Chiefs Eye 'Great Red Railroad'

NAIROBI, Kenya (London Express) — Two African commonwealth leaders, President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia and President Julius Nyerere of Tanzania, flew to a summit meeting last night which could result in a Communist Chinese army landing in Africa before the end of this year.

Their meeting will take place at Mbeya in Tanzania near Zambia's northern border, and on the agenda for the two leaders who embrace "African socialism" will be the proposed 1,000-mile rail link from Dar-Es-Salaam to Lusaka in Zambia.

The railroad — the "great Red railway" — is to be built with a $2,400,000,000 loan from Communist China, and Peking will provide the labor force as well.

It is the labor force that is causing grave concern in both the black north and white south of Africa, for there are reliable reports that the Chinese plan to send 150,000 workers to do the difficult job of laying the line across arid African bushland.

In Kenya and Uganda, as well as Rhodesia and South Africa, there is growing alarm that the railway "work force" won't go home at the end of its task.

In Nairobi, a diplomat said "There is no doubt that at least 80 per cent of the 'coolies' will be members of the regular Chinese Army."

At present, a large party of Chinese is surveying the railroad. Actual work, if Kaunda and Nyerere give the go-ahead, is likely to start before the end of the year.

Already, terrorists attacking Southern Africa are Communist-trained and armed. And now there is growing concern in Pretoria aand Salisbury that the railroad completed Chinese troops will take an active part in attacks on the white south.

The World Bank rejected the idea of the rail link as "uneconomic" and suggested a road instead, but Peking quickly stepped in with the offer of the interest-free loan and the vast labor force.

British Vessel Limps Into Port

NEW YORK (AP) — The British cargo vessel Montcalm, a hole smashed in her side just above the waterline by a truck which broke loose in the hold during stormy North Atlantic weather, proceeded today under its own power toward Halifax, N.S., the Coast Guard reported.

The 440-foot vessel began shipping water through a 12-foot hole yesterday while rolling in 20-to-30-foot seas.

Using its own pumps and two dropped by a Coast Guard plane, the ship was able to keep abreast of the flooding. A Coast Guard spokesman said seas had abated somewhat in the area, about 350 miles southeast of Halifax.

Contract For New Bridge Seen Tonight

The Coast Guard has approved the construction of a fixed bridge at Washington Street in Petaluma, with the city council expected to award construction contracts tonight.

Knowing the council must act on the contracts by March 20, Mayor Helen Putnam traveled to Washington, D.C., two weeks ago in an attempt to speed Coast Guard approval. In giving the signal to go ahead with construction, the Coast Guard agreed to halt navigation on the Petaluma River upriver from the bridge.

The council is expected to award the contract to the apparent low bidder, the Future Construction Co. of Dublin at $275,327. City engineer David Young had estimated the cost at $281,840 and said, "This figure is $7,000 under my estimate and I consider it a fine bid."

Construction costs include demolition of the old drawbridge, construction of a new five-lane bridge with pedestrian walkway and an improve entry intersection at Petaluma Boulevard North. The bridge will be 105 feet long and 89 feet wide. Three lanes of traffic will travel west and two lanes east.

Sidewalks with three extending balconies on each side will provide a place to stop and view the river. A special safety feature will be a five-foot brick divider. Pedestrians will be protected from traffic by an attractive steel barrier.

Texas has more than 200 species and varieties of trees.

Employment Increases Fifth Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's total employment rose substantially for the fifth straight month to 76.2 million in February and unemployment remained at a 15-year low of 3.3 per cent, the Labor Department said today.

"It occurred in almost all the industries," Asst. Commissioner Harold Goldstein of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said of the employment increase totaling 380,000 last month.

The total of Americans at work had risen 1.6 million in the last 5 months, twice the rate of growth in the first nine months of last year, Goldstein said.

The total employment figure of 76.2 million is an all-time high after adjustment for seasonal factors, he said.

The total of unemployed in February was 2.9 million. About one-fourth of them were seeking only part time jobs.

The jobless rate of 3.3 per cent of civilian labor force has remained unchanged for 3 straight months.

EARNINGS RISE

The bureau also reported that average hourly earnings for some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose one cent in February to $2.96.

"We should hit the three-dollar mark pretty soon," Goldstein said.

Average weekly earnings were up 37 cents to $111.00, an all-time high.

Goldstein noted that the average manufacturing work week has declined slightly for the fifth straight month to 40.5 hours, the lowest in nearly a year.

He said this could mean a possible slow-down in the economy, or just a tapering off in the rate of recent rapid growth.

GROWING FORCE

"It may not be a precursor of a decline in employment," he said.

Goldstein said that along with the big rise in nonagricultural employment totaling 1.6 million in five months, the labor force had grown almost the same amount in that period.

"That's a very substantial increase. It can't keep it up," he said.

The civilian labor force rose to 79.1 million in February.

The unemployment rate for men was 1.9 per cent in February, nearly a record low, and for married men 1.4 per cent, lowest on record.

The jobless rate for women was 3.5 per cent for the past 4 months, lowest in 15 years.

The long high jobless rate for teenagers remained at 11.7 per cent in February. It has been under 12 per cent only four other times in the last 11 years, the bureau said.

Speed Chase Leads To Arrest In Drug Probe

A 43-year-old Mill Valley man was arrested on suspicion of driving under the influence of narcotics early Saturday after a 100-mile-per-hour chase from Waldo Grade to Tamalpais Valley, the California Highway Patrol reported yesterday.

Officers said Harry Elmer Chapman of 32 Birch Street was halted at Miller Avenue and Almonte Boulevard after the chase along Highway 101 and Shoreline Highway at 3:25 a.m.

Officers said Chapman's car attracted their attention when it sped northbound through the Golden Gate Bridge toll lanes at 50 miles an hour.

They gave chase and when they put on the red light and siren, Chapman's car sped to more than 100 miles an hour.

Officers said they found a packet of white powdery substance in Chapman's car. He was booked on suspicion of driving under the influence of narcotics and possession of narcotics.

He was released under $500 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Stolen Property Suspects Nabbed

Two Bel Aire men were arrested by sheriff's deputies Saturday morning on suspicion of receiving stolen property, a car stolen from Chico, Butte County.

Booked at Marin County Jail under $1,875 bail each were William Owen, 28, also known as Robert Lee Henke, and Otho Lee Wood, 25, both of 83 Claire Way, Bel Aire, Tiburon Peninsula.

Bagley Criticizes Reagan For 'Bombing' Tax Report

I-J Special Report

SCRAMENTO — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, today criticized Gov. Ronald Reagan for rejecting the recommendations of the Govenor's Advisory Commission on Tax Reform.

"I just can't understand why the governor 'bombed' the distinguished members of his advisory commission, and the commission's report, before the ink was dry," Bagley declared in a press statement.

Bagley, as chairman of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, is expected to introduce legislation to carry out many of the commission's recommendations.

A principal recommendation, withholding of state income taxes, long has been advocated by Bagley in direct opposition to the governor's position against withholding.

"The State of California is facing a financial crisis in the financing of major construction projects," Bagley said, noting tha the state was unable to market $40 million in bonds last week. "This is the first time that I can remember when the state's bonds have been unsaleable," he said.

The "crisis," however, can be averted by withholding, which would raise $115 to $140 million a year in additional tax revenue, Bagley said. Withholding also would provide a one-year revenue hike of $300 million because the state would be collecting for two tax years at one time.

The governor's commission, headed by Controller Houston I. Flournoy, also recommended a statewide property tax and sales taxes on utilities and services.

Bulky and squat, the ponderous brown pelican waddles awkwardly, enormous beak down. Once in the sky, however, powerful, sweeping wingbeats transform the pelican into a picture of grace and dignity.

In this tire-squealing, torque-out world, is there a place for an automobile that can stop heroically?

Mercedes-Benz thinks so.

At a traffic light, a number of sleek, snarling domestic cars can blast ahead of the sedate Mercedes-Benz 250 pictured at right.

So be it, say Mercedes-Benz engineers. So be it, say Mercedes-Benz 250 owners.

A question of emphasis

It's not that the Mercedes-Benz engineers don't know how to build a potent motor car.

Their 6.3 Mercedes-Benz 300SEL, for example, recently appraised by Road and Track as "merely the greatest sedan in the world," is the fastest series production sedan ever made.

But that exuberant machine is intended for the autobahns, and other wide open spaces, where high speed driving is relatively safe. And it sells to a rather rarefied clientele at a rather rarefied $14,450*.

For their bread-and-butter models in the $4,500 to $10,000 range —cars for everyday people in everyday traffic—Mercedes-Benz engineers take a much more pragmatic view. Stubbornly refusing to sacrifice a driver's pocketbook to his libido, they insist on striking a sane balance between engine size and fuel economy.

Result: the new 250 is endowed with a 6-cylinder, overhead-cam, 7-main-bearing gem of a powerplant. It can hurtle this 3,000 pound Mercedes-Benz along indefinitely at the highest posted speeds in America—with energy in reserve. Yet fuel consumption rivals that of the lowliest domestic compacts.

The hot-rodder who torques out in front of a Mercedes-Benz 250 scores a Pyrrhic victory indeed.

The 250 comes with 4-wheel disc brakes. No domestic sedan does. Something to stop and think about.

Turnabout

The owner of a Mercedes-Benz 250, on the other hand, can confidently challenge the driver of any domestic sedan to a stoplight duel—at stopping.

The blunt fact is that not one domestic sedan, regardless of price, comes with 4-wheel disc brakes. But every Mercedes-Benz, regardless of price—like 200-mph Grand Prix racing cars—comes with a massive disc brake at every wheel.

Why do experts rate discs superior to conventional drum brakes?

Because, in a variety of situations—in rainy weather driving when brakes may get wet, in downhill driving with continual braking, even in one smoking panic stop after another at extreme speeds—disc brakes are far better able to dissipate heat and moisture, and thus to resist fading or lock-up, the most common types of brake failure.

Mercedes-Benz engineers believe that the brakes should be the most powerful part of any car. In a Mercedes-Benz, they are.

One-upmanship

As you might expect, the Mercedes-Benz 250 also handles and corners better than all domestic sedans—even the newest 1969 "dreamboats" to roll off the assembly line.

Scrapping the solid rear axle system of conventional cars, the 250 uses an all-independent suspension, plus anti-sway bars front and rear. The result is leech-like roadability—even on rutted and potholed gravel lanes.

There is no sloppy play in the steering, either. You are blessed with the "feel" of the road. When you turn the wheel, the car reacts instantly. Suddenly, you are a more confident driver.

Many cars are designed to win admiration for their owners. Mercedes-Benz cars are designed to win admiration from their owners. Quite a distinction.

The pinnacle of safety

Of all the world's motor cars, concluded Car and Driver magazine after roadtesting the new 250, the current Mercedes-Benz line "represents the present pinnacle in safe car engineering."

This sober judgment is based in part on the remarkable responsiveness of the 250, its almost uncanny ability to evade blundering motorists.

But it reflects, too, the extraordinary measures Mercedes-Benz engineers have taken to provide protective packaging for passengers if the worst happens—measures that go beyond the letter of U.S. safety regulations.

The 250's entire passenger compartment is built as a sturdy "safety zone." Doors are designed to stay shut on impact. The front and rear sections of the car are engineered to crumple in a violent crash at a controlled rate, absorbing shock and reducing the threat of serious injury.

"My car was wrecked," reported a Mercedes-Benz owner after a serious head-on collision, "but thanks to Mercedes-Benz safety engineering, I escaped with my life."

Flat-out in comfort

The 250 is as habitable as it is roadworthy and safe.

Probing with stethoscopes, engineers tracked down and winnowed out irksome harmonic vibrations in the bodywork and drive train. "There is as little inside noise at 100 mph as at a standstill," observed a journalist after test runs on a racing circuit.

Slip into the seat of a 250. It reclines—for catnaps. Check the rear shelf. Carpeted. Nudge the door closed. A satisfying "ka-chunk."

Born to last

Your 250 is built with uncompromising care to make it a durable investment, too. It is not bolted into being, like an ordinary car, but solidified by thousands of welds. After 50,000 miles or so, you may begin to wonder if it will ever rattle.

More than four coats and 44 pounds of paint and primer rust protection are lavished on each car at the factory. The insides of the hubcaps are coated.

Even the lines are designed for durability. Mercedes-Benz scorns planned obsolescence, and deliberately gives all its motor cars the same classic look, free of faddish touches that can readily betray age—and erode your investment.

(Sidelight: While this similarity between Mercedes-Benz models and vintages is a boon to the owner of a 250, it may be a hazard to some drivers. Consider the traffic-light dragster who guns his engine at a "250"—only to writhe in the ignominy of having taunted a 6.3 Mercedes-Benz 300SEL instead.)

If you think the 250 sounds like an unconventional car, you're right. It is. Defiantly so. Mercedes-Benz does not build conventional cars—and never will.

For more details on the 250, a shrewd $5,299* investment, mail the coupon for a colorful 24-page brochure. Better yet, drop by the showroom and arrange to test the car. Driving is believing.

Other models to ponder:

280SE Sedan—the most roadworthy car you can buy in the luxury class, fuel-injection engine, $6,577*.

280SL Roadster—a sports car for grown-ups, combines soul-stirring performance with comfort, $6,885*.

220 Diesel—the only diesel Mercedes-Benz makes, gives small-car economy in a big, safe sedan that may well endure for decades, $4,780*.

600 Grand Mercedes—the ultimate motor car, $23,759*.

DURING THE TWO WEEKS that began March 3 the home economics department room at Tamalpais High School is being turned into a model restaurant from 9 to 10 a.m. when advanced food class students and F.E.A.S.T. students serve breakfast to faculty and staff members. This is part of their study and work experience program in preparation for occupations related to food and hospitality services.

F.E.A.S.T.

Food Education Includes 'Proof'

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

If you are interested in teenagers and the high school scene today, you should try to get an inviation to one of the Friday monthly luncheons planned, prepared and served by the advanced food class and F.E.A.S.T. students at Tamalpais High School. The luncheons are sponsored by the school and the Parent-Teacher Association.

THE F.E.A.S.T. (a very appropriate acronym for Food Education and Service Training) program itself conducted under the Vocational Educational Act of 1963 is fascinating — the luncheon is delicious — and you may learn some surprising and interesting things about what is going on at the school.

This was my experience when I attended the February luncheon with some 20 other people of the community.

Mrs. Richard Jessup, president of the Tamalpais High School P-TA unit, says the group became interested not only in offering the students another opportunity to practice their skills but in using the luncheons to promote better understanding of the school's problems by members of the community.

"The school is doing a tremendous job in trying to fill all the needs of the student who isn't college bound," she says, "and they study new programs all the time trying to give a very full, diversified program.

"IF THE PEOPLE who are uncertain about the high school would try to get more in touch with it and have a more positive feeling about it, it would be a much healthier situation."

During the luncheons held from noon to 1 p.m. in the faculty conference room, Tamalpais High School principal Robert Prather suggests several topics the guests may wish to discuss, and after giving information on one or more selected, gives the opportunity to ask questions or make comments.

The day I attended there was a lively discussion of the drug education program going on at the school.

One of the things housewives may want to explore is how the F.E.A.S.T. students put on the luncheons for 20 people with the $15 the P-TA provides for each luncheon. P-TA chairmen for the luncheons are Mrs. William Everts and Mrs. Hans Schiller.

MRS. MARCELETT HENRY, head of the home economics department at the school, supervises preparation of the food for the luncheons. She explained the workings of F.E.A.S.T.

"The specific purpose of the program is to train students to enter occupations related to food and hospitality services, such as those in hotels, motels, restaurants, clubs and hospitals," she said.

"Though the course is designed to develop some skills necessary for those who plan to go to work immediately upon graduation or to lay the groundwork for others who want to continue their education in the field at the community college or university level, we try to emphasize the developing of necessary behaviour for employment rather than the skills they can increase later. The course is especially good for any child who lacks employment skills."

The first objective of the program is to have students develop enthusiasm for the hospitality and service industry.

OTHER OBJECTIVES encouraged even before skills are taught are (1) pride in work well done (2) dependability and promptness (3) understanding of managements requirements and union contracts and regulations (4) ability to listen, take orders and follow instructions and work with all types of people under pressure and various work conditions and (5) learning about many kinds of kitchen equipment and sanitary and safety procedures.

The program is open to junior boys and girls who follow a curriculum that includes foods (nutrition, science, sanitation and quantity cookery), English and mathematics related to food service, social studies and physical education.

In the senior year the program follows a study and food service work experience plan. The curriculum includes American government, physical education and such electives as accounting, typing, bookkeeping and office machines.

UNDER THE WORK experience the students are employed a minimum of 12 to 15 hours a week at a minimum wage of $1.50 per hour in restaurants, hospitals and convalescent homes. This is done under the guidance of John Wilbert, the work experience coordinator, and an advisory committee made up of people from business and industry.

Employers in business and industry are pleased with the caliber of work done by the students, Mrs. Henry says.

The F.E.A.S.T. program has been going on at Tamalpais High School for two years, but it is the first year for the luncheons. During the two weeks that started on March 3 the students are working on a project that will give Mrs. Henry an opportunity to rate their proficiency in a complete operation involving all procedures in the program, and the students will also rate themselves.

THIS IS A MODEL restaurant set up in the home economics department where the faculty may purchase breakfast at a minimum cost. Involved are purchasing, planning and cooking the food, taking orders, operating a cash register and cleanup afterwards. During the second week the students may invite their parents for breakfast.

Anyone wishing to attend one of the monthly luncheons may have his name placed on the list by calling Mrs. Everts or Mrs. Schiller, both of Mill Valley.

MAITRE D'HOTEL Nick Clark takes the breakfast order of Tamalpais High School principal Robert Prather in the restaurant operation that gives F.E.A.S.T. students practical experience. They also serve luncheons once a month to some 20 people invited from the community. During these luncheons, sponsored by the school and the P-TA, guests discuss with Prather topics of current interest at the school.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Language 'Melts The Walls' And Wife Threatens Divorce

DEAR HELEN:

My husband is basically a good man, but his language is enough to melt the walls. It has always been this way, but I think his swearing and obscene words have become worse since the children came. Or maybe I notice them more because when you hear your child called a terrible, dirty name, you want to kill, almost.

We don't have a mad house, Helen, so he can't blame this on nerves. Those filthy words just flow out. He hardly remembers saying them, though they're worse when he gets mad.

I've tried everything including the threat of divorce. Nothing helps. He's a longshoreman, so I guess he comes by Those Words naturally, but why can't he leave them on the job? — FED UP

DEAR FED UP:

Uncontrollable swearing can be a disease. I wouldn't dare diagnose from here, but I do advise you to discuss this situation with your doctor. He will perhaps steer your husband toward professional help.

If Those Words are merely habit, you might cure him by walking out of the house the moment they start. Be sure you and the children stay away long enough to let the lesson percolate. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Is it true that the parents of the bridegroom must pay for the reception? — PERPLEXED

DEAR PER:

Not true. Parents of the bride foot the entire wedding and reception bill. A happy gesture is for the bridegroom's parents to entertain the wedding party at dinner after the rehearsal. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

It's a good thing I can't meet up with "Lonely Frustrated Husband" or we might just wander off into the sunset leaving our unloving mates behind.

I am nice looking, pleasant, keep a neat home. My husband has been given all the loving attention a man can handle, plus forgiveness for anything he does. Sex is never forbidden or bargained for — from my side.

He is the love-withholder, for any little annoyance. If I long to be kissed, he'll say, "What's wrong with you?" — making me feel almost obscene.

If I have been ill, he turns from me completely. When he had the flu I waited on him like a slave, but when I caught it, he never once came into the sick room. It was as if he hated me for inconveniencing him. Or I was "unclean."

When he wants love it's for his own satisfaction only. And this is very seldom, as if he feels guilty about it. He reads, eats and watches TV, and I don't dare talk to him.

Is it any wonder I dream about another man — almost any man would do? — LONELY FRUSTRATED WIFE

DEAR WIFE:

No wonder at all! But before you give up on this marriage, remember your husband is a lonely, blighted man who somehow associates sex with shame. If a counselor could change his attitudes, you'd find those daydreams aren't necessary. — H.

Why Cooking Varies For Meat

Many factors affect the cooking time for meat. That's why a range in cooking times is given in most recipes.

Boned roasts are more compact and thus usually require longer cooking time per pound. Other factors include the shape of the cut, ratio of lean to fat and the temperature of the meat when placed in the oven.

It's best to remove meat from the refrigerator and place directly in the oven. But since some refrigerators are colder than others, initial temperature of roasts may vary and hence cooking time.

Meat with a generous amount of fat covering tends to cook faster than leaner meat. That's because melting fat conducts heat well.

Texas High School Replaces Obscenity With Sex Education

By MIKE WESTER

WHITEFACE, Tex. (UPI)—The obscenity on restroom walls provides the only sex textbook for many of today's high school students—but not in Whiteface, a town of about 500 population in the Texas Panhandle.

Here, under the direction of Charles Booz, Whiteface High School principal, the sex education program became a part of home and family living classes for a mixed group of junior and senior boys and girls during the 1967-68 school year. It began at the request of both students and parents.

SEX EDUCATION is taught twice a week. The other three days are devoted to home and family living. Written permission from both parents is required before a student may enroll in the class.

Last year there were 10 girls and five boys enrolled. This year's class includes 44 of a possible 52 students.

BEFORE INITIATION of the first class the material to be taught was presented to the parents and the community including the four local clergymen. Parents were informed about the scope of the program, including an outline of material to be covered.

Consent from parents and the clergy was unanimous. Leaders of the community met with the school officials and the result was the same.

"Among 13 objectives set out in the course is to enable the students to base his decisions on sound knowledge not ignorance," Booz says. "We hope to give pupils a clear understanding of the place of sex in marriage and intersexual relations for the future, and also help them understand important features of masculine-feminine behavior as related to sexual behavior."

THE KEY to the success of the program is the ability of the teacher to communicate with the student and the desire of the students to communicate with each other.

Relief of the students' anxieties and the threats imposed by the subject is the first step in making this communication possible, Booz says.

"WE EXPLAINED to the students that the course would be based on discussion, for which they were grateful," Booz says. "They have a chance to discuss with each other the subjects which are a vital concern to them."

An adequate and correct vocabulary is also necessary so discussions can be meaningful to each student. Discussions are frank and open.

"TO BE OTHERWISE would defeat the purpose of the course," Booz says. "Students are encouraged to ask questions but not required to do so. Students may also write questions down and put them in a question box."

Booz says most students use the box at first, but after the first few weeks the embarrassment is gone and they feel free to ask anything that is of concern or interest to them.

STUDENTS actually determine the course content, based on the questions they feel are important. Questions openly discussed are on pre-marriage intercourse, sexual urges, pregnancy, birth control, venereal diseases, virginity and homosexuality.

Ministers, parents and other interested persons attend the class frequently.

"The students seem to grow up overnight in these classes," says one minister. "They not only better understand themselves but each other as well.

INCOME TAX FACTS

11 Important Questions Answered By IRS Service

Wikel

The Internal Revenue Service, in a meeting with one of the accounting societies, answered questions and made suggestions for handling various matters.

I have been fortunate in securing a copy of these questions and answers and list some of them below with the hope that they may help you.

1. Correspondence with the Western Service Center, Ogden, Utah:

To facilitate the handling of correspondence with the Service Center all letters should include the following information: (1) Name and address as shown on the most recent return and on the return in question, if different; (2) taxpayer identification number (social Security number or Employer Identification number); (3) type of return, and (4) taxable period in question. It also would be helpful if the telephone number of the taxpayer or accountant is furnished.

2. Use of piggy-back labels:

The use of piggy-back labels and pre-addressed, precoded envelopes expedite the processing of returns and correspondence.

3. Proper credit for estimated tax payments after a change in name:

Wherever a taxpayer changes his or her name, the Service Center should be notified at the same time the Social Security Administration is notified of the name change.

4. Extensions of time:

The IRS is very concerned about the large number of extension of time requests submitted each year. Approximately 60 per cent of the requests are approved with adequate justification; however, the remaining 40 per cent of the requests that are denied are causing the greatest concern. Ethically, if a request for an extension cannot be justified, it should not be submitted. Facetious requests should not be submitted merely to cause a delay in the filing of a return.

As a matter of policy, 10 days have been granted to file returns when extensions were denied; however, extensions of time are granted at the discretion of the district director and continued abuse of the program could lead to a complete change of policy.

5. Requirement of a court certificate in connection with statement of claimant to refund due deceased taxpayer, Form 1310:

A court certificate will not normally be required with a Form 1310, "Statement of Claimant to Refund Due Deceased Taxpayer," if the form is otherwise complete and the answer to question 3, Schedule A, is "Yes." This is the question which asks if distribution will be made in accordance with state laws.

6. Time allowed for response to computer generated notices:

The Service Center believes that sufficient time is presently allowed when there is a prompt response. It is recognized that effective taxpayer education is needed to elicit a prompt response.

7. Place of field audit examination:

The convenience of the government was stressed. The examination will normally take place at the taxpayer's place of business where the books and supporting documents are available for inspection. The examining officer will generally refer to the accountant's work papers for significant items only, such as classification of accounts, adjustments between the books and the tax return, and where the work papers contain background material to support a complex issue.

8. District conference procedures:

Per Revenue Procedure 68-4, it will not be necessary to file a protest in order to obtain a district conference or subsequent consideration by the Appellate Division if the tax change in any one year does not exceed $2,500. If a practitioner intends to represent the taxpayer and a power of attorney has not been previously filed, it should accompany the request for a district conference.

This enables the service to contact the representative directly in arranging a suitable time to hold the conference. Only attorneys, CPAs or enrolled persons are eligible to represent a taxpayer at a district conference.

It is the policy of the service to obtain agreement at the lowest level. Therefore, in most cases, if the agreement is not reached with the examining officer the group supervisor will discuss the issues with the taxpayer and attempt to achieve agreement. This discussion is informal. It does not constitute nor should it be mistaken for a district conference with an independent conferee.

In an effort to avoid unreasonable delay in the closing of cases, the district has adopted a more stringent policy for granting request for an extension of time to file a protest.

9. Points:

Points paid in connection with VA or FHA financing are not deductible as interest. In conventional financing one "point" will generally be considered as paid for services and additional "points" are deductible as interest. "Points" paid by the seller are not interest but an expense of sale.

10. More returns to be filed directly with the service center:

Individual taxpayers will be requested to mail their tax returns to the Internal Revenue Service Center, 1160 West 1200 South Street, Ogden, Utah, 84405.

11. signature of preparer of return:

Income Tax Regulations Section 1.6065-1(b) requires the signature of the preparer of an income tax return on the place designated on the return. A rubber stamp does not fulfill this requirement, but may be used in conjunction with the signature. The preparer of a return is the person responsible for the information appearing thereon and not one performing merely clerical functions.

Mill Valley Chase Nabs Woman Check Suspect

A 22-year-old San Francisco woman, who allegedly tried to cash $250 in stolen travelers checks at a Mill Valley bank, has been arrested after a chase joined by two of the bank's officials and another man.

Francille Ann McGee, who already was being sought for failing to appear in court on earlier check charges, was booked into the County Jail on suspicion of passing stolen and forged checks. Her bail was set at $50,000. She was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Mill Valley Police Sgt. Robert Dyche said Miss McGee entered the Crocker-Citizens National Bank at 525 Miller Avenue Friday and tried to cash the checks. The teller took them to assistant manager John Gilbert, who remembered seeing her name on a flier from the bank's main office. Gilbert went to manager Jack Packard who called the main office in San Francisco.

By this time, according to Dyche, the woman had left the bank, saying she wanted to get her little boy out of her car. Once outside, she broke into a run with Gilbert and Packard in pursuit.

Miss McGee outran them and drove away in a 1969 Cadillac. Then Charles Mack Jr., a student and part-time employee of a nearby service station, joined the chase. He, Gilbert and Packard drove Mack's car to look for the woman.

When they spotted her on Blithedale Avenue, Mack pulled his car in front of her and Packard got into her car and forced her to drive back to the bank where she was arrested by Dyche and Inspector Robert Fisk.

San Rafael police then re-arrested Miss McGee on a $25,000 bench warrant issued after she failed to appear in Marin Municipal Court last week on other bad check charges from last summer.

She also is wanted on warrants in San Francisco and Alameda Ctunty, police said.

Dyche said the woman had passed $150 stolen and forged checks in Corte Madera earlier yesterday. Other checks, cash and a stolen payroll check from San Mateo were found in her car, he said.

Ray Pleads Guilty; 99 Years In King's Death

JAMES EARL RAY
99 years in prison

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—James Earl Ray pleaded guilty today to murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and was sentenced to 99 years in the Tennessee State Penitentiary.

"You have pleaded guilty to first degree murder and it is the judgment of the court that you be confined for 99 years in the state penitentiary," Criminal Court Judge Preston Battle intoned.

Ray, pleading guilty to the slaying, had told the court he wanted to add a statement that he did not agree with "the theory there was no conspiracy" in the killing of Dr. King.

The entire proceeding, from original guilty plea to metting of the sentence by the jury, lasted less than three and one-half hours.

A minute before the judge passed sentence, Ray, who was 41 today, sat quietly in a checked blue sport coat and dark pants as the judge asked the jurors if they still agreed to a state-defense arrangement that Ray plead guilty and accept the sentence.

ALL 12 AGREE

All 12 raised their right hands in assent. With today's action Ray could possibly be paroled in 33 years.

The judge than thanked the jurors and all others who had helped in the case. He repeated defense and prosecution contentions that there was no evidence of a conspiracy in King's slaying.

Should any such evidence arise, the judge made it clear, the state will prosecute.

Ray said he did not agree with the theory that there was no conspiracy to assassinate King. He did not elaborate. He said, however, "I agree with the stipulation" to plead guilty.

"I've never had hopes of anything except . . . to save this man's life," said Ray's lawyer, Percy Foreman of Houston, Tex. "It took me months to prove to myself . . . that it was not a conspiracy."

Five witnesses then testified to the actual fact of King's slaying, at the Lorraine Motel here April 4, 1968. This is necessary under Tennessee law in a case where the death penalty could be involved.

JURY RETIRES

Then, the jury retired to go through the formality of setting the 99-year sentence.

The jury was chosen from a venire picked two weeks ago, but the jurors themselves had no idea, a court spokesman said, that they would be assigned to the Ray case until court began this morning.

Criminal Court Judge Preston Battle asked Ray, who was called to the stand, whether he understood that his guilty plea meant he waived all rights to appeal. He also was asked if the decision to plead guilty was his own and of his own free will.

In Atlanta, Ga., Rev. Martin Luther King Sr., father of the slain civil rights leader, said he had no comment on Ray's plea. Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., widow of the slain man, was reported to be out of the city and not immediately available.

At that point, testimony began

Planners Hear Sign Arguments

By WAT TAKESHITA

An absolute maximum height of 25 feet should not be imposed on free-standing signs, representatives of business and industry declared this morning during a discussion of a new sign ordinance by the Marin County Planning Commission.

At present, the height limit is 12 feet, but this may be exceeded by use permit, with no absolute limit. County planner Wesley Wilkes proposed a height limit of 15 feet, and a maximum of 25 feet if allowed by sign review.

HINDER INDUSTRY

Richard P. Nave, president of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau, charged that an absolute maximum of 25 or 75 square feet would hinder industry in the county. "For large businesses, there may be occasions when the sign should be 200 square feet or 250 square feet," he said.

Nave argued that a business which wants a 30-foot sign should be allowed to get it through a use permit, and not be required to get a variance, "which is tougher and puts the businessman right behind the eightball."

Ben A. Farlatti, director of the county chamber of commerce, suggested that the height of signs be guided by the maximum building height allowed in each area.

SIGN HEIGHTS

Norman Traverso, executive manager of the Marin Property Owners Association, also objected to maximum height limitations.

Chairman Hugh Dougherty said he sees possibilities in relating the height of signs to the building height but postponed a decision until other provisions of the new sign ordinance had been discussed.

Businessmen also objected to a proposed ban on trademarks or brand names such as Coca Cola or Pepsi Cola, where the premises do not require such signs for identification.

"You're treading on dangerous ground when you regulate the nature of signs," warned Virgil

THE DRUG SCENE

Young America On A Wild Kick

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of 10 articles written by a prize-winning reporter to inform parents about the drug and narcotics situation and suggest what they can do to guard their own children against its hazards.)

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Writer

The use — and abuse — of drugs that affect human minds is spreading across the country like smog.

Young Americans by the hundreds of thousands, perhaps by the million, are tasting, experimenting or going still further with marijuana, with LSD, with the uppies and downies of pep pills and sedatives, with speed, and even in some cases with heroin.

By the millions, parents are increasingly puzzled, worried, or even downright panicky. Most distrubing to them, marijuana or "pot" especially is becoming popular among junior high and high school students.

"My 7-year-old daughter can spell marijuana; I never heard of it until I was in college," says one 37-year-old father.

At high schools and colleges, arrests for possession of marijuana and other drugs are increasing. Simple possession of marijuana is a felony punishable by jail terms of two to 10 years or more.

Drug use is unquestionably becoming a way of life for some young people — and for an untold number of adults also.

This series of stories, based on interviews with dozens of authorities across the country, deals with questions such as these that confront parents and young people as well:

What can or should parents do to steer their children away from using mind-affecting drugs?

Opening Of Raceway Causes Traffic Snarl

Traffic was backed up for five miles in each direction on Highways 37 and 121 at the Sears Point Intersection yesterday with the first weekend of racing at the Sears Point Raceway, according to Lt. Arnold Zink of the Sonoma County California Highway Patrol. (See sports section for racing story.)

The traffic tieup started before 9:30 a.m. with the first race scheduled for 10 a.m., Zink said. It was not cleared out until 6:30 p.m., he said.

Officers from the Marin County office of the California Highway Patrol, controlled traffic on Highway 37, he said, while other highway patrolmen from Sonoma County tried to handle the traffic at the gate.

"We knew we would have a problem, but did not realize it would be that bad," he said.

Zink blamed the lack of parking at the speedway and slowness of taking admission money as the major cause of blocking traffic back onto the two lane Highway 121 and Highway 37, both east and west of the speedway.

Zink said that at 11;30 a.m. all available parking places at the race track were filled.

At 11:51 the Sonoma County office asked all radio stations in the area to broadcast an alert asking all people to stay off those highways as the traffic had backed up five miles in each direction.

Hospitalized

BOSTON (AP) — Richard Cardinal Cushing, 73, archbishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of Boston, was hospitalized today for rest and treatment for bronchial congestion.

Armed Bandits Take $40,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two armed thugs who lay in wait when employees arrived held up a Wells Fargo Bank today and escaped with about $40,000.

The pair, described as Negro males, started to take two hostages out of the bank as they left, but changed their minds and released them unharmed.

A bank spokesman said the robbers forced a janitor to let them in the 24th and Irving branch around 8 a.m. They met employees as they arrived for work.

The estimate of cash taken was made by FBI agent Charles R. Bates.

Bolinas Harbor Fate Is Tomorrow

Bolinas voters tomorrow will decide the fate of the Bolinas Harbor District — and possibly of Bolinas Lagoon.

The vote on dissolution of the district was ordered last year by Marin supervisors, dissatisfied with the board's plans for the lagoon.

The harbor board proposed enough lagoon development to finance dredging which it says is needed to keep the lagoon from silting in and dying within a few years.

Proponents of dissolution say the lagoon is threatened more by overdevelopment than by silting, and want the county to administer the lagoon.

If the voters approve dissolution, state action will be required to turn the lagoon over to the county, since the district grant came from the state Lands Commission in 1957. The dissolution vote is conditioned on the county taking over administration.

Polls at the Stinson Beach Community Center and Bolinas community building will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. tomorrow.

President Deciding On ABM

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI) —President Nixon scheduled last-minute consultations with his national security adviser on the controversial antiballistic missile system before returning to Washington later today.

The Florida White House said Dr. Henry A. Kissinger was en route from Washington to consult with Nixon on the ABM and "other matters."

Acting press secretary Gerald L. Warren said Nixon awakened early, breakfasted alone and spent the morning working on official papers in preparation for his return to the capitol, where he will announce his decision on deployment of the Sentinel missile defense system — probably tomorrow.

(Marin County facing the prospect of one of the Sentinel missiles being built on Wolfback Ridge, is among areas of the United States vitally concerned with Nixon's decision. The Army has already started tests on Wolfback Ridge and was eyeing Marin's Angel Island as a second choice when Nixon halted work on the system for a review.)

In Washington, Nixon's press secretary Ronald Ziegler ruled out a television appearance for announcement of the ABM decision. The White House said Nixon still has not decided how he will make public his decision.

He planned to fly back to Washington with Kissinger and other aides late this afternoon. His press aides declined to say whether the President has made up his mind on the ABM.

He is under strong pressure from the Pentagon to approve a modified program for deploying the ABM near missile sites, away from urban areas.

Nixon mulled the issue over the weekend while relaxing on his island hideaway and yachting in Biscayne Bay. He met with several other advisers Sunday to further discuss the ABM system.

He has several options, and could conceivably postpone a decision in view of mounting diplomatic reports a summit meeting with Soviet leaders is in the making.

College Election Code Held 'Illegal'

Actions of the College of Marin student Executive Council Friday changing several election code provisions were declared "illegal" today in an editorial in the school newspaper, the Times.

In a special one-page edition, the Times gave its views editorially on last Thursday's botched-up election and the three new demands of the Black Students Union.

Editor Rick Beban wrote:

"The constitution states that statutes which are going to be changed have to be posted a week in advance." There was no such posting.

In a 14-inch editorial Beban supported one of the three Black Student Union demands: recruiting programs for black students, more black counselors and financial aid for all black students.

That demand, plus one that David Garber, student activities adviser, be fired for his involvement in Thursday's election and one asking reforms in the election methods, were made Friday. With them came an ultimatum that they be met by today.

The Independent-Journal talked to a Black Student Union member by telephone at the Associated Students office today. He said there would be no statement made until 9:30 a.m. tomorrow, following a BSU meeting set for today.

Election code changes made Friday included the rule that a student no longer needs two full semesters work at the college to be eligible to run for student body president.

This would automatically make eligible Conrad Harris II, a black who was on Thursday's ballot but who does not have the two semesters work.

Other code changes relate to having representatives near ballot boxes and roping off the ballot place to prevent casting of unauthorized ballots.

The Time's editorial said flatly that the botched-up election was not Garber's fault but that of the student government.

It said Garber is being used as a scapegoat by the BSU since he was asked to interfere with the student government process. "Because Garber stood for non-interference he has been branded as a racist and his removal demanded," the editorial said.

The editorial asks that student government place its affairs in hands of an interim committee composed of two members of the Third World Liberation Front Association, the Inter-Club Council, the Associated Students president and treasurer and Garber.

"We must find a solution or else no one will be able to function on any level," the editorial read. It was signed "Peace — Beban."

Apollo 9 Astronauts Fire Spaceship Engine

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 9 astonauts triggered their spaceship engine for 25 seconds today to jockey into a more favorable orbit in the event of an emergency reentry and to try to learn why warning lights flashed on an earlier firing.

"That's pretty smooth. Like an arrow in the sky," commented Air Force Col. David R. Scott as the engine ignited high over the United States.

With stormy weather buffeting their planned Atlantic landing area, they were told they might have to shift Thursday's planned splashdown to calmer seas.

To help ground controllers plot the storm, Air Force Cols. James A. McDivitt and Scott and civilian Russell L. Schweickart turned space age weathermen and reported on conditions in the landing zone near Bermuda and over a wide area of the United States.

They lit up the big 20,500-pound thrust engine for the seventh time today, dropping their orbit's low point from 117 to 112 miles and raising the high point from 131 to 292 miles.

One more firing is planned, to bring them out of orbit Thursday. If the engine should fail, the new orbital path would permit the astronauts to use their small control jets for an effective re-entry.

North Korea Believed War-Minded

CORONADO (UPI) — Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher faced a Navy Court of Inquiry today as a volunteer witness after an admiral testified he believes North Korea wanted a war over the USS Pueblo affair.

Vice Adm. J. Victor Smith, who negotiated with the Communists after the vessel's capture, called the North Koreans "mad dogs."

Smith described North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and his advisers as "intelligent people but completely without scruple or conscience."

"I felt that Kim Il Sung welcomed, perhaps wanted, war at that time," Smith said. "Seizure of a vessel on the high seas has in the past been an occasion for war."

Smith said the Pueblo's capture occurred shortly after North Korean efforts to assassinate South Korean president Park Chung Hee, which Smith called another grave provocation.

Bucher was to go before the court this afternoon to answer unfavorable testimony about the way he commanded the Pueblo.

The aim of his civilian attorney, C. Miles Harvey, was to put Bucher's case into sound shape before the court begins its deliberations. It could recommend Bucher for anything from a court-martial to a decoration.

Bucher's decision to testify again left him open to cross-examination by the admirals conducting the inquiry into the espionage vessel's capture Jan. 23, 1968.

Most of the Pueblo's 74 enlisted men have testified in open court during the last two weeks.

Unruh Eying Nomination

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assembly Minority Leader Jesse M. Unruh has decided to seek the Democratic nomination for governor, some of his legislative associates said today.

Fellow Democrats in the Assembly said Unruh, former speaker of the lower house, has told some of them informally that he has made up his mind to seek the nomination — barring what they term "a catastrophe."

Republican Gov. Reagan is expected to seek a second term in 1970.

NEW HALL OF JUSTICE

Civic Center Postman Has Extra Steps Ahead

By WAT TAKESHITA

NEW DIMENSIONS—Mailman Lynne F. Boyd Jr. contemplates an addition to his mail route, on which he has grown thinner as it expands. Stretching into the distance behind him is the unfinished top floor corridor of the new Hall of Justice, which eventually will be his responsibility.

Civic Center postman Lynne F. Boyd Jr. figures to lose a few pounds when the enlongated new Hall of Justice opens this summer.

His present foot beat at the Civic Center, 530 feet long, will be extended by another 858 feet, which means the total length from end to end will be more than a quarter-mile.

But Boyd, who has been on the Civic Center-San Rafael Meadows-Merrydale route for 10 years and in postal service for 12, is game.

"I'm willing to take on the New Hall of Justice if they'd take me off Merrydale Road," said Boyd.

Walking doesn't scare a man who took off 30 pounds in six weeks when he first started the San Rafael Meadows-Santa Venetia route in 1959.

"When I came out of the Air Force in 1957, I weighed 190 pounds," he recalls. After working out of the San Rafael Post Office for two years, he was assigned to the San Rafael Meadows-Santa Venetia foot route in March of 1959. "I dropped to about 160 pounds in six weeks. It sure helped me get into shape. I must have walked 20 miles a day in those days" The 5 foot 10-inch Boyd now weighs 175 pounds, but he figures he won't be able to hang on to all of that if he gets the Hall of Justice.

At present, he spends from 45 minutes to an hour in the Civic Center administration building, pushing and pulling a cart up and down the four floors. "I've never measured it but I guess I walk about a mile and a half a day in that building."

Some of his heaviest loads go to the county library on the fourth floor. "Some days I may get up to 150 pounds of books for the library alone," said Boyd. He loads a hand cart, which fits into his motor scooter, and totes the books up the elevator to the library. The ordinary mail he also loads on his cart and pushes along the corridors of each floor delivering to various offices.

The change in the Civic Center area during the last decade is almost incredible, says Boyd. When he first began walking the route from the Catholic Church at Northbridge to Los Ranchitos, the Civic Center area was a wide open, pastoral scene, with cattle and some fruit trees, just about where the circular fountain now spouts in front of the post office.

"Mr. Paganini, I forgot his first name, had his ranch house up there, and he had apples, peaches and some grapes." There were three houses near the present Civic Center Drive, and another house across the street from the barber shop.

Stopping off to chat with Paganini and taste his grapes was a pleasant interlude during his day's walk.

Now he drives one of the mail scooters from the Civic Center to San Rafael Meadows and Merrydale Road.

When he started, there were only eight apartments on his route, in front of Dandy's market at 238 Merrydale Road. Now his route includes 210 apartments, for a total of 450 customers, plus the Civic Center.

For old times sake, he would hate to give up Rafael Meadows.

Boyd knows many of his old time customers by name and is fond of his clients, although some of them give him a bad time.

"Just the other day, Playboy magazine was a few days late, and boy did they complain. Playboy and True Detective — if either one is late, they really give it to me. Some of the older folks think I sit down and read them before I deliver them. What would I want with a couple hundred Playboys and True Detectives?"

"And you gotta watch the older women customers. If you deliver one of those giveaway shopping sheets to one lady, you'd better deliver one to the other lady or you've had it."

But the easy-going, amiable Boyd has learned to minister to the individual needs of his clients.

"I also get a big kick out of the kids, because they're pretty sharp about remembering faces. The adults always see me in uniform and so when I'm off and shopping in town, they walk by without recognizing me. But quite often, a youngster looks up and yells, 'Hey, Mom, look, there's our mailman'."

Boyd lives with his mother, Mary Boyd, at 1714 Mission Avenue in San Rafael.

He has one son, Lynne F. Boyd III, who works for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in San Rafael.

Boyd heads for the Civic Center post office every morning at 6:30 to begin sorting the day's mail. About 10:30, he begins his route, and the day is scheduled to end at 3:30 p.m. But often, he must work after hours because of the increasing volume of mail.

"It's mostly junk mail, shopping sheets, and a terrific climb in magazines such as TV Guides."

As the Hall of Justice nears completion, he dwells at times on the quarter mile walk. "But I don't mind," says Boyd, hitching his trousers. "Might take a few pounds off me, but I'll be in good shape."

County Files Charges In Statue Plans

County officials have taken a dim view of a huge wooden statue of the Mother and Child now in skeletal form on the Sausalito waterfront and filed charges against its builders.

Misdemeanor charges of construction without a building permit have been filed in Marin Municipal Court against artist J. Christopher Roberts, who lives on a nearby houseboat, and his alleged backer, Andrew Loveman, of Mill Valley.

Roberts and Loveman were due to be arraigned Friday, but Judge Hadden W. Roth continued the case until next Friday, saying that if they did not appear then, that bench warrants would be issued.

The framework of the statue, 12 times life size, has been under construction for several weeks on an old marine pile driver mounted on a 130-ton barge.

The giant statue, planned to be semi-representational and finished in redwood and stained glass, is possibly scheduled for the centerpiece of an even larger project Roberts proposed 18 months ago.

This was a floating arts center, museum and galleries built in the four drydocks in Richardson Bay. The base of the statue itself could serve as a gallery, Roberts said.

County officials have indicated, however, that they wanted to look at Roberts' plans to see if the structure might present a hazard by toppling in a high wind.

Inverness Leader Quits Two Panels

Allan D. Telford has resigned as president of the Inverness Improvement Association and as a director of the Inverness Foundation.

Telford, who announced his resignation at a meeting Friday night, said today he found the position "conflicting in time and in some cases philosophy" with his job as manager of the Marin Mosquito Abatment District.

He said he resigned without animosity and to avoid possible conflicts of interest with his job.

Named to fill the vacant directorships of both groups was Igor Z. Sazevich of Sausalito, a San Francisco architect. Vice President Richard Plant Took over as acting president until the next meeting when an election will be held.

Sazevich's first action was to volunteer to sketch plans for a wharf at Shrivers boathouse which is now owned by the foundation. The pier would be designed for public fishing, adjacent to a 900-foot beach the foundation has purchased for community use, Plant reported.

The association agreed to sell five old round-bottom rowboats which are stored in the boathouse to raise money for the wharf project. Plant said the boats are about 30 years old and have "exceptionally good rowing qualities."

A general cleanup of the foundation owned property was scheduled for March, with definite dates to be announced.

The next meeting will be at 8:30 p.m. April 4 at Vladimir's Moravian Restaurant, Inverness.

Stolen Auto's Driver Arrested

A San Francisco man was arrested by San Rafael police Saturday after police found him driving a car reported stolen in San Francisco.

Delbert Carl Clark was held in Marin County Jail for investigation of grand theft pending $1,200 bail. He was scheduled to appear today in Marin Municipal Court for arraignment.

Police said Robert Polambino of 108 Professional Center Parkway, San Rafael, saw the car, which he said had been stolen from his automobile sales lot in San Francisco earlier this month, in the Bermuda Palms parking lot. Officers investigating the report stopped Clark driving the car a few blocks away from the motel, police said.

HEAVIER COURT CALENDAR?

New Mental Health Law Discussed

By CHARLES YOAKUM

California's new, liberalized mental health law will not increase Marin County's court calendar as many people fear, Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson predicted Saturday.

Wilson was one of four speakers who discussed the new law at an all-day seminar at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Wilson's prediction, however, was in direct contrast with the feelings of most of the law enforcement officers and attorneys who attended the six-hour seminar.

The new law — termed by many in the mental health field as a "major revolution" — forces every county with a population of more than 100,000 to establish a mental health rehabilitation program of its own rather than rely solely on the state hospital system.

The law also alters the procedures for involuntary commitments, offers greater protection to the civil rights of those committed and does away with the indeterminate commitment.

The law goes into effect July 1.

Under the new law, a person involuntarily committed must be screened within 72 hours. If, in the opinion of a psychiatrist, the patient is still mentally unstable, he may be held for a maximum of 14 days. The patient has the right, however, to demand a hearing or jury trial within 48 hours anytime during the 14-day period.

It is in this area that members of the county's district attorney's office saw possible problems with the new law.

"With Marin County's already crowded court schedule, it would be extremely difficult to arrange jury trials in two days," said Asst. Dist. Atty. Leonard Shaw.

Wilson said he based his prediction on a study of New York State's experience with a similar law.

"Judges there found very few requests for trials or hearings during the 14-day period," Wilson said. "I think we will find the same holds true here."

Wilson said that his experience showed that although persons were usually hostile and difficult during the first 72 hours, they generally cooled off within a week.

"Most of them," he said, "realize then that perhaps they are sick and take advantage of the treatment offered them while they wait for their regularly-scheduled hearing."

The judge noted that the new law did not cover persons who were metally disordered sex offenders, mentally retarded persons, drug addicts or mentally disordered criminal offenders.

"There still be two procedures for involuntary commitments," Wilson said. "There will be commitment by petition and the 72-hour emergency commitment, the one normally used by police. However, now the police will not have to take the patient all the way to Napa Hospital, but instead will take them directly to the county's Community Mental Health Center at Marin General Hospital."

Earlier in the seminar, a representative for the county facility said they hoped to open some sort of holding area by May 1.

"This type of local treatment is extremely beneficial to the patient, I believe," Wilson said. He noted that local treatment meant that the judge was able to get more information to help in later decisions concerning the patient.

Wilson explained that under the provision of the new law, a person who faces possible commitment will no longer be "arrested" by a law enforcement officer, but instead will be given the opportunity to appear voluntarily for examination by a psyciatrist.

This part of the law was challenged by Dr. George R. Caesar, a San Rafael psychiatrist.

"I have always worked on the principle that it's best to say nothing to the sick person until you are ready to come and get him," Caesar said. "Doesn't the new law just give him a chance to run away?"

His statement drew a sharp reaction from Valerie Bradley, a state research analyst who wrote much of the bill. "That's a fine way to treat someone who's already probably parnoid," she said, "He'll never be able to trust anyone."

Wilson said he approved of that particular part of the law because it "starts putting the problem on a medical rather than judicial basis, and that's bound to be better for the patient."

Wilson shared the speaker's platform with state Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, co-author of the bill; Dr. George Bauer, mental health director of Yolo County and Miss Bradley.

Petris told the seminar that the law was his answer to "gross injustice" which faced the mentally ill in California. He said, "For years we were willing just to shuttle off our sick to state 'warehouses' and forget them, but no more."

Petris said that the state Legislature expected appeals from various boards of supervisors around the state for financial aid in setting up the mental health programs.

"It's going to hit many counties hard," he said, "because they have done absolutely nothing in the past and will have to start from scratch. That's not the case here in Marin County, however."

The day-long seminar was sponsored by the Marin County Mental Health Association and drew law enforcement officials, attorneys, social workers, psychiatrists and marriage counselors, among others.

Fairfax To Discuss TV Cable Charges

A rate schedule for cable television service in Fairfax will be considered by the city council at 8 p.m. today in the Fairfax Women's Club.

The council is also expected to hear a report on dog control in the city.

Five Persons Nabbed On Various Charges

Four San Rafael juveniles and a Muir Beach adult were arrested by Corte Madera police Saturday after they were found driving a reportedly stolen car and carrying concealed weapons and various narcotics paraphernelia, police said today.

Jan L. Weber, 23, of Muir Beach, was booked into Marin County Jail on investigation of criminal conspiracy, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and possession of narcotics paraphernelia.

Richard Sheldon Knowles, 17, of 49 Dolores Street, was placed in Juvenile Hall on suspicion of auto theft, carrying a switchblade knife and possession of narcotics paraphernelia.

Police said he was carrying the knife in his pocket along with a leather pouch with drawstring containing a vial of clear liquid believed to be narcotics. He also had, they said, a small measuring spoon, two hypodermic needles, tweezers, a small steel file and several "crutches," used in marijuana smoking.

Two 17-year-old girls, Deborah Jeanne Scheid, of 301 Belle Avenue, and Victoria Celeste Rinaldi, 17, of 523 B Street, were arrested on suspicion of criminal conspiracy and curfew violation.

The fourth juvenile, Mario Fogleson, 16, of 40 Miraflores Avenue, was booked on suspicion of criminal conspiracy, unlawfully carrying and possessing concealed weapons and curfew violation.

Officer Fred Talmadge stopped the 1960 red Volkswagen convertible at Corte Madera and Alexander avenues at 11:30 p.m. since the the car was similar to one reportedly stolen in San Rafael at 6:30 p.m.

He noticed the car had no key and that the license plate matched that of the stolen car.

Trio Sentenced For Burglaries

Three San Francisco men have been convicted of two Sonoma County burglaries by a jury of eight men and four women in Sonoma Superior Court.

Sentenced Thursday to 1-to-15 year prison terms were Cornell Shaw, 43; Julius Rollins, 41; and Percy Andrews, 42. The trio had been arrested by Cotati police on Dec. 18 following the burglary of the Cotati Oaks Hardware Store, 8025 Gravenstein Highway.

They were also convicted of burglarizing the Cunningham grocery store, Sebastopol.

Four Drunken Drivers Fined

Four persons have been sentenced by Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

James E. Lundgren, 19, of 55 Canal Street, Apartment 8, San Rafael, was fined $150 and placed on six months' probation. He was arrested May 30, 1968, in Corte Madera.

Edwin Gould Klinck, 31, of 55 Lincoln Drive, Sausalito, was fined $225 and placed on six months' probation. He was arrested March 1 in Sausalito.

Samuel W. Creer, 43, of 522 Northern Avenue, Mill Valley, was fined $150 and placed on six months' probation. He was arrested Sept. 7 on Highway 101.

Joyce Leone Jansen, 46, of San Francisco, who was arrested Jan. 4 on Tiburon Boulevard, was fined $200 and placed on six months' probation.

Trustees To Plan For Summer School

Kentfield School District trustees will discuss various courses of action in conducting a summer school at a meeting at 8 p.m. today at Wolfe Grade School.

Also on the agenda is discussion of income in the preliminary 1969-70 budget. There will be a closed session to discuss dismissal of an employee, Supt. Anthony G. Bacich reported.

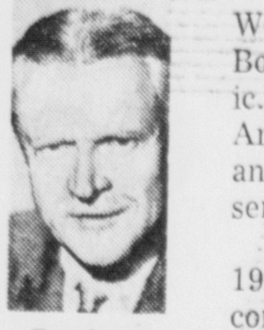
Oscar-Winning Producer Dies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Charles Brackett, a four-time Academy Award winning producer and screenwriter, died yesterday in Hollywood at the age of 77.



Brackett

He won Oscars in 1945 for "Lost Weekend," in 1950 for "Sunset Boulevard," and in 1953 for "Titanic." The Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences presented him with an honorary Oscar for outstanding service in 1957.

Brackett came to Hollywood in 1932 after writing two novels and contributing to the Saturday Evening Post and New Yorker Magazine. Among his other films were "Ninotcha," "Hold Back the Dawn," "The Major and the Minor" and "Five Graves to Cairo."

Brackett, who was retired, is survived by his widow, Lillian, and a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Moore.

A Strong Quake

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea (UPI) — A strong and potentially damaging earthquake struck just off the coast of Western New Guinea yesterday, about 1,000 miles northwest of Port Moresby.

The Geophysical observatory here said the quake measured 6.5 on the open-end Richter scale.

A spokesman for the observatory said it was likely the quake had caused considerable damage in the area. "There are a lot of villages along the coast near there and it is likely these were damaged," he said.

Goes Berserk

CAN THO, Vietnam (UPI) — A U.S. military policeman apparently went berserk and started firing his grenade launcher at American servicemen and Vietnamese civilians, killing two and wounding nine. He was undergoing medical tests today.

Military officials said Sp/4 Larry R. Crook, 19, of Rossville, Ga., was on duty in a guard tower Saturday night when he suddenly started firing his M79 grenade launcher around the U.S. compound here.

Two Vietnamese civilians were killed and two wounded. Nine Americans were injured, one seriously.

NATO Pullout?

STUTTGART, West Germany (UPI) — West German President-elect Gustav Heinemann says there cannot be a united Germany so long as his country remains a member of NATO.

Heinemann, 69, a Social Democrat elected president Wednesday, said in a newspaper interview over the weekend "NATO membership cannot be the terminus of German policy because it is impossible to achieve reunification of our people within NATO."

"It is also impossible to achieve reunification through the Warsaw Pact. We must be prepared in principal to get out of these bloc formations," he said.

A Bride At 12

PALERMO, Siycil (UPI) — Marcella Rosciglione eloped with Giuseppe Greco over the weekend and became Italy's youngest bride. She is 12.

The pair received special dispensation for the wedding from the Roman Catholic church. Normally girls must be 14 to marry, but consent is given if younger girls elope with a man for two days.

Maritime nations generally are conceded full rights over the undersea areas close to their shorelines, but there is no agreement on how far out the "territorial sea" extends.

University Reopens

ROME (AP) — The University of Rome reopened today after a 16-day shutdown and two months of students occupation and disorders.

Ptlice stood guard at the gates to the main campus and at entrances to other schools of the university scattered around the city. They let anyone go in without checking on credientials.

There was no disturbance as students filed in to class. But militant students of both the right and left vowed to keep up the fight.

Funds Slashed

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — Because of a shortage of funds, organizers of Japan's Expo 70 have decided to curtail the cultural part of the exhibition by dropping three foreign attractions.

However, the majority of the program is still intact. It includes appearances by the Metropolitian Opera of New York, the Soviet Union's Bolshos Opera, Britian's National Theater, the National Ballet of Canada, the New Philharmonic Orchestra of London, the Cleveland Symphony and the New York Philharmonic.

The three that have been dropped are the Royal Danish Ballet, the Comedie Francaise and the Stuttgart Philharmonic.

Kremlin Snub

BELGRADE (AP) — Yugoslavia's Communist Party conference opens tomorrow but the Soviet Union and its East European allies — including Czechoslovakia — are staying home, local Communist sources say.

The Kremlin snub is a result of Yugoslavia's opposition to the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia last year. Romania, which also came out against the invasion, is sending a delegation.

One of the Yugoslav documents to be adopted at the congress assails military intervention in Czechoslovakia and the Soviet doctrine that Moscow can intervene in any Communist country when it considers that the government there is threatened.

French Franc Trouble Held No Emergency

BASEL (AP) — Western Europe's central bankers decided yesterday the French franc's troubles don't constitute an emergency requiring international action but the price of gold continued to rise today on Europe's free markets.

Bullion was selling at $43.75 an ounce in London, 25 cents over Friday's price. Dealers said the demand was normal and the turnover small, indicating the upward movement was caused by the absence of sellers at the lower levels.

On London's foreign exchange market the pound opened a little better—at $2.3908 compared to Friday's $2.3895. But the franc, which pulled sterling down last week, was still shaky.

ZURICH PRICES

In Zurich, the price of gold jumped from $43.40-$43.60 to $43.75-$44, hitting a record high for the second time in four days. One bullion dealer said there was "demand from almost everywhere," but a banker said the buying "did not appear to be really hectic."

The Paris free gold market hit another record—the fifth in the past week—at an equivalent of $48.41 an ounce. This was a hike of 10 cents over the Friday cost. Volume was moderate and few holders of gold were willing to sell.

The West German domestic price of gold was fixed in Frankfurt at a record $42.14, up from $41.88 Friday.

On the Frankfurt money market, both the dollar and the pound sterling were up. The dollar opened at 4.0130 marks, up from Friday's closing price of 4.0100. Sterling opened at 9.5940 compared to 9.5800 Friday.

ENOUGH GOLD

After their regular monthly meeting, several of the bankers said the French government has enough gold to cope with the current flow of money beyond its borders.

They also said France has not asked for help under emergency arrangements the bankers made last month to help countires with money troubles.

However, the present uncertainty about the franc will not be resolved until the French government and the country's labor unions settle their differences over wages. The unions have called a 24-hour general strike tomorrow.

The unions are seeking a 12 per cent wage increase. The government is resisting such a large boost would make French exports so expensive the value of the franc would have to be lowered so French business could compete in international markets.

Savage Attacks Costly To Allies

SAIGON (AP) — Hundreds of enemy troops ambushed about 300 South Vietnamese paratroopers, killing 30 of the government soldiers and wounding 105 in a two-day battle that was still going on late today, the Saigon government said.

The savage battle said was one of five major fights reported in the past 24 hours—at three points near the Cambodian border and to the north and south of Saigon. The dead included 31 Americans and at least 127 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, allied spokesmen said.

TOWNS SHELLED

The Viet Cong also shelled more than 35 towns and allied bases during the night as the enemy's spring offensive continued in its third week. U.S. Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird told newsmen as he left Saigon after a four-day visit that the offensive is a "calculated escalation of the war." But he said it "has not been successful" and the rocket attacks which have been made on Saigon were not significant.

Laird would not reveal the recommendations he is carrying back to President Nixon, except to say that he would request additional funds to strengthen the South Vietnamese armed services. At Da Nang yesterday, he had indicated the amount would be about $70 million.

TROOP REPLACEMENT

The secretary said some American troops would be replaced in due course by South Vietnamese as the latters' armed forces grew stronger. But he would not give any timetable.

Laird said the question of the mutual withdrawal of American and North Vietnamese troops is one of the subjects under consideration in Paris, and consequently he did not feel it proper to comment further in Saigon. But he did say that on the basis of his trip, he could not foresee any circumstances which would require more American forces in Vietnam.

Laird reiterated an earlier statement that continuation of rocket and mortar attacks on Saigon constituted a violation of an understanding with North Vietnam under which the United States stopped bombing North Vietnam on Nov. 1.

"If they continue," he said, "an appropriate response, in either a diplomatic or a military way, will be made."

Meanwhile, the Viet Cong pushed its spring offensive into its third week yesterday, and enemy troops dealt a battalion of South Vietnamese paratroopers and a platoon of American air cavalrymen heavy losses in two border clashes. Another American ambush patrol suffered serious losses when Viet Cong troops outmaneuvered it and sprung their own ambush.

The South Vietnamese paratrooper battalion reported 14 of its men killed and 80 wounded in a savage fight 54 miles northwest of Saigon and three miles from the Cambodian border. American bombers finally drove off the enemy force, but enemy casualties were not known.

About 20 miles to the south, every U.S. air cavalryman in a 40-man platoon was killed or wounded when an estimated 400 troops from the Viet Cong 9th Division ran into the platoon as it was checking the Cambodian border for infiltrators. American reinforcements poured into the battle, but 14 U.S. troops were killed and 31 were wounded. At least 37 of the enemy were killed, the U.S. Command said.

Drug Aiding Parkinson's Treatment

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Several Philadelphia hospitals report dramatic results in the treatment of Parkinson's disease with an experimental drug.

The hospitals report that the drug L-dopa produces virtually complete recovery in about 25 per cent of their Parkinson patients and improvement in most others suffering the debilitating disorder of the nervous system which causes trembling of the hands.

Since L-dopa must be administered indefinitely, however, it is not claimed as a cure.

At Episcopal Hospital, Dr. Jack Greenberg said 10 to 35 patients lost nearly all signs of the disease after they were given the drug over a six month period, and marked improvement in another 10.

The University of Pennsylvania Hospital, which began L-dopa trials last summer, reported that about 25 per cent of 70 to 80 patients given the drug lost nearly all signs of the disease, and about half the remaining patients showed noted improvement.

Parkinson's disease is one of the most prevalent and disabling neurological disorders. There are an estimated one million victims in the United States, with 50,000 new cases diagnosed yearly.

When cells in the body fail to manufacture a chemical called dopamine, corresponding nerve signals to the brain fail. L-dopa breaks down in the body to become the missing dopamine.

Quake Doom Predictions Put Down

PASADENA (UPI) — Wild predictions that California will break off and fall into the sea during a cataclysmic earthquake next month are labeled "clearly ridiculous" by leading seismologists.

Dr. Charles F. Richter, who devised the Richter scale for measuring the magnitude of quakes, recalled yesterday that seismologists at the California Institute of Technology have been knocking down such reports for years.

BACK IN 1965

"A few years ago, in 1965 to be exact, we received spurious earthquake predictions for Jan. 17, Feb. 4, March 17, April 1, April 16, all of May, May 30, and for the Imperial Valley sometime in June or July," Richter said,

"But it was a normal year—none came true."

"If you look at the record," said Dr. James N. Bruno of the CalTech Seismological Laboratory, "These people have been predicting major disasters for years, and they've consistently been wrong. There is no way yet to predict earthquakes although seismologists are seeking ways to accurately estimate and reduce earthquake hazards."

FORECASTS OF DOOM

Bruce, who supervises CalTech's network of seismological station in Southern California, noted that in recent months self-proclaimed oracles have been frightening persons needlessly with forecasts of doom.

"A common characteristic of most of these dire predictions is the idea that a great part of California—all of the territory on the west side of the San Andreas fault—will split off and slide into the sea," Brune "This is clearly ridiculous."

The reports of impending doom in early April are chronicled in popular songs, jokes, and posters depicting Los Angeles sliding into the sea like a modern Atlantis.

QUAKE SONG

One popular song, sung to a calypso beat, warns, "Do you know the swim? You better learn quick, Jim." A tongue-in-cheek commercial by "Sam Andreas" touts Mecca Shores, a housing development in the inland desert where "the beaches are in and the Pacific Ocean will arrive soon."

Brune noted that in recent months a Pasadena clergyman predicted disaster for Wednesday, Feb. 12, that never occurred. Another minister led his congregation out of California for fear of an earthquake last Oct. 12 that never came.

Italy is planning to build a new railroad line from Rome to Florence offering trains traveling up to 150 miles an hour and reducing the running time between the cities to 90 minutes.

Egypt Forces Chief Killed By Israel Fire

GEN. ABDEL MONEIM RIAD
Fatally wounded

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Egypt gave its armed forces chief of staff a hero's funeral today. Israel claimed one of its tank gunners killed him with a direct hit during a three-hour, 25 - minute battle yesterday across the Suez Canal.

Lt. Gen. Abdel Moneim Riad, 50, died near Ismailia, on the edge of the canal's west bank, while inspecting front lines and directing return fire against the Israelis. Nearby, Egyptian oil refineries still blazed from attacks on Saturday and yesterday.

'GOD'S WILL'

"It was God's will," announced the office of President Gamal Abdel Nasser in Cairo.

Israeli officials said in Jersusalem that in addition to killing Riad, "it was possible" the tank gunner may have also hit several other senior officers who were believed accompanying him. Egypt said only Riad was hit.

In a report from Cairo, the Soviet news agency Tass said that Cairo newspapers were reporting today that yesterday's artillery battle was "the biggest battle from the time of the June War of 1967."

Israeli sources said at least three Israeli soldiers were killed in yesterday's fighting and 14 others wounded in the fight along a 75-mile stretch of the canal.

A communique issued in Jerusalem said tanks and artillery were leveled to fire across the 150-yard wide canal, smashing at least nine huge fuel storage tanks containing 27,000 tons of fuel at the Nasr refineries, south of Suez.

FIVE-HOUR BARRAGE

Yesterday's battle followed a five - hour barrage Saturday across the canal where, according to Israeli officials, a fuel tanker and four oil storage tanks were still ablaze.

In Beirut the Palestinian guerrillas, Al - Fatah, today claimed their commandos had shelled three Israeli settlements and one town near the Sea of Galilee with heavy rockets.

Preliminary estimates showed Israeli casualties were "high" in both lives and properties, the statement said.

In the wake of the two-day battle, foreign ministers or their representatives from 13 Arab League nations and the Palestine liberation organization met in Cairo to discuss policy towards Israel.

High on the conference agenda were discussions of recent Arab world reports the United States and Britain planned to sell tanks to Israel.

A blizzard means winds of at least 35 miles an hour, much snow and temperatures of 20 degrees or lower, to the Weather Bureau. A severe blizzard requires 45-mile-an-hour winds, snow and 10-degree temperature.

Peking Says Russ Masking Internal Fuss

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China charged today that the Soviet Union provoked the Manchurian border clash March 2 to divert the attention of Russians who are massing for a "revolution" against "Soviet fascist rule."

Some Western analysts have suggested that Peking provoked the bloody fight for a similar reason—to make the Chinese forget internal dissensions and rally behind Mao Tse-tung by raising the specter of a "Soviet threat."

Bolstering this view was an announcement from Peking yesterday that Red Chinese militiamen and peasants are patrolling with frontier guards "in preparedness for war."

Press reports in Hong Kong and London said Peking has put 5 million men on an armed alert. The official Chinese announcement gave no exact figures.

Each side has accused the other of starting the March 2 battle on a disputed island in the Ussuri River, which separates the Soviet Far East and Manchuria. Moscow said 31 of its soldiers were killed and 14 were wounded. China has not released casualty figures.

Six Slain

PUERTO MONTT, Chile (UPI) — Police sent to evict hundreds of squatters from illegally occupied land shot and wounded 34 yesterday, officials said.

A mob estimated at about 2,000 attacked the police with stones and iron bars. When one policeman was wounded by gunfire, police began shooting into the crowd.

One of those charged with instigating the clash was Luis Espinoza, a newly elected Socialist Party member of congress.

HEW Moves Against The New Segregation

The U.S Department of Health, Education and Welfare has finally moved to halt the promotion of racism on college campuses through creation of autonomous "black studies departments."

The department's civil rights office notified Antioch College at Yellow Springs, Ohio, that it must desegregate its Afro-American Studies Institute by the beginning of the summer quarter or lose federal funds.

It has followed this up with a memorandum to be sent to all colleges in the United States, warning that autonomous black studies departments violate the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

HEW HOLDS that a black studies department may not discriminate on a racial basis either in the hiring of teachers or the admission of students.

"If the university says that only a black professor can teach a course, it's illegal," says an HEW announcement. "We are going to make it very plain to all universities that they cannot segregate facilities."

This action by HEW points up the most blatant violation of the Civil Rights Act in our educational system — one in which college administrators and trustees have collaborated, either in a confused belief that they were helping the Negro, or as a yielding to threats and ultimatums.

As we said in this column on May 2 of last year:

"Everyone who condones a double standard based on color is racist — whether that double standard involves special status for white or for black . . .

"There is no place in democratic America for special treatment for anyone based on his skin color, his religion, or his antecedents."

That is the basis of the Civil Rights Act. It is the basis on which the National Association for Advancement of Colored People worked hard for many years to gain equal treatment — and on which the NAACP now threatens to bring suit against colleges setting up separate black studies departments.

THESE DEPARTMENTS, however, are not the only means used by schools to increase racism in the mistaken belief they are helping to end it. Racism is promoted daily in the schools in more subtle ways.

For Instance: Many English classes concentrate on books promoting black separatism for reading and writing assignments.

For Instance: Reed School holds a "Blue-Eyed Day," followed by a "Brown-Eyed Day." On the first, children with blue eyes are mistreated and given all the menial chores; on the second, they get their revenge on those with brown eyes.

For Instance: Black pupils in some schools are permitted to use words which would bring reprimands to white children — thus subtly degrading their race by the implication they cannot otherwise express themselves.

For Instance: Second graders at a Sausalito school are taken to visit headquarters of the Black Panthers, who advocate a separate black government — but not to visit the NAACP, which dedicates its efforts to equality for all under one government.

Such attitudes as these activities show cannot be ended by government action. But at least, by moving against autonomous black studies departments, HEW has helped put in perspective the new segregation, which has invaded our schools waving the banner of civil rights which it in fact would destroy.

Will Nixon Feel Now Is The Time To Push For Atlantic Union?

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Will Richard Nixon as President act on his conviction that patching up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization just would not be good enough?

Will he take bold initiative on his long-held view that the Atlantic Alliance should be an Atlantic Union?

Mr. Nixon has strongly backed the proposed congressional resolution to invite interested NATO countries to prepare the way to turn the present military alliance into a federal union.

When the Atlantic Union Resolution was before the House Foreign Affairs Committee in 1966, he spoke for it:

"It is fitting that the United States, the world's first truly federal government, should be a main force behind the effort to find a basis for a broad federation of free Atlantic nations."

As President, he can turn promise into performance.

IN 1966, Mr. Nixon noted that "the concept of an 'Atlantica' is at present only a dream, but, in the age of the rocket, dreams become reality with a speed which is difficult to imagine."

On his recent European trip the President found ample evidence that every nation he visited, except France, wanted to be partners in a more unified Western Europe.

Three years ago Mr. Nixon was "deeply disturbed" by the "renewed nationalism of France" and on his latest trip he found President de Gaulle as nationalist-minded as ever.

But in 1966 Mr. Nixon said that "by adopting a measure such as the Atlantic Union Resolution we could give new impetus to the spirit of federalism in Western Europe."

And there is more support for further unifying the Atlantic community now than there was three years ago. Most European nations now outside the Common Market — Britain, Scandinavia, Greece, Switzerland and others — want to join, and all the Common Market countries, except France, want them to join.

In the United States there is a wide political base to encourage the President to actively help the move for a citizens' convention to see what first steps can be taken to enable the free nations of the Atlantic world who want to join closer together to do so.

TIME WAS when it was venturesome, even perilous, for American political leaders to show that they favored any moves toward a federation of like-minded free nations.

No longer. And President Nixon would have no reason to fear any serious political opposition from either the responsible right or left if he put his prestige behind the Atlantic Resolution.

Few, if any, congressional proposals have won such wide and prestigious backing as the Atlantic Resolution. It is supported by nearly every national Republican leader — Dwight Eisenhower, Mr. Nixon, Nelson Rockefeller, Barry Goldwater, George Romney, William Scranton, Charles Percy, Mark Hatfield and others. It was supported by the contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination — Hubert Humphrey, Robert Kennedy and Eugene McCarthy.

It probably wouldn't take either courage or daring for President Nixon to put himself behind an Atlantic convention. But it would take something because the tendency of many presidents, once they are in office, is to feel that it is unwise to rock the boat in foreign relations.

But the President may well feel on the basis of his trip to Europe that now is the time to act more boldly if the Atlantic world is, in Mr. Nixon's own words, to respond adequately to "the incredible change which is going on in the world around us."

The Uses Of Pre-Trial Publicity As Determined By Bench And Bar

(Reprinted from Wall Street Journal)

We're happy to note that a committee of the American Bar Association has recommended that the Louisiana Bar investigate the conduct of New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison; it will be interesting to see if disciplinary action does result. It is, among other things, an excellent test of the bar's asserted ability to police pre-trial publicity.

Mr. Garrison has now had his day in court, and the jury made short work of his case that businessman Clay Shaw conspired in the assassination of President Kennedy. The upshot, indeed, has been to vindicate his opponent. The Warren report has never looked better; this long and well-financed investigation of its findings turned up nothing new.

SO IT IS with no little irony that we remember the typical picture of the press painted in the debate over pre-trial publicity. The press, it was argued, was an intruder in the judicial process, creating a vindictive atmosphere likely to convict the unjustly accused. In the Garrison episode, the truth seems more nearly the opposite. Any poisoning of the public atmosphere came from an official of the courts who indicted an innocent man for conspiring to commit the most notorious murder of our times, then repeatedly recited in public the supposed details of the conspiracy. And who spoke out against him? What he called "eastern news agencies. . . ."

While Mr. Garrison was repeating his various conspiracy theories, the bar had very little to say about their obvious prejudicial effect. This newspaper found that a spokesman for the Reardon committee said he had thought about these implications of the Garrison investigation, but was unwilling to be quoted about them. Very little in the legal maneuvering, moreover, suggested that the bar and bench had much ability to put their own house in order.

IN APRIL of 1967, the trial judge, following the spirit of the Reardon report, ordered all participants not to talk about the case. But in May, Mr. Garrison was on television proclaiming, for example, "Purely and simply it's a case of former employes of the CIA, a large number of them Cubans, having a venomous reaction from the 1961 Bay of Pigs episode. Certain individuals with a fusion of interests in regaining Cuba assassinated the President."

If any direct action was taken to silence the district attorney, we have not heard about it. However, two days after NBC broadcast its denunciation of Mr. Garrison, the judge called together newsmen to warn them about unnamed persons being "deplorable and contemptuous of the court orders." . . . In September, Mr. Garrison again elaborated his theories in an interview with Playboy magazine.

IN ANOTHER notorious case, meanwhile, the attorney defending James Earl Ray in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King was cited for contempt on the grounds of improper publicity. The offense was that one of his investigators complained to the press about the condition of Ray's imprisonment, a matter obviously irrelevant to guilt or innocence.

Is this, then, what restrictions on pre-trial publicity are to mean in practice: That a lawyer for the defense may not sneeze in public, but that a prosecutor with popular support in his home jurisdiction can take inflammatory parts of his case to such fine legal forums as Playboy?

Planner's Facts About Lagoon

In view of your obvious interest in reporting the events relating to Bolinas Lagoon, I would like to correct a few of your facts, in the interests of proper public information.

Contrary to your recent statements, the federal government has never rejected Bolinas Lagoon as a harbor of refuge site, nor has there been any statement that no federal money would be spent on Bolinas Lagoon. Bolinas is still listed as a primary site in the federal "Chain of Harbors of Refuge for the Northern California Coast. . ." The status of the Corps of Engineers' study is, at present, in a state of limbo, awaiting the results of the present local study program before completing their review. The present U. S. President's federal budget includes an amount of $10,000 for further study of the Bolinas Channel mouth — a strange inclusion if the federal government has, in fact, decided to spend no more money in Bolinas Bay!

The remedial dredging program in the Bolinas Channel was decided upon after numerous and growing complaints from constituents of the Bolinas Harbor District to the harbor board. Contrary to your statements, the board of supervisors in fact voted in favor of this remedial program last year. . .

The master plan for Bolinas Lagoon, reviewed in 1966, included an estimate of $2.2 million — not $22 million as you report. An error of ten times, however, is fairly consistent with the size of error in other reports pertaining to Bolinas Lagoon which have been circulating lately! . . .

The plan reflected a degree of development that would be necessary only if the harbor district had to face restoring the water circulation of Bolinas Lagoon, vital to its environmental quality, out of revenues from facilities alone. Other solutions, entailing much less actual development, consisted of various combinations of grant funds, which for their success required the cooperative efforts of federal, state, county, local and conservation interests working in harmony. I strongly recommended that course of action. For the past two years I have dedicated my efforts toward the completion of a comprehensive program of scientific analysis aimed at determining exactly "what makes Bolinas Lagoon tick," with the objective of planning for the preservation of its environment. As the hail of political flak bursts around us, this program is two-thirds complete! . . .

County Trade Benefits Cities

Re: Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen renewed drive to relieve city residents of paying county taxes for services they don't receive.

We are a family of eight, and about 99 per cent of all items we purchase are in Marin County cities. The 5 per cent sales tax we pay to these cities is forwarded to the State Franchise Tax Board, then a big big portion is returned for the cities to expend. In all fairness, I am wondering which way the inequity exists.

It rubs me wrong to read that Mill Valley Mayor (Dean N.) Meyer insinuates that they have a better chance of support since four of the five supervisors are former city councilmen. Who will lobby for we residents of Los Ranchitos, San Rafael Meadows, Northbridge the rest of Gallinas Valley — in fact for all the unincorporated area? If it is proven that we are receiving more than we are paying for, we shall ante up more. Will you city people do likewise?

(Editor's note: The cities receive one cent of the sales tax. On sales in the unincorporated areas, the same portion goes to the county.)

Why $103,000 For Runway Lights?

Last week I was informed that Marin County had contracted $103,000 for lighting and runway improvements at Gnoss Field, Novato. Being a member of the general aviation community, I am very interested and concerned with improvements at Marin County Airport. However, I'm also a taxpayer, and I fail to see where that much money is necessary for these improvements.

Enclosed is a clipping from the March issue of Flying Magazine advertising FAA approved runway, threshold, taxiway, and rotating beacon lights, the total cost being $486.20.

Of course, I don't know the extent of the runway improvements planned, but I would be very interested in seeing an itemized list of all the services being provided Marin County for $103,000.

Once, at a banquet, he was presented with a cane by the chairman, who rhapsodized, "The mahogany from which this cane is fashioned is as impregnable as the rock-bound coast of Maine, and as beautiful as the sunkissed shores of Hawaii." Mr. Coolidge arose, examined the cane for a moment, then turned to his expectant audience. "Birch," he said loudly — and sat down.

Congressman Rips Secrecy From U.S. Gift To France

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S. C., chairman of the powerful House Armed Services Committee, is taking the Nixon Administration at its word that it is pursuing an "open government" policy in making significant information available to the public.

When a top Defense Department official attempted to suppress data relating to De Gaulle's eviction of NATO from France, Rivers brusquely "declassified" it.

The sharply rebuffed official is Ralph Earle, acting assistant secretary for international security affairs. The information he sought to secrete relates to some $378 million in claims for a wide variety of military installations the U. S. left in France when De Gaulle booted out NATO two years ago.

NO SECURITY or any other sensitive matters are involved. Earle's insistence on secrecy was just another instance of quite common bureaucratic high-handness.

It not only got short shrift from Rivers, but he tersely rebuked Earle for the government's prolonged failure to vigorously press for payment of the huge French obligation. Said Rivers:

"You have classified this information as 'confidential', I can see no reason for such a classification. It seems to me you have failed completely to make any progress with the French government concerning this problem, and I think the American people are entitled to know."

For that purpose, Rivers gave a copy of Earle's letter to this column — which initiated the inquiry about the long-pending French debt.

In his reply to Rivers, Earle did two things:

1. Disclosed the heretofore unknown fact that total claims by all NATO countries for vacated property in France exceed $671 million. Of this huge amount, U.S. claims are $378 million.

2. In support of his claim for secrecy contended "our chances to collect would be diminished if we now air the details in public. For this reason these details should, we believe, not be made public at this particular time."

Significantly omitted from Earle's letter was any hint as to what is being done about requiring payment from the DeGaulle regime for the numerous vacated NATO properties—from which the French are profiting handsomely.

From other sources, it can be authoritatively reported that nothing is being done.

STILL LIVING IT UP — Thanks to Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., Rep. Adam Clayton Powell is now handsomely ensconced in one of the plushest offices of the huge $100 million Rayburn House Office Building — despite his being readmitted to Congress only on condition he paid a $25,000 fine for alleged misuse of public funds.

In the last Congress, the flamboyant Harlemite was barred completely and stripped of his chairmanship of the prestigious Education and Labor Committee. While seating him this year, the new Congress cancelled his 22 years of seniority and he now ranks as a rookie.

Notwithstanding, he has one of the choicest offices on Capitol Hill — although he rarely uses it, as he has been in the capital only a few times since the session began early in January.

Bagley Introduces Bail System Overhaul

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Efforts got under way in the Legislature today to reshape the state bail system and take a new turn in how alcoholics are dealt with by courts.

Republican Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael, proposed legislation seeking to free many persons, usually poor, from jail on their own word that they will show up for trial.

The aim, he said, is to make sure "that a court must release a defendant on his own recognizance if the court believes that the defendant will appear for trial."

If the court won't let the defendant go, his status would have to be reviewed within three days and if the court still wouldn't free the prisoner, or reduce his bail, it would have to state its reasons.

The current bail system, Bagley contended, is "checkbook justice. . .The traditional money use of bail is a prime example of a practice which has proven unnecessary, ineffective and discriminatory against the poor. . . The concept of equal justice cannot tolerate the continuation of such a system."

A Democrat, Assemblyman Alan Sieroty of Beverly Hills, put forth a bill to take most cases of drunkenness out of the criminal courts and treat them instead as a public health problem.

That would unclog the courts of their biggest non-traffic case, relieve the pressure on overcrowded jails and speed up the administration of justice generally, he said.

It would also be more humane for the alcoholic, Sieroty declared. He remarked: "The use of the criminal process to control alcohol abuse has failed. It has failed to deter chronic drunkenness and it has failed to rehabilitate chronic alcoholics, In addition, the present system is very costly, and it places a burden on the police, the courts and the jails."

His legislation would require every county to set up a treatment center where drunks could be held for up to six months of specialized treatment. Sieroty said he woule propose that part of the cost be paid by a raise in the statewide liquor taxes.

Bond Idea For Cal-Vet Financing

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman Ernest N. Mobley, R-Sanger, said today he will ask the Legislature to take another look at a measure authorizing the sale of revenue debentures as an alternate way to finance the Cal-Vet farm and home loan program.

"The reason for reintroducing the bill is obvious," he said. "The California bond market has collapsed."

There still is outstanding $200 million in Cal-Vet bond authorization, but a saturated bond market has made sale of the issue doubtful in the immediate future.

Banks are not now permitted to underwrite revenue debentures. Mobley said his bill, defeated last year, was turned down partly because banking interests feared it would interfere with the sale of general obligation bonds.

Mobley said he was afraid that if revenue debentures are not authorized to help finance the Cal-Vet loans it would mean "a costly end to the eminently eminently successful 47 - year - old program..."

Drug Suspects

WE SEW SEATS

Car seats. With split seams.

For example . . . the little VW is a mighty fine car. It's put together by strong mechanics. They have contests to see who can tighten the bolts best. They never come apart.

Except at the seams. We sew them up. With dacron thread. And they never come apart!

(Sam, incidentally, pioneered the use of dacron thread in the automotive field in Marin. Just one of our many firsts.)

We sew seams for Fords, Chevs. and Plymouths, TRs, MGAs, and Alfas. And many more, too.

We also install seat covers, auto glass and convertible tops, carpets, headrests and armrests. And many more.

Grand Theft Denied In Car Lease Case

Brian Philip Tillotson, 23, of San Rafael, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a grand theft charge. A preliminary hearing was set for March 27.

Tillotson allegedly committed the theft by failing to make payments on a car he leased from Small World Travel in Mill Valley.

Reform Of State's Ballot Initiative Process Sought

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Reform of California's ballot initiative process was proposed today by a legislator who complained recent campaigns were more a product of public relations than grass - roots public sentiment.

Assemblyman John F. Dunlap, D-Napa, put forth legislation that would make it harder to qualify initiatives for the ballot, and require more detailed reports on who is paying for the campaigns.

His proposals came as the Legislature began the 10th week of its session with several lawmakers attending a British - American legislative conference in Oxford, England.

Dunlap's call to change the ballot initiative procedures reflected the sentiments of dozens of lawmakers who complained last year about Prop. 9.

It would have drastically cut the amount and use of the local property tax, facing legislators with the task of making up the money that would have been lost. It led the Legislature to put a smaller rival proposal at the top of the ballot as Prop 1-A. That passed, while Prop. 9 lost.

Prop. 9 was sponsored by Los Angeles County Assessor Philip Watson, but foes of the measure said during the campaign it was a plot by landlords and others to get a huge tax break.

Dunlap said "this measure was allowed to qualify under current law without anyone knowing who paid to get it on the ballot."

His legislation would require proponents of such a measure to reveal their financial support and how much it cost to get signatures to qualify for the statewide vote.

At present, it takes 520,276 signatures of registered voters to qualify an initiative that would change the State Constitution. Some 325,173 signatures are needed for an initiative that simply changes a law passed by the Legislature.

In recent years, only paid, professional petition circulators have succeeded in rounding up the necessary signatures to put inititatives before the general electorate.

Dunlap proposed to require full, specific disclosure by initiative organizers of who circulated their petitions, and how much it cost.

He also would require that petitions could be signed only in public places, such as fire stations, schools or courthouses. At present, they can be signed anywhere, such as on street corners or at supermarkets.

Dunlap commented, "If the legislature and the governor truly are irresponsible to the public needs, the public will act. It will attend in mass to the nearest public building and sign on the dotted line. On the other hand, if there is not true need for the legislation it may not be pushed before an unwanting public through signatures obtained by street-corner solicitation."

His proposal would require two constitutional amendments, which need approval by two - thirds of each house before going on the 1970 ballot for final decision by voters.

Don't Throw Away Chance For A Little Bit Of Relief

Don't throw away any chance to save about $75 in next year's taxes.

A yellow form entitled "The 1969 Claim for Homeowners Property Tax Exemption" was mailed to some 50,000 Marin homeowners about a week ago. Apparently, some people thought this was just a duplicate of another claim form which they filled out in January.

The January form was a pink one entitled "1968 Claim for Homeowners Property Tax Relief Payment."

They are two different documents, and both must be filed with the county assessor by April 15. If you inadvertently tossed out the second (yellow) form, you can still apply to the homeowners exemption section of the county assessor's office in the Civic Center for another form.

IT'S ALL VERY confusing, but don't get too angry because the whole thing resulted from Proposition 1-A which the majority of us passed last November.

In a nutshell, this is what happens:

1. The 1968 claim (pink form) is to get a $70 refund for your 1968-69 taxes. By the time we approved 1-A in November, the tax rolls had long been completed. There was no other way to give homeowners tax relief for that year except by refund. The $70 refund will come directly from the state about June.

2. For the 1969-70 fiscal year, there is time to give homeowners tax relief by tax exemption. That's what the 1969 claim (yellow form) will do. Each homeowner who files and qualifies will get a tax exemption on $750 worth of assessed value. In other words, if your home has an assessed value of $7,750, you'd be required to pay taxes on only $7,000 assessed value. That means a saving of about $75.

We've heard comments that the whole thing is silly — "you impose heavy taxes, then turn around and give some of it back."

True. But here's the difference: The $70 refund for 1968 and the annual exemption of $750 from 1969 onward are both reimbursed by the state. Therefore, a part of the tax burden (about $75) is shifted from the homeowner to the state. The state fund also comes from the people, but from all sources like industry, land, income, and various sales taxes.

The net effect is that part of the tax burden is shifted away from the homeowner and spread among other sources. This carries out the aim of Proposition 1-A, which was to give some relief to the "overburdened homeowner."

PERSISTENCE is apparently paying off in the case of control over logging in the county.

Almost everybody figured the state had pre-empted the field of logging, and the county could do nothing about it. But conservationists insisted, and the result is a proposed new ordinance setting up a district (natural resources protective district) where logging would be prohibited.

If the district is adopted and applied, then the corollary should be that taxes will be reduced in such a district to reflect the fact that trees there are no longer potential lumber and therefore cannot be assessed as such.

A BATTLE (?) is brewing between supporters of the private Smith Ranch Airport and nearby residents who are concerned about the growing activity at the strip, which has been operating without a permit.

The new aviation commission just came out in support of the Smith Ranch Airport. Former Aviation Commissioner Ben Ostlind, who was replaced in January, was one jump ahead. He was supporting the Smith Ranch Airport all along, even while he was a member of the commission, by having his plane tied down there, instead of at the county airport north of Novato.

The Long, Desperate Quest For What We've Always Had

Years ago in my roamings, I happened to be in Port au Prince, Haiti, with time on my hands — days full of time. Things were not going well for me. I was restless. Having nothing better to do, I spent hours prowling about the city exploring the alleys and quays, the marketplace, and occasionally, to cool off in the heat of the day, I would stop in some dingy bar for a bottle of beer.

It was Tim Kane, my friend (a coffee buyer, he was), who finally suggested, perhaps to get me out from under his feet — for when I wasn't about the city I was in his office — that I should visit Yanni Yanni.

YANNI YANNI was an old Greek, at that time 85 years old — give or take a year or two — who lived far up country above the Artibonnete Valley, the valley with the banana plantations, past the dusty, ramshackle, corrugated-tin village of St. Marc, up the rolling coastal land to Gonaives and beyond, beyond where there are no roads of any kind and you have to use a guide to take you over the forested hills, riding a donkey.

As Tim talked of Yanni Yanni, I found my interest skyrocketing. I had to see the old man of Gonaives.

The rest of that day I spent arranging for a jeep and making other preparations for the trip north. And while doing this, I discovered many of the city people who knew Yanni Yanni and they all spoke warmly of the old man.

Twice a year, I was told, he would make a pilgrimage into Port au Prince, bringing with him a long string of bulkily loaded donkeys, all carrying natural sponges taken from their sea beds in the Gulf of Gonaives. He would sell his sponges, buy supplies, visit friends, and then return to his distant, desolate coastal corner, but not before finding a new native girl to replace the one he had brought back to the city.

THE DRIVE to Gonaives took a full day and I spent the next making arrangements for a guide to take me to the place of Yanni Yanni.

Daan of the third day found us urging a pair of scrubby, filthy donkeys over a narrow trail and by late afternoon we came down out of the hills to a long, curved, silver beach bordered on the land side by green and copper-colored sea-grape trees.

Amidst a grove of tall bananas, waving pandanus and sturdy lignum vitae stood the house of Yanni Yanni. A large, airy house it was, and it had a heavy thatched roof and a broad, open veranda across the front. A wide path from the house cut directly through the grove to the beach and sea.

Yanni Yanni was expecting us, thanks to the efficiency of the Haitian jungle "telegraph." The old man was a warm and cordial host and, though I had planned to spend only one day with him, he insisted I stay longer and I spent three.

HE WAS an amazing man, with energy and vigor incredible even for a man many years his junior. He had traveled the world, had served with a Spanish merchantman before the turn of the century, owned a bar in Singapore, worked in the digging of the Panama Canal, fought on the side of the British in the Boer War, and once, during the Chicago days of the '20s, he ran bootleg whiskey in a Dusenberg. And now, sponges in Haiti!

At the end of the third day, late in the night while sitting before a drowsy kerosene lantern, I couldn't help asking:

"Tell me, Old Man, what are you looking for?"

He smiled, then threw back his head and laughed.

"Nothing that I haven't always had," he said. "Just a reasonably comfortable shelter, a decent meal once a day, a good woman to care for me — and something worth fighting for . . ."

Auto Stolen

Sydney R. Greve of 14 Mount Diablo Circle, Marinwood, told Marin County sheriff's deputies that someone stole his 1958 Rambler, license DEL 220, from the Marinwood overpass at Highway 101 between 8 a.m. and 6:40 p.m. Thursday.

County Youth 'Seed Money' Requested

A request by the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission for $2,000 in "seed money" to provide matching funds for youth activities will be considered by the board of supervisors at tomorrow's all-day meeting, beginning at 9 a.m.

In other business, Joseph B. Leach, director of county data processing, will ask for a contract authorizing the county to convert from International Business Machines equipment to Radio Corp. of America computers. Conversion would probably take place in September, said Leach.

Parks and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske will submit for review a draft letter to the state Department of Parks and Recreation giving county support for state acquisition of a scenic easement on Dr. Ethel Righetti's property along Bolinas Ridge. A logging firm from Coos Bay, Ore., has purchased timber rights on the Righetti Ranch.

In the afternoon, residents of Bel Aire Estates will present a petition opposing the establishment of a county service area to pay for maintenance of a neighborhood park.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost will give a progress report on a slide on the property of Frank M. Gelardi at Shoreline Highway and Almonte Boulevard.

A hearing scheduled on a new ordinance to control houseboat marinas may be postponed because Supervisors Michael Wornum and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. will be absent.

Anthony Alexander Burgess, of 32 Front Street, Apt. 2, was arrested by San Rafael police on a complaint by the girl's father. He was held without bail for a court appearance today.

The father told police he had found his daughter in Burgess's apartment after a waitress at a Sausalito night spot told him his daughter was there.

Police said they were called to El Portal and Bridgeway at 2 a.m. where a disturbance was reported, and found Holtz screaming obscenities. He reportedly became abusive when police tried to quiet him, and when arrested, kicked, bit and spit at officers, then kicked open a locked patrol car door after being placed inside the car.

He was jailed in lieu of $3,000 bail on suspicion of disturbing the peace, battery on police officers and destroying jails — the latter count for damaging the prowl car door. He was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

SIGNS

I. McNabb, community relations official for Western Gas and Oil Co. of San Francisco.

Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. agreed that such a ban "comes under the general philosophy of censorship."

Trade name advertisement such as Coca Cola signs are a type of billboard, replied Mrs. T. J. Donnelly, representing the Marin Conservation League.

"What's the difference between Berkeley Farm Products and Coca Cola?" asked Commissioner Michael Praszker. The new ordinance proposed that trade name advertisement be banned except dairy farm signs.

The business representatives also objected to banning readerboards at shopping centers.

Commissioners Eugene R. Trombley and Walter F. Freitas sympathized with their objection.

The commissioners decided tentatively that readerboards and trade names be allowed, but limited to a certain percentage, perhaps 25 per cent, of the total sign space allowed.

The commissioners had several more pages of the lengthy new ordinance to discuss in their paragraph by paragraph reading.

Man Arrested In Auto Theft

A San Francisco man was booked into Marin County jail today on suspicion of auto theft, altering a vehicle registration plate and possession of stolen property.

Sid Charles Terrell, 19, of 1821 Oak Street, was held without bail for an appearance in Marin Municipal Court today. San Rafael police stopped him at 411 Fourth Street shortly after midnight because the car had a missing tailight.

Police said Terrell had a blank draft card from Texas in his possession and the registration plate on the vehicle's motor was missing.

A passenger, Robert Arnold Mach, 20, of Carlsbad, N.M., was released. Terrell is formerly of Carlsbad.

Boy, 15, Nabbed In Drug Probe

A 15-year-old San Anselmo boy was arrested by San Rafael police early Sunday on suspicion of possession of narcotics paraphernalia and violation of curfew.

Police said he was in a car driven by Robert Rubin of 20 A Warner Court, San Rafael, which they were stopped for a minor traffic violation at 3:41 a.m. Rubin, who told police he ahd picked the youth up hitchhiking, was released.

Police said Shepherd was acting strangely and a search turned up a pipe and a matchbook "crutch" of the type used for smoking marijuana.

Shepherd was cited to Juvenile Hall.

Santa Rosa Pair Hurt In Accident

Two Santa Rosa men were injured yesterday when their car hit a bank on Atherton Avenue east of Novato, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The accident occurred at 5:05 p.m. when a car driven by John R. Rice, 23, of 2941 College Avenue, went off the road while trying a U-turn. Rice was treated at Novato General Hospital for cuts on the right ear and temple. His passenger, Spencer J. Sarah Lawrence Girls Ask More Men On Campus

BRONXVILLE, N. Y. (UPI)— Administrators at exclusive Sarah Lawrence College faced a deadline today in a "rich girls' revolt" by a student minority demanding more men on campus and other "non-negotiable" concessions.

Forty to 100 of the college's 600 students, who have held the administration building or six days, presented an ultimatum to the administration Saturday night demanding action by this morning on a series of changes in the rules.

The sitins demanded that the predominantly female college, which opened its doors to men only a year ago, increase the number of males on campus to 50 per cent of the student body. There are now 24 male "coeds" at Sarah Lawrence, and about 90 have applied for admission next year.

Driving Case To Higher Court

Arthur Harry Collbran, 57, of 31 Barbaree Way, Tiburon, has been bound over to Marin Superior Court on a charge of felony drunken driving stemming from a head-on collision Dec. 9 on Tiburon Boulevard.

He was ordered by Judge Peter Allen Smith to appear March 18 in Superior Court for arraignment.

Seriously injured in the accident were the driver of the other car, Cabell Gwathmey, 66, his wife, Marion, 60, of Belvedere, and a passenger, Marie Shelton, 70, also of Belvedere.

Collbran was treated for cuts on his right hand and bruised nose but was not hospitalized.

JOSE MOYA DEL PINO
Spanish artist dies

OBITUARIES

Jose Moya Del Pino Dies At 78

Requiem Mass for Jose Moya del Pino, Spanish artist and Bay Area art educator who lived in Ross, was offered today at the Chapel of the Dominican Fathers in Kentfield, with burial in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Moya del Pino died Friday at his home on Laurel Grove Avenue following a long illness which had prevented him from painting since 1961. He was 78.

A native of Priego, Spain, near Granada, he began painting when he was six. He studied at the National School of Fine Arts in Madrid from 1908 until 1911 when he won the Prix de Rome, a scholarship to study art in Rome.

However, he preferred Paris and studied there at the Colarossi School from 1911 to the middle of World War I when he returned to Spain, and was commissioned by the Spanish government to copy all of the paintings of Velasquez for a traveling exhibit to the United States.

He began that tour in 1925 and reached San Francisco in 1927, a year the Spanish government fell and could no longer afford to finance the exhibit. Del Pino gave the paintings to the University of California at Berkeley and settled in the Bay Area.

He painted in oil, tempra, fresco and water color and did about 30 murals in post offices, homes, businesses. One of his murals is at the Ross School. He was also a portrait painter and his subjects ranged from King Alphonso XIII of Spain to Katharine Branson and Caroline Livermore in Marin.

He taught at the California School of Fine Arts, San Francisco, from 1937 to 1940, gave private instruction in portrait painting and was in instructor in the College of Marin adult evening school in the 1950s and early 1960s.

He was the founding vice president of the Marin Art and Garden Center, a member of the Artists Equity Association, the San Francisco Art Association, the Marin Society of Artists, Sigma Delta Pi, a Spanish honorary, and the Family Club and Merchants Exchange Club of San Francisco.

Survivors are his wife, Helen Moya del Pino; two daughters, Mrs. Giovanni Coda-Nunziante of Naples, Italy and Mrs. Ernest Kun of San Francisco; a son, Clemente Miguel Moya of Sloughhouse, Scaramento County; a sister, Maria Moya del Pino of Ross, and four grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Jose Moya del Pino Library at the Marin Art and Garden Center or to the donor's favorite charity.

Treatment Promptly Relieves Pain, Itching In Most Cases

Scranton, Pa. Mrs. J. Straniere, Jr. of this city writes: "When I had our son, I got hemorrhoids and how painful. My husband bought Preparation H for me. The next day, I was much better —just after using it once."

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases—Preparation H® actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced.

There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

Big moment: John receives the award from Lt. Governor Edwin Reinicke

The Story of a Winner

–and how he got that way

John Taylor, I-J carrier, chosen one of six top newspaperboys in California

Newspaperboys don't come any better than young John Taylor, I-J carrier of San Rafael. Because none have gone any further. First, John was named Carrier-of-the-Year for the I-J–out of 825 other youngsters. Now, he's been chosen one of the six best newspaperboys in the state–out of 80,000. The judges reviewed his scholastic record, his route record, his outside activities and the essay required of him. No question, he HAD to be judged a winner.

This is the second successive year that an I-J carrier has been named for this statewide honor–which makes the I-J the only newspaper with boys who've repeated two years in a row! We don't presume to claim that the I-J's special training program was responsible for this unusual record. But it does show that newspaperboy training attracts young fellows like John who bring a genuine capacity for service and responsibility to the job. The training brings out their best . . . and they bring their best to the training!

Not easy! Young John was selected from 80,000 newspaperboys in the state

LIKE ALL I-J newspaperboys, John Taylor is an independent businessman. He manages his route, assumes responsibility for customer service, collects, pays his bills. A merchant who delivers!

ONE of the main strengths of the I-J's carrier training program is that each boy (like John here) has a supervisor who works with him . . . counseling, advising, helping each youngster develop in ability.

WHAT does John's father say about it? "I can't think of any training so beneficial to a boy. It's really terrific the way the I-J people work with youngsters to help them achieve their best."

Some of the values of the I-J's unusual training program

- ☆ Develops initiative, responsibility
- ☆ Encourages punctuality and service
- ☆ Develops the skills of managing
- ☆ Encourages the boys to save

Young America's Use Of Drugs Puzzling, Confusing To Parents

story about various drugs do young people and children know?

How can you tell if someone is smoking marijuana, or taking LSD or other drugs?

Why did the great turn-on with drugs come along now?

What benefits do drug users say they find? What harms may various drugs cause?

Just what are all these drugs, new and old?

What should parents do if teen-agers or college students become dependent on drugs?

What is the argument all about over legalization of marijuana, or reducing the penalties for possessing it?

There are of course no simple, pat answers to these and other questions.

But knowledgeable authorities in medicine, psychiatry, education, drug research, and law enforcement do offer numerous guidelines, and advice on specific things you can do.

These are spelled out in detail in later stories in this series.

For a majority of young people, observers remark, the encounter with mind-affecting drugs appears as a flirtation, a one time or once-in-a-while event, with users sure they can take it or leave it.

But some authorities say such experimentation can amount to drug roulette — that some young people particularly susceptible to various drugs, can become dependent, and get hurt, badly hurt, from what they intended as a rather innocent adventure.

The "drug scene" is part of a larger one. For the truth is that American society is heavily a pill society. Its people for years have been swallowing billions of pills and capsules, including tranquilizers.

American society tolerates alcohol and nicotine, both of which technically are drugs, and millions of people abuse both of them. It has long had a corps of addicts hooked on heroin or opium, but fewer now than 30 or 40 years ago.

Many among a huge variety of drugs are taken legitimately, prescribed for medical benefits. But there is also a great black market among some potent drugs, and illegal manufacture or importation.

Each year, says the Food and Drug Administration, billions of sedative and pep pills are diverted to illegal use and ultimate misuse. That means enough pills or tablets per person per year to "keep everyone in the United States awake and jumping for a week, and enough barbiturates to keep them in a stupor for a week."

No one knows what the overuse of potent drugs of many kinds is doing to that priceless possession, the human brain, how much it is constituting a brain drain of intelligence and skills.

The newer element in the nation's drug problem is the rather sudden spread of drugs that induce fantasies or hallucinations, or that "expand the mind."

This drug problem is here. It is now. It is big. It is apparently growing bigger.

And it has set loose a storm of emotion that confuses the issues, and that blocks effective answers.

Part of the problem is "a tyranny of opinion, attitude and belief in the absence of knowledge," says Dr. Helen H. Nowlis, University of Rochester psychologist and director of the drug education project of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators.

The real extent of drug use among young people is not known, although estimates are given in the next article.

Many parents are baffled or alarmed because the drug scene is something totally outside any of their own personal experience. Many cannot help wondering whether their children will remain immune to the appeal of present drugs, or to a raft of new drugs which experts predict will inevitably come along.

Many parents are far more alarmed, so experts say, than they really need be.

But practically all agree that parents are not likely to get very far unless they know the real facts about different drugs. Only with knowledge can they give sound counsel.

Youngsters and students generally know a good deal more than parents about mind-influencing drugs. But they may also tend to believe what they choose on a controversial subject. And they have tended to learn about drugs from their own companions — not all of them well or fully informed.

Parents are wrong, for example, if they argue that marijuana is a "narcotic" or that it is physically addictive. The reasons why it is not, and why parents could honestly have been misled into thinking it is, are explained later.

The point that authorities make here is that parents get into trouble if they DO insist marijuana is a narcotic, or if they lump all drugs together as being equally bad.

"Once the youngster can prove the parent is wrong about a big point, he very likely takes the position — 'Now I can't believe anything you say at all'," says one psychiatrist.

"Any drug education which is not scrupulously honest will fail with the kids," a psychologist adds. "Once you exaggerate, you lose them."

Drug Case Penalities Are Varied

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Penalties for taking, selling and producing drugs in California range from probation to life imprisonment—depending on the type of drug and whether the person is a repeated offender.

Several bills are before the Legislature this year aimed at stiffening penalties for possession and sale of narcotics such as heroin, coedine and morphine and all restricted dangerous drugs including LSD, speed and tranquilizers.

The Legislature eased the penalty for possession of marijuana by a first offender last year, giving the judge the option of making the crime a misdemeanor or a felony rather than a straight felony.

Under present law, a person convicted of marijuana possession for the first time can either be sent to state prison for one to ten years as a felony offender or to county jail for up to one year on a misdemeanor.

Persons convicted of possessing restricted dangerous drugs face the same penalties. However, possession of all other narcotics except peyote is a felony punishable by two to ten years in state prison.

Second and third offenders face much stiffer sentences in all cases. A person with two prior convictions for narcotics possession must spend a minimum 15 years in state prison with a possible maximum term of life imprisonment.

Sentences for the sale of marijuana and narcotics are much stiffer than those for possession. The penalty for selling restricted dangerous drugs is not as stiff, though a measure is now before the legislature to make the sentence the same as the term for selling marijuana.

First offenders convicted of selling marijuana or narcotics face five years to life imprisonment—with a minimum three-year term before parole. A first offense for selling restricted dangerous drugs, however, can be either a misdemeanor with up to one year in county jail or a felony with one to five years in state prison.

Cyclist Reported In Fair Condition

Paul Brooks Wolfe, 16, of 65 Santa Maria Drive, Novato, was reported in fair condition with a head injury in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital today after being knocked unconscious when his motorcycle hit a fire hydrant Friday night.

Novato police said the accident occurred in the 100 block of Grande Vista.

Lip, Ankle Hurt In Chain Accident

Rita J. Stoermer, 68, of 379 Sunset Way, Tamalpais Valley, suffered a cut lip and scraped right ankle in a three-car chain collision on Highway 191 in the southbound Waldo Grade Tunnel at 10:40 a.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported yesterday.

Mrs. Stoermer was to be treated by a private physician, officers said. The accident occurred when traffic stopped in the tunnel, and Mrs. Stoermer's car struck a stopped car driven by Marjorie L. Ference, 40, of 5038 Bodega Avenue, Petaluma, knocking it into a stopped car driven by Rita L. Beacock, 26, of 645 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, officers reported.

Suspect Booked For Grand Theft

An eight-year employee of Goodman Buildings Supply Co. in Mill Valley was arrested Saturday after he allegedly stole $1,500 from the store and spent most of it gambling in Las Vegas, Mill Valley police reported.

Wayne Dahl, 39, of 41 Granada Drive, Corte Madera, was held in Marin County Jail on suspicion of grand theft, pending $3,125 bail. He was scheduled to appear today in Marin Municipal Court for arraignment.

Police said Dahl took the money when the store at 775 Redwood Highway closed Tuesday evening. He was arrested at his home Saturday after he had returned from a three-day trip to Las Vegas.

About $480 of the $1,500 was recovered at Dahl's home Saturday, police said.

Woman Reports 'Investigator'

A Corte Madera woman reported to police yesterday that a man, who identified himself as "an insurance representative of many companies," investigated her home March 5, questioning her about her valuables.

The woman reported this to police after reading Larkspur police chief Howard Clark's warning in Saturday's Independent-Journal. The warning was that a man, posing as an insurance investigator, is believed to be checking at houses for valuables such as furs, jewelry and paintings, then returning at night to perform a burglary.

The Corte Madera insurance representative's description fitted that of Chief Clark's in that the man also drove a robin's egg blue Chevrolet.

TUNE IN AND PAINT UP

Redwood High School students are chipping in 50 cents each and painting their own classrooms from "dingy and dull" to, in the case of this history classroom, emerald and light green. Painters are Bettie Leininger, left, Ted Wrey, Cheryl Bublitz, Mary Miller, Mrs. Marge Neubauer, history teacher, and Josie Purkey. Evidently painters paint best in bare feet and with lively music. Railwaymen, Probation Officers Set To Strike

SAN FRANCISCO kUPI)—City officials today faced threatened strikes by municipal railwaymen and by adult probation officers.

The Board of Supervisors was expected to amend city codes when it met today to permit an extra salary boost for railway supervisors. The supervisors said they would go on strike at midnight if the city did not meet their demand for the pay boost, claiming that without it they would be receiving less money than some of the men they supervise.

A tentative settlement was worked out Friday by officials of the Transport Workers Union, representatives of the mayor's office and George Grubb, civil service general manager.

Chief Probation Officer John Kavanaugh meanwhile was reported considering the suspsnesions of 28 adult probation officers from a 38-man bureau because they refused to accept more than 125 cases a month.

The probation officers, who belong to the Union of City and County Employees, said they would go on strike if suspended. A spokesman said they did not want more money but "just a chance to do a fair and adequate job of suervising persons on probation or of making pre-sentence investigations."

The officers claimed their present caseloads were three to four times that of surrounding counties.

San Anselmo Woman Injured In Crash

Cecilia Burns, 25, of 160 Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo, was treated for a cut knee at Marin General Hospital Saturday after her car hit a parked auto in San Anselmo, police said.

Police said the other motorist was John Nalaspina Jr. of Fairfax. The mishap occurred in the 100 block of San Francisco Boulevard.

1968 FIGURES

Serious Crime Rises 17 Pct.

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Serious crime in the United States rose 17 per cent in 1968 with the sharpest rises registered in large cities and suburban areas, according to the FBI.

Director J. Edgar Hoover reported yesterday that preliminary figures showed crimes of violence were up 19 per cent, including a 29 per cent rise in robberies, 14 per cent in murders and forcible rapes and 12 per cent in aggravated assault.

The overall increase compared to a 16 per cent rise in 1967.

Hoover said crime increased in all parts of the nation last year. The North-Central states showed up 13 per cent, the Southern states 16 per cent, Western states 18 per cent and the densely populated Northeast, 21 per cent.

At the same time the FBI statistics were announced, the city government of the nation's capital proposed spending an additional $11.5 million to bolster its war on crime. Congress would have to approve the funds.

As for the FBI figures, they were derived from reports by 4,904 police agencies representing a population of 149,197,000. Final crime figures and a detailed analysis will be available in the Uniform Crime Reports scheduled to be released in the summer, the FBI said.

Arrests of adults rose 3 per cent while arrests of juveniles continued to climb with an 11 per cent increase, Hoover said.

Serious assaults in which a gun was used rose 24 per cent and nearly one out of every four aggravated assaults was committed with a gun, he said.

Deputies List Five Burglaries In County Areas

Five burglaries were reported to Marin County sheriff's deputies Saturday.

Scott W. Newhall of San Francisco told deputies someone took a hi fidelity amplifier from his summer home on Wharf Road in Bolinas between 5 p.m. March 3 and 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Burglars took a camera, guitar and guitar case, valued at $525, from the home of Elaine M. Martin, 141 Reed Boulevard, Strawberry, between 7:30 a.m. and 10:40 p.m. Wednesday.

A tape recorder, stereo equipment and cigarette case, valued at $630, and $3 in pennies were taken from the home of Thomas F. Robuck, 570 Panoramic Avenue, Mount Tamalpais, between 6:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Thursday.

Bruce B. Jones of 441 Live Oak Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, said someone took a portable television and clock radio, valued at $207, from his home between 6:15 and 10:35 p.m. Thursday.

Burglars took a record player, tape recorder and two microphones, valued at $440, from the home of Virginia L. Brorsen, 435 Laverne Avenue, Mill Valley, at approximately 3 p.m. Wednesday.

Vulcan was considered the god of smiths and the husband of Venus, says Collier's Encyclopedia.

U.S. Smashes International Dope Ring

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal agents have smashed an international narcotics smuggling ring and made one of the largest seizures of illegal drugs in history, a Customs Bureau spokesman announced today.

Agents arrested four persons, two of them French citizens, in New York yesterday and seized 62 pounds of heroin — concealed in a shipment of canned fish products.

The four were arraigned before a U.S. commissioner and given a preliminary hearing today under the direction of U.S. Atty. Robert Morgenthau in the Southern district of New York, a customs spokesman said.

"The seizure and arrests eliminate a major smuggling syndicate, culminating a lengthy investigation involving narcotics smuggling activities of various European and South American couriers," some of them previously arrested in other cases, the spokesman said.

Arrested were:

Edward Louis Rimbaud, 48, a French citizen, who arrived at John F. Kennedy Airport, New York, March 8.

Mayo Mastromardi, 48, of Whitestone, N.Y.

Antonio Flores, 45, believed to be a Puerto Rican, and a New York City resident (no home address).

Christian Serge Hysohian, 24, of Paris, France.

Customs authorities said Hysohian is an importer of the Panamanian Food and Chemist Co. of Whitestone, N.Y. Mastromardi is landlord of the Whitestone premises, the bureau said.

The spokesman said the arrests followed the finding by customs agents in New York that a large amount of heroin was contained in a shipment of canned fish products aboard a ship, the S.S. Ragunda and consigned to Hysohian.

The vessel arrived from Spain Feb. 20 but there was a delay in unloading the shipment because of the longshoremen's strike.

A total of 700 cases of alleged canned fish composed the shipment.

TRIBINAL ACTION

Eavesdropping Guidelines Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court spelled out a set of new guidelines today in the running controversy over the government's use of evidence obtained by eavesdropping.

In a set of complex rulings, the court held:

The government may use evidence even if obtained by unlawful eavesdropping on others if the defendant was not a participant in the overheard conversation and if the bugging did not take place at his home, office of similar personal premises.

On the other hand, in cases where he was a party to the conversation or his premises "bugged" the defendant may demand under proper safeguards that the wiretap evidence be turned over to his attorney even in cases involving national security.

An adversary court procedure must then be held to determine the relevance of the eavesdrop information to his indictment and if the wiretap evidence is shown as being relevant, the defendant may have it suppressed. The Justice Department wanted the trial judge alone to rule on the admissibility of wiretap evidence.

Solicitor Gen. Edwin N. Griswold urged private inspection by the trial judge to protect innocent third parties, and in national security cases to protect the government's intelligence activities.

He said if the government were obliged to turn over all monitored conversations to defendants, it would have to stop prosecuting most spy cases. He said the practice would mean turning important information over to unfriendly governments.

The court took these other actions:

Upheld by a 7-1 vote an antitrust decision against two Tucson, Ariz., newspapers which combined their advertising and circulation departments. For the court majority, Justice William O. Douglas held that the Tucson Daily Citizen and the Arizona Daily Star had failed to show that their combined operation was protected by the "failing company doctrine." The decision, dissented to by Justice Potter Stewart, could have an important bearing on similar arrangements in 22 other cities.

Reversed the Birmingham conviction of Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth who with the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was convicted of parading without a permit in a 1963 Easter civil rights demonstration.

Threw out the disorderly conduct conviction of Negro enntertainer Dick Gregory stemming from a protest march around the home of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley in 1965.

Justice Byron R. White wrote the opinion in the eavesdropping cases.

Rejected a claim that students may not be suspended by a state-supported college without "fair and impartial hearings" at which their attorneys may be present.

Acting without comment, the court denied a hearing to several students indefinitely suspended by Bluefield (W. Va.) State College after a 1967 demonstration.

The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) appealed to the high court on their behalf after the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled on Sept. 3, 1968, that the administrative appeals afforded the students "satisfied the requirements of due process of law."

Justice Abe Fortas, concurring in the court's order, said "an adequate hearing was afforded (the students) on the issue of suspension."

The incidents which provoked the suspensions took place at Mitchell Field Stadium on Oct. 14, 1967, during a football game.

Two Million In State's Union

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Union membership in California has reached two million, state figures showed yesterday, but the increase in unionized workers lags behind the increase in non-union workers.

The state's 2,029,800 union members made up only 30 per cent of the state's total workers.

The number of union members grew up by 39,000 in 1968 —a 2 per cent increase and the smallest growth rate since 1963—while the total number of workers increased by 4.4 per cent.

The largest gain of new union members, 12,600, was in government work.

Motions In Mutiny Case Being Heard

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Arguments started today on motions in the mutiny court-martial of six soldiers under way at the Sixth Army Presidio.

The out-of-court proceedings were to run through tomorrow, and the trial before a jury is scheduled to begin Wednesday morning.

Among the motions being heard by Col. John Lee, the law officer, is a defense move for a change of venue on the grounds that the defendants can't get a fair trial in San Francisco.

The six defendants are among 27 soldiers who staged a sitdown at the Presidio stockade last Oct. 14 in asserted protest of the fatal shooting of another prisoner.

Last Friday, a tentative panel of nine court members, or jurors, finally was chosen after extensive defense examination. However, each of the defendants has a peremptory challenge, some of these are expected to be made Wednesday.

260 Expected At Math Conference

About 260 Bay Area high school students interested in mathematics are expected to attend Redwood High School's fourth annual Mathematics Conference at the school next Saturday from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

The conference is designed to allow interested students to go into more complex math problems and study than by high schools.

The conference chairman is Anne Duhme, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Duhme Jr. of Tiburon.

Udall Calls Drilling Plan A 'Bay Of Pigs'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, said today his decision to permit oil drilling off the Santa Barbara coast "was a sort of conservation Bay of Pigs."

But Udall said if the underwater oil well blowout which coated the Santa Barbara beaches with black crude oil results in new water pollution safety legislation "it may have been a very good thing for the country."

Udall said all of the information he received from his subordinates indicated oil drilling would be safe in the Santa Barbara Channel.

He compared the advice he received to that which the late President Kennedy received prior to the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba.

"We did underestimate the risks," Udall told a Senate Pollution subcommittee.

"The Bureau of the Budget was in the picture," he said. "They were hungry for the revenues."

In the future, Udall said, "we should always err on the side of protection where a mistake could do great damage to the other resources."

Udall said the West Coast was "an oil deficiency area" at the time the Santa Barbara drilling was authorized.

He said recent oil discoveries in Alaska have corrected the oil deficiency and if they had been made earlier might have headed off granting of the Santa Barbara leases.

Ban Continues On Shellfish

Environmental health officials today warned Marin residents that a ban against taking shellfish from Richardson Bay is still in effect and will continue until otherwise announced.

The ban was imposed on Feb. 27 by Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht who said tests on clams and other edible shellfish have indicated "gross sewage contamination" from raw sewage entering the bay.

Health officials said such diseases as typhoid, infectious hepatitis and salmonella can be caused by eating the contaminated shellfish.

The contamination, detected in tests conducted by the state Department of Public Health, was blamed on raw sewage being discharged into the bay.

Tryouts Slated

Paintings On Display

Paintings by Marin artist Barbara Astrella Buel are on display at the Redwood National Bank through March 31. Included in the exhibit are watercolors and gouache paintings of early California victorian buildings, western ghost towns and Marin landscapes and seascapes.

Nude Walker In Hospital

A persistent young man, still claiming he is Jesus Christ, was found yesterday noon walking nude along the middle of Highway 17 near San Quentin Prison, the California Highway Patrol said.

Patrick Michael Hyde, 23, of 10 Lakeside Drive, Corte Madera, was taken to Napa State Hospital for psychiatric examination .The patrol said he was walking along a white-striped lane divider with startled eastbound drivers dodging him on each side.

Stopped by a patrolman, he reportedly gave his name as Jesus Christ — just as he did when arrested Thursday for hitchhiking on the freeway. The patrol obtained his identity from Marin County Jail, from which he was released Friday after a medical examination.

Thursday, Hyde said his parents were Joseph and Mary and claimed he had already saved the world when he appeared in Marin Municipal Court.

Driver Booked In Drug Probe

George Wayne Barr, 25, of 19 Chenery Street, San Francisco, was arrested on suspicion of possession of marijuana early yesterday after California Highway Patrol officers checked his car parked along southbound Highway 101, two miles north of Novato.

Officers said Barr was lying on the front seat of the car and had been drinking beer. They discovered four hand-rolled cigarettes which had the odor of marijuana, they said.

Barr was booked at Marin County jail on suspicion of being drunk in a public place and possessing marijuana and placed under $350 bail.

East Bay Artists Slate Exhibition

The East Bay Artists Association will present its first exhibition of paintings and sculpture in Marin at the College of Marin Art Gallery starting tomorrow and closing March 31.

Gallery hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 10 p.m., Mondays through Fridays.

Apartment Developers Hit With Foreclosure

A $2.3 million foreclosure suit has been filed in Marin Superior Court against the Shelter Bay Co., developers of apartments on Richardson Bay, by Manufacturers Life Insurance Co., holders of a loan on the property.

The insurance company claims that the Shelter Bay Co. is $154,000 behind in payments on a loan and asks that the entire loan and interest amounting to $2,373,739, be paid them.

The loan was made to Alcan-Marin Ltd., a predecessor firm to Shelter Bay, in 1963, the suit alleges, but was later assumed by the present company.

About $25,000 a month is being received by the company in rental payments, the suit says, and none of this amount is being applied to the loan.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Superior Court Friday signed an order appointing Lloyd D. Hanford receiver of the property and set March 17 for a hearing asking Shelter Bay to show cause why he should not remain as receiver.

Named by the suit as partners in Shelter Bay Co. were Christopher Ribers Jr., C. Louis Allen, Bartel W. Antell, Harry M. Stevenson, Stoddard H. Knowles and Peter Knowles and five John Does.

Franklin Supply Corp. and Title Insurance and Trust Co. and five more John Does were also named as defendants.

Four Honored For Service To Rohnert Park

The Rohnert Park Chamber of Commerce honored four persons for outstanding community service at its annual banquet Saturday night at Chesney's Carriage House.

Named "men of the year" were Bradley W. Koch, city public safety director, and Dr. Donald L. Davis, local dentist, who once served as chairman of the city's recreation commission. Koch resigned last week to take a position in Sacramento.

Selected as "women of the year" were Mrs. Marguerite Hahn, 8049 Old Redwood Highway, Cotati, and Mrs. Lennie Millard, 439 Ava Avenue. Mrs. Hahn is the first Cotati resident to have been honored by Rohnert Park.

Lt. Col. William F. Vernau, post commander of the Two Rock Ranch Army Station, Petaluma, was the guest speaker.

Session For Teens

A meeting for boys ages 12 to 18 years will be held at 8 p.m. Friday to discuss forming a junior branch of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows at the Odd Fellows Lodge, 1522, Fifth Avenue. Additional information is available from Edward Willey, 11 Lauren Avenue, Novato, who will be advisor to the group.

$118,014 Grant For Training

San Rafael-based Service Technicians, Inc., will get $118,014 from the Department of Labor to train 60 unemployed as janitors, the department has announced.

Following 22 weeks of on-the-job training, the workers will start regular jobs in San Francisco, Oakland, Seattle and Honolulu.

The training is part of Job Opportunities in the Business Sector, a joint effort by business and the U.S. government in which private firms provide jobs and training.

$1.59 Stolen

Ed Majesky reported to San Anselmo police yesterday that someone broke a window in his store, San Anselmo Floor Covering, at 112 Pine Street, entered and stole $1.59 from a counter. Entry was made by breaking glass next to the door handle, then reaching in and releasing the lock, police said.

Looting Of Three Cars Reported

Thefts from three cars were reported to Marin County sheriff's deputies Saturday.

Judith L. Davis of 10 Milan Drive, Strawberry, told deputies that someone took birthday presents of toys, children's games and clothes from her car while it was parked in front of her home between 5 p.m. March 1 and 9:30 a.m. March 3.

A tachometer was taken from the car of Erik B. Hanssen, 9 De Anza Way, San Rafael, while it was parked in the teachers' parking lot at the College of Marin between 7 and 9 p.m. Thursday.

Constance McClain of 166 Deepstone Drive, Marinwood, said someone took her wallet containing $30 in cash and credit cards from her locked car parked near her home between 8 p.m. Wednesday and 8:15 a.m. Thursday.

Two Youths Booked In Sidewalk Brawl

Two Pacifica men were booked on a citizen's arrest Saturday after they reportedly attacked a Los Angeles man and his pregnant wife in a sidewalk brawl, Sausalito police reported.

David C. Achziger, 18, and William D. Dailey Jr., 24, each posted $315 bail to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Police said the two, who were with a third youth, accosted Charles Greene, 21, of Los Angeles, and his wife at 1:35 a.m. at Princess Street and Bridgeway. They reportedly pushed Greene through a store window and pushed his wife into the street. When Greene helped his wife out of the street, Achziger reportedly hit him in the face.

Police arrived a moment later and Greene made a citizen's arrest of the two and their companion, Gary D. Hanshew, 20, also of Pacifica. Hanshew, who reportedly tried to keep the other two from the attack, was released without charge.

Paul Pickart has asked for the rezoning for the area which lies between Hill Junior High School, the Nave Shopping Center and Rancho School.

The council will also consider the division of a lot of Farvue Road into two lots for Leo Wasset; receive a report on a proposed bicycle and pedestrian path on Novato Boulevard from Diablo Avenue to Wilson Avenue and consider proposed changes in the Bahia Master Plan for 900 acres at the end of Bugeia Lane for Union Bank of Los Angeles.

Mailliard Mails Questionnaires

A public opinion poll on issues likely to be voted upon by the Congress this year has been mailed to some 168,000 voters in the Sixth Congressional District by its representative, Republican William S. Mailliard.

The last of the questionnaires was mailed out during the weekend, and results will be reported by the end of March, his staff reported.

The questions concerned firearms control, the postal system, the use of "surplus funds" that would be available if the cost of the Vietnam War was reduced, reform of the Electoral College and control of inflation.

Mailliard, now serving his 17th year in the Congress, has taken similar polls annually.

Speeding Citation In Wreck

Three persons wers injured Saturday when a car struck a towed vehicle, slid across the highway and overturned on Highway 37 near Novato Creek, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Wayne D. Claibourn, 38, of Vallejo, was treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael for broken ribs, broken breastbone and cuts, then transferred yesterday to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Vallejo, where he reportedly was to be released today.

Two passengers in Claibourn's car, Donna Carson, 9, and Vicki Carson, 8, both of 28 Olema Road, Fairfax, were treated at Novato General Hospital, Donna for a broken collarbone and cut cheek and Vicki for a cut hand.

The accident occurred at 5:45 p.m. The highway patrol said Claibourn passed one car, then hit the rear of a drag racer being towed by a truck driven by John T. Apostoli, 57, of 7 Collidge Avenue, Fairfax. Claibourn was cited for speeding.

Sirhan Described As Paranoid Personality

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A psychologist described the killer of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy today as a paranoid personality—"an individual who says I'm okay; everyone else isn't."

Martin M. Schoor, a clinical psychologist from San Diego, described Sirhan B. Sirhan, as "sort of like a roadrunner, unable to relax, constantly pushing."

Sirhan is on trial for first degree murder in the assassination of Kennedy.

Psychological tests conducted Nov. 25 and 26 in Sirhan's 13th-floor cell were "kind of a mental X-ray," Schoor said.

"This man responded by lying in only two responses," Schoor said. "This is actually lower than the average individual would have."

It can be claimed in one way only, by filing an application with the local property tax assessor on or before April 15.

Retired Writer Is Found Dead

Deputy Coroner Richard W. Madigan listed his death as an apparent suicide.

Deputies said Ford was discovered lying at the base of a stairwell at his home at 12:15 a.m. by his son, George Skiff Ford IV, who was in a nearby room when the shot was fired from a .32-caliber revolver.

Ford's wife, Nancy, told deputies her husband had been despondent over his health.

His body was taken to Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapel, Mill Valley, for autopsy and funeral arrangements.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)— The outgoing director of black studies at San Francisco State College says that school's striking students must be granted their demands or the school will be lost.

"They are fighting for the right of all people to seize power and to control their lives," Dr. Nathan Hare said Saturday. "They feel they are carrying on a struggle and they feel they have to use whatever means necessary. Many know they will be jailed or killed."

Hare, 34, was one of several prominent Negroes attending a two-day conference on black self-determination sponsored by the Congress of Racial Equality.

Field Inspection Tests A Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — Field tests in England have convinced the U.S. Disarmament Agency that small international inspection teams could safeguard a future arms control pact "without compromising the national security of the country under inspection."

During Exercise First Look small inspection teams monitored the activities of about 30,000 British troops in a 2,000 square miles area west of London last year.

It was a joint U.S.-British test, with the $3.4 million cost shared by the two nations.

The agency reported yesterday the tests shed new light on inspection techniques.

Officials said the experiment showed that information provided by a small inspection organization, together with data from other sources, would "give reasonable assurance that an agreement on levels of forces was being observed."

Purse Taken

Mrs. Lynn Clark of 38 Savannah Road, San Anselmo, told sheriff's deputies her purse containing $5 was stolen Saturday afternoon at the Manzanita Child Care Center where she is a volunteer worker.

MAR-10-

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, March 10, the 69th day of 1969 with 296 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1862 the first paper money was issued by the United States government in denominations ranging from $5 to $1,000.

In 1945 B-229 bombers began incendiary raids on Japan.

In 1949 Mildred Gillars, known as Axis Sally, was sentenced to 30 years in prison on charges of treason for broadcasting for Nazi Germany.

In 1964 Queen Elizabeth gave birth to a son, third in line for the British throne.

A thought for the day: Thomas Hardy said, "Patience is that blending of moral courage with physical timidity."

Highway To Link Uruguay, Brazil

RIO DE JAMEIRO (AP) — A highway will link Uruguay with all state capitals on the Brazilian coast, it was announced here.

Elizeu Resende, head of Brazil's National Highway Department, said the highway will have its starting point in Fortaleza, state of Ceara, in northeastern Brazil, and its completion is expected by 1970.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Avoid SOS Redouble At All Costs With Doubtful Partner

One of the most dangerous things you can do at the bridge table (aside from criticizing a partner who outweighs you) is to redouble when you really want your partner to rescue you in another suit. If your partner thinks you mean the redouble in its natural sense, you may lose the family jewels on a single hand.

Opening lead — ♣ 7

NORTH UNHAPPY

In today's hand North is unhappy at two clubs doubled and redoubles in the hope that South will read the situation correctly. North is reluctant to choose his own rescue for fear of playing the hand at two diamonds if South has two or three diamonds but five or more hearts.

If South passed the redouble, North might well take a 1,600-point ride. This is considered a poor result even if North and South are playing for peanuts.

North would redouble in a natural way only if he could make two clubs and could also punish the opponents if they tried to rescue themselves. But if North had so powerful a hand he would have doubled one spade instead of bidding two clubs. South should therefore read the redouble as an unnatural call, and he bids his best suit, which fortunately happens to be a five-carder.

POOR DOUBLE

West should pass two diamonds, and eventually his side would play the hand at hearts. The unwise double gives South a juicy part score.

East wins the king of clubs and returns a diamond to the ace. Declarer unblocks by playing the jack of diamonds and wins the trump continuation with the queen. Declarer next leads the king of hearts to the ace. East returns a spade, on which South plays low.

DUMMY RUFFS

West takes the jack of spades and leads another trump. South wins with the ten and leads the queen of spades. West covers, and dummy ruffs.

Now South can discard a spade on the third heart, ruff a club and give up one spade. He makes the last trump and his last spade, fulfilling his doubled contract.

If you're lucky, you'll get partners like South when you use the SOS redouble. Don't say you weren't warned if you're left in the redouble and lose a peanut factory.

ANSWER: Bid one heart. With biddable suits of equal length bid the higher suit first.

Finch Seeks Extension Of School Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration asked Congress today for a two-year extension of a school program designed to help the educationally disadvantaged.

In taking this position, HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch told the House Education and Labor Committee that "a careful review" of this and other programs inherited from the Johnson administration is under way.

Finch, in his initial appearance before the committee, said it is for this reason he suggested a two-year extension rather than five years as proposed in a bill introduced by Chairman Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky.

The program, which provides more than $1 billion to help schools with special projects for educationally disadvantaged, expires June 30, 1970.

This is the committee's final day of hearings before it starts drafting a bill tomorrow which house leaders hope to have passed before start of the Congressional Easter recess April 3.

Perkins said committee hearings show the real problem is under-funding, that the spending level should be increased from about $1.125 billion to $2.2 billion this year for this one activity alone.

Finch told the committee a two-year extension would provide continuity to local school officials, assuring them that programs begun under the act will not be suddenly terminated.

"And such an extension would allow for an orderly phase-in of any new or revised programs which may be suggested by the results of our various studies," Finch said. "When I return to propose more substantive changes or additions to current programs for elementary and secondary education, I would also hope to support a longer extension of this legislation."

San Geronimo Issues Bids To Candidates

Board members of the San Geronimo Valley Association have set two candidates' nights for prospective members of the Marin Junior College District board and the Lagunitas School District board, according to association director Mrs. Clarise Stevens.

The college candidates will be heard March 26 and the school board candidates will be heard March 27. Both meetings will be at 8 p.m. at Lagunitas School.

In other business at the association meeting Thursday, the directors voted to put pressure on the board of supervisors to hire an extra deputy for the valley. Residents feel that population growth in the area and an influx of hippies has created a need for additional help, Mrs. Stevens said.

It was reported at the meeting that three public meetings on the unification of school zones in the valley required to place the issue on the ballot have been scheduled: for March 19 at Sir Francis Drake High School, March 20 at Tamalpais High and March 25 at Redwood High.

All hearings will be at 8 p.m. and are sponsored by the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

For the association's March 17 meeting, the board set a discussion of pollution control. Areas to be discussed include air pollution by trash burning and water pollution by hippies bathing in the area's drinking water supply, Kent Lake, Mrs. Stevens said.

Teen-Ager To Plead On Burglary Count

Michael Vincent St. Martin, 18, of San Rafael, was arraigned Friday in Marin Municipal Court, accused of the Feb. 19 burglary of a San Rafael residence.

His case was continued until tomorrow for entry of plea.

Navy Court Studies Sealab Breathing Rig

SAN DIEGO (AP) — CPO Paul A. Wells told a Navy board of investigation that he removed an empty carbon dioxide cannister from a breathing rig being prepared at the Sealab site Feb. 14.

The board is probing the death of Sealab aquanaut Berry Cannon, 33, who died Feb. 17 while at a depth of 610 feet off San Clemente Island. A coroner's report listed the cause of death as carbon dioxide poisoning.

The Navy says that one of the breathing rigs taken down by the four divers that day lacked the chemicals used to remove carbon dioxide but it has not been established if Cannon wore that rig.

Testimony yesterday indicated that a cannister lacking the chemicals had been placed in a diving rig to determine if all parts fitted properly.

Wells, who was in charge of the diving equipment testified that he later removed the cannister.

"I don't like to see an empty cannister in a rig," Wells said.

The board called in 13 men yesterday in an attempt to determine what happened Feb. 14 while preparations were being made for the dive in which Cannon died.

Lt. Alan Goldberg, Wells' attorney, has been attempting to show that something other than the lack of the cannister may have killed the aquanaut.

"We are prepared to show other causes for Cannon's death," he said.

Four main groups of native peoples — southeast coastal Indians, Athabascan Indians, Eskimos and Aleuts — are among Alaska's relatively small population.

Feed Is Slated To Plight Of Mustangs

MINDEN, Nev. (UPI) — Horselovers will throw a buffalo feed next week to save the lives of 50 mustangs who fled from poachers and runners only to be trapped by heavy snows along a ridge on the 9,000-foot Pine Nut Mountains east of Lake Tahoe.

Max Jones, justice of the peace in Douglas County, now is also president of the newly formed Pine Nut Mustang Association, a group started two weeks ago to rescue the animals.

The mustangs, believed direct descendants of horses brought by Spanish explorers in the 16th Century, are huddled along the 30-mile ridge in groups of four and five and separated by snow drifts ranging in depth from 20-50 feet.

A dozen bales of hay are dropped to the horses every three days.

Marin City Youth Shot In Chest

A Marin City Youth was reported in poor condition in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital today from wounds suffered when he was shot in the left chest Saturday afternoon while standing in a gasoline service station at 100 Donahue Street in Marin City.

Wounded was Stanley Curry, 17, of 149 Drake Avenue, who underwent surgery at Marin General Hospital after a 22 caliber bullet lodged in his right abdomen.

Curry was standing in a doorway between the lubrication room and office when he was shot shortly after 4 p.m., sheriff's deputies reported.

Station attendant, Willie Edward Grayson, 22, of 89 Cole Drive, who was carrying the semi-automatic pistol, told deputies it discharged accidentally. Curry also told deputies it was an accident.

Grayson said he was moving the gun from his pocket to a desk drawer in the office. Then Curry said something caused him to look up to answer and the gun accidentally fired, he said.

New Edgar Cayce Group To Be Formed

A new Edgar Cayce study group is beind formed in Marin, using "A Search for God" material supplied by the Association for Research and Enlightenment Inc.

Information meetings will be held at 8 p.m. each Friday during March at 212 Del Casa Drive, Mill Valley.

Volunteers Sought

The Northern California chapter of the Arthritis Foundation is seeking volunteers for its door-to-door soliciting campaign scheduled to begin in Marin County March 27. The foundation's campaign center in Corte Madera will provide further information.

Five Cities Selected In Transit Program

PITTSBURGH (AP) — John A. Volpe, secretary of transportation, said today five big cities have been selected by the U.S. Department of Transportation to participate in a program to improve center city transportation systems.

He said the cities of Atlanta, Dallas, Denver, Seattle and Pittsburgh would participate in the $1,460,959 program.

Volpe announced the five-city project in a speech at the fourth International Conference on Urban Transportation.

"The economic, social and physical decline of the center city area in the past two decades has probably resulted from inadequate transportation," Volpe said.

"Yet," he noted "during the same time rapidly advancing scientific and technical knowledge offered the potential for greatly improving existing transportation facilities and for creating entirely new systems for downtown mobility of people and goods."

"It is the president's determination as it is mine," he said, "to confront the crisis of the cities boldly, to provide leadership which dares to rock the boat; leadership which acts upon the premise that transportation is totally related to welfare, education, recreation and all other aspects of urban life."

In announcing the center cities transportation program, Volpe said, "It will be a policy of the Department of Transportation during this administration that any mode of transportation that commandeers or violates large sections of the landscape is going to be subject to a brutal analysis. Land is too precious a resource to be squandered."

COMFORT AFTER ORDEAL — Miner William (Buck) Jones is comforted by his wife, Ethel, after his dramatic rescue last night from a mine near Lark, Utah. He had been entombed eight days. (AP Wirephoto)

Detroit Study Reveals Mood On Integration

DETROIT (UPI)--Racial attitudes in post-riot Detroit find the majority of whites hesitant about full-scale integration while most blacks are eager to integrate, an in-depth social and psychological study shows.

Only 26 per cent of the whites, compard with 89 per cent of the blacks ,favored full integration, the study indicated.

Directed by Dr. Elliott Luby associate director of the LaFayette Clinic in Detroit, the study found the greatest danger for racial explosion comes from a small minority of extremists on both sides.

'FRIGHTENED MEN'

"These are intensely angry and profoundly frightened men, both black and white, who will attempt to move us toward more violence and a paranoid restructuring of all race relations in the city," the study said.

Some 16 per cent of the whites favored segregation as opposed to 2 per cent of the blacks, the study said.

Of the white segregationists, 67 per cent didn't finish high school while only 3 per cent of them had any college training. At the averages age of 55, they were 14 years older than the more-liberal white average age 41.

The study said 11 times as many white integrationists had gone to college as segregationists. Seventy per cent of the liberals had finished high school.

The white segregationist foresaw no change for better or worse in their lives, the study said, and four-fifths of them felt politically powerless. Half of the integrationists felt politically powerless but 58 per cent believed they could better their lives.

About two-thirds of the white segregationists trusted neither the federal and city governments nor other people, the study said.

'BLACK POWER'

"If these separatists feel confident enough, to act according to their view, they may be supported by the 74 per cent of the whites who oppose full integration, but they will meet opposition from the 89 per cent of the blacks who oppose separation," the report said.

The black separatists demonstrated many of the same attitudes as their white counterparts, it said.

However, the slogan "black power" was irrevelant to 22 per cent of the blacks interviewed although most blacks interpreted it as a fair shake and a unified race.

The study, conducted by a dozen social scientists after the Detroit riot of 1967, worst in modern U. S. history, concluded that "the great mass of people, if sufficiently terrified, can be driven by the enormous energy of frenzy.

"There is a remote danger in this city and in this country. But we must always be alert to it."

Some 850 Detroiters, black and white, were interviewed in the survey.

POURS OUT HEART

Entombed Miner Lifted To Safety

LARK, Utah (UPI)—The grizzled miner turned to his wife in the ambulance. Tears streamed down his grimy, whiskered cheeks.

"I'd never got out if the Lord hadn't had his arms around me," he sobbed.

William V. (Buck) Jones, 60, all but given up for dead last week when an avalanche entombed him five miles deep in a lead-zinc mine, was rescued last night. The wisecracking quips that had kept high his spirit and that of his rescuers disappeared in a flood of tears and relief in the ambulance to the hospital.

He turned to his wife Ethel, the mother of his 11 children, and poured out his heart.

His ordeal was over. Clean white sheets and a smooth shave—the little things—made Jones happy today.

"Oh, that looks good," he exclaimed when helped into a spotless hospital bed after his dramatic rescue by miners from the deep Lark ore mine.

Doctors were to decide today whether to release Jones.

Jones was entombed nearly five miles into the mine southwest of Salt Lake City March 1. A slide roared through the area in which he was working, filled a shaft leading to the main tunnel and gradually settled around him until he was cramped into a space the size of a packing crate.

Jones today had his first shave since the cave-in. When dust and grime were washed from his face and his heavy black whiskers removed, he told attendants "that looks very fine."

Hospital officials said the hard rock miner's condition was "just remarkable." They said he was in fairly good shape, with no apparent illness.

Jones' underground cell was a balmy 75 degrees, according to mine officials.

During his harrowing experience, air filtered through the loose rock and Jones, with more than 20 years of mining under his belt, settled into his cramped quarters to await rescue.

A frantic search was launched, but after three days hope faded. A muffled voice early Wednesday startled rescue crews.

"When are you guys going to get me out of here?" Jones asked.

Veteran miner Ken Squires straightened in surprise and stopped digging.

"We're gonna get you out, Buck," he shouted.

Getting to Jones through the treacherous slide area at the 1,300-foot level of the huge, catacombed mine was not easy. Enormous balanced precariously boulders threatened an even larger cave-in if the miners were not careful.

Jones went four days without food and water until engineers drilled a two-inch hole to him Thursday. After drinking greedily from the second tube of water, he cried out, "man, that tastes good."

Crews wrestled with the rescue around the clock and mine supt. Don O. Willie reported offers of help pouring in from "all over the country."

A prominent drilling company proposed a huge drill hole through which they could drag out the trapped man. Mine officials agreed to the plan.

However, Willie authorized a "backup" crew to continue using conventional hand methods to reach Jones.

Pact Is Near In Uniting Of Pakistan

KARACHI (AP) -- President Mohammed Ayub Khan met opposition leaders today at Rawalpindi amid reports that the opposition has agreed on a more representative form of government for divided Pakistan.

Sources close to opposition leaders said they have decided Pakistan should return to a parliamentary government directly elected by the adult population, and also agreed to give 56 per cent majority representation to East Pakistan. The latter has the largest slice of the nation's 120 million population and valuable jute exports, and is separated from West Pakistan by Indian territory.

Both states would get more local control, with the federal government limited to defense, foreign affairs and currency, the sources said. But some disagreement was still reported among leaders of the six opposition parties banded in a coalition called the Democratic Action Committee.

Not included in the talks with Ayub were former Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, leader of the leftist People's Party, and 85-year-old Maulana Abdul Bhashani, leader of the pro-Peking wing of the National Awami party of East Pakistan. These two parties signed an agreement Sunday forming a leftist alliance independent of the DAC.

In Rawalpindi, 4,000 supporters of Ayub demonstrated yesterday, demanding that he continue in office. Ayub has announced he will not try for a fourth term in office next year because of the recent bloodshed and rioting resulting from opposition to his regime.

Trio Spends 5 Hours On Wing

HONOLULU (UPI) — Three men who spent five hours holding onto a wave-swept wing of their downed plane in the Pacific Ocean east of Hawaii said they never felt they were in grave danger.

"The Coast Guard was close by and an Air Force plane was constantly circling over us," said Larry Weintraub, of New York City.

Weintraub and two companions, Don Wharton of Santa Barbara, and Andrew Taylor of Los Angeles, are in seclusion in Honolulu resting from their ordeal.

The trio was forced to ditch their twin-engine DC3 some 250 miles east of Hawaii Island, the largest of the Hawaiian chain, after it developed engine trouble on a flight from Travis AFB, to Honolulu as dusk fell Friday.

For five hours, the men clung to a wing of their floating aircraft in the darkness until they were rescued by a small Navy tug. They were first transferred to the freighter Hawaiian Monarch and then to a Coast Guard cutter and taken to Hilo on Hawaii.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the plane went down because of oil line troubles in both engines. The spokesman said one of the engines conked out about midway and the men flew for four hours on one engine before finally going down.

Sgt. Sunshine Blames Troubles On Newscaster

Sergeant Sunshine, the former San Francisco policeman who won fame by smoking pot on the steps of the Hall of Justice last year, now faces a felony marijuana possession charge which his attorney has blamed on a "subterfuge" by Pat Michaels of Tiburon, conservative newscaster on KGO-TV and radio talk show personality.

Sunshine (also known as Richard Burgess) appeared in Contra Costa County Superior Court Thursday and pleaded not guilty to the possession count which stemmed from a Jan. 25 raid on his Walnut Creek home.

His attorney, Terence Hallinan, charged Michaels was a special deputy of the Marin County sheriff's office and had gained admission to the Burgess home "under the guise of an interview."

Michaels maintained he had gone to the home strictly as a reporter.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos confirmed that Michaels is a special deputy, for emergency and disaster assignments. Like other special deputies, Michaels volunteered for the job, said Mountanos.

He denied any knowledge of the Michaels-Sunshine case and noted special deputies are not allowed to use their credentials or act in any way as a deputy unless specifically authorized by him.

African Chiefs Eye 'Great Red Railroad'

NAIROBI, Kenya (London Express) — Two African commonwealth leaders, President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia and President Julius Nyerere of Tanzania, flew to a summit meeting last night which could result in a Communist Chinese army landing in Africa before the end of this year.

Their meeting will take place at Mbeya in Tanzania near Zambia's northern border, and on the agenda for the two leaders who embrace "African socialism" will be the proposed 1,000-mile rail link from Dar-Es-Salaam to Lusaka in Zambia.

The railroad — the "great Red railway" — is to be built with a $2,400,000,000 loan from Communist China, and Peking will provide the labor force as well.

It is the labor force that is causing grave concern in both the black north and white south of Africa, for there are reliable reports that the Chinese plan to send 150,000 workers to do the difficult job of laying the line across arid African bushland.

In Kenya and Uganda, as well as Rhodesia and South Africa, there is growing alarm that the railway "work force" won't go home at the end of its task.

In Nairobi, a diplomat said "There is no doubt that at least 80 per cent of the 'coolies' will be members of the regular Chinese Army."

At present, a large party of Chinese is surveying the railroad. Actual work, if Kaunda and Nyerere give the go-ahead, is likely to start before the end of the year.

Already, terrorists attacking Southern Africa are Communist-trained and armed. And now there is growing concern in Pretoria aand Salisbury that the railroad completed Chinese troops will take an active part in attacks on the white south.

The World Bank rejected the idea of the rail link as "uneconomic" and suggested a road instead, but Peking quickly stepped in with the offer of the interest-free loan and the vast labor force.

British Vessel Limps Into Port

NEW YORK (AP) — The British cargo vessel Montcalm, a hole smashed in her side just above the waterline by a truck which broke loose in the hold during stormy North Atlantic weather, proceeded today under its own power toward Halifax, N.S., the Coast Guard reported.

The 440-foot vessel began shipping water through a 12-foot hole yesterday while rolling in 20-to-30-foot seas.

Using its own pumps and two dropped by a Coast Guard plane, the ship was able to keep abreast of the flooding. A Coast Guard spokesman said seas had abated somewhat in the area, about 350 miles southeast of Halifax.

Burglary Charge Hearings Slated

Preliminary hearings for three young men accused of two burglaries have been set in Marin Municipal Court for April 8 and 10.

On the earlier date, Gordon K. Jennings, 21, of Novato, Andrew M. Gillespie, III, 19, of San Rafael, and Edward Guillory, 20, of San Francisco, will receive a hearing on a charge of burglary Feb. 21 in San Rafael.

On April 10, Jennings and Gillespie will face a preliminary hearing on a charge of burgling a Tiburon home last Monday.

Ambulance Message To Be Studied

When the late Novato Fire Chief, George J. Cavallero, was stricken by a heart attack while headed for a fire on Feb. 2, a radio message foul-up caused an ambulance to go to the wrong location, according to a report by County Administrative Analyst Timothy M. Jackson.

The report will go to the board of supervisors tomorrow.

Cavallero was headed for a fire at Rancho Olompali shortly after 5 a.m. when he was stricken. His car went off Highway 101 into a ditch just north of San Marin Drive.

First report of the fire came at 5:02 a.m. At 5:14 the Novato fire station called for an ambulance on an emergency north of San Marin. The county communications confirmed: "San Marin turnoff northbound 101." The communications center asked Doctor's Ambulance to send an ambulance "San Marin Drive 929 (fire) at Rancho Olompali."

The Doctor's Ambulance crew said it was told "to respond to a fire on San Marin Road, north of Novato" about 5:15 a.m. At 5:20, the ambulance reached San Marin Drive, went up and down but could find no flames. Doctor's Ambulance employees said, "The dispatcher informed us that it was a major fire and to be prepared for burn and smoke inhalation patients."

The ambulance men said they were finally told it was a dry run. "We then headed back to Novato and met a policeman who showed us where the fire actually was. We watched the fire for awhile and then returned to the office at approximately 6:20 a.m."

Meanwhile, Novato firemen had notified the communications center at 5:30 a.m.: "transporting in station wagon. Can't wait any longer."

Annexation Issue To Be Discussed

When a developer wants to develop land contiguous to a city, how much pressure should be applied to force an annexation to the city?

This question will be discussed by the City-County Planning Council Thursday at 8 p.m. in Room 426 of the Civic Center.

The issue was raised in March of last year by the Novato City Council, which asked that owners of land adjoining Novato be directed to annex to the city whenever development is proposed for such land.

The council will also discuss the county's balanced transportation study and a policy statement to define the jurisdiction of the City-County Planning Council.

Home Looted

Burglars took a television, a double barrel shotgun and $53 in cash from the home of Clement P. Shook, 9 Sonoma Street, San Rafael, between 7:40 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Friday, police reported.

Procyon Is Good Pointer For Expert

By SHERMAN WALKER

Canis Minor (the Smaller Dog) is a rather disappointing constellation for the casual observer, although it does have one bright star. The one star can be lined up with other bright stars in the neighborhood and becomes a pretty good pointer. The star is known as Procyon or Alpha Canis Minoris.

To locate Procyon, face southward at 9 p.m. Standard Time and look at the region of the sky that is three-fifths of the distance up from the southern horizon to overhead.

The name Procyon means "before the dog." It is so called because this star rises a few minutes before Sirius, the Dog Star. It may seem strange that Procyon rises first because later when both stars are near the overhead meridian (the closest point to overhead) Procyon is east of Sirius and should rise after it. The curvature of the earth makes the difference.

Procyon is slightly brighter than first magnitude and is almost straight off Castor and Pollux in Gemini. It is a double star, but its companion is very dim, not more than 12th magnitude.

Procyon is one of the stars nearer to the solar system, only 11 light years away, and is getting closer all the time because it is rapidly approaching us.

Three bright stars in this region of the sky make a very good equilateral triangle. The other two stars are Betelgeuse in Orion and Sirius in Canis Major.

Two Prisoners Freed In Ambush Of A Prison Bus

LONDON (AP) — Two men ambushed a police bus during the morning rush hour in a tough South London district today, squirted ammonia in the faces of two unarmed prison officers and freed two robbery suspects being taken to court for trial.

They escaped in a car, leaving six other prisoners on the bus. A number of passersby witnessed the ambush but it was over before they could summon help.

The Home Office, said the two men who escaped were Kenneth Edward Drury, 29, a grocer charged with robbery with violence, and John William Ferguson, 26, a salesman accused of armed robbery.

The Home Office said the bus's doors were unlocked as a precaution in case of a traffic accident.

Special Session Set In Petaluma

The Petaluma City Council will meet in special session at 7:30 p.m. today to consider placement of an eight-inch water line on Petaluma Boulevard south between H Street and Mountain View Avenue.

Contracts for construction of a new Washington Street bridge will be also awarded if permission has been received from the Coast Guard to halt navigation on the Petaluma River at the bridge.

The council may later adjourn to a study session to discuss items for inclusion in a possible bond issue in the June 10 municipal election.

Bahia Planning Plea On Agenda

Changes in the master plan for 900 acres of the Bahia development at the end of Bugeia Lane in Novato will be discussed by the planning commission when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Union Bank of Los Angeles, which now owns the property, has asked to enlarge the central lagoon and place townhouses and apartments around it.

The commission will also hear a request to rezone from retail to multiple dwelling the land south of Warner Creek and east of Diablo Avenue for J. C. Youngberg and William J. Guinnane; a change from agricultural to commercial for three lots on the northeast corner of Center Road and Diablo Avenue owned by Robert and Edith Warner, and an amendment to the zoning ordinance to allow veterinary clinics by use permit in professional or commercial zones.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Man-Made Pneumoconiosis Still Kills Thousands In U.S. Mines

VAN DELLEN

Mining is a hazardous occupation and there is nothing like an explosion to remind us of this fact. But a more serious hazard is pneumoconiosis (black lung disease) that kills thousands of coal miners annually.

Coal dust is the culprit and it is estimated that 125,000 miners suffer from the disorder.

Fine, powdery dust gets into the eyes, ears, nose, and pores of the skin. It is inhaled and trapped in the bronchi where the particles, engulfed by scavenger cells, are deposited agound tiny pulmonary blood vessels or in the lymph glands adjacent to the passageways.

SMALL COLLECTIONS of this trapped coal dust coalesce forming large scars. Those that form cuffs around the blood vessels ultimately cut off circulation to the lungs.

Many miners with demonstrable evidence of black lung disease are not bothered; they continue working and being exposed.

OTHERS DEVELOP shortness of breath that increases slowly and insidiously over the years. The coughing and narrowing of the bronchi ultimately lead to chronic bronchitis and crippling emphysema. In time, the heart is affected.

Prevention is the key. Since pneumoconiosis is man-made, it is the responsibility of those who create the conditions that produce the disease to eliminate them. Workers must also cooperate by wearing masks and watering the dust.

Coal worker's lung disease is preventable, yet every day more men are afflicted. The main problem centers about our lack of knowledge relative to the safe limit of exposure to the dust.

Furthermore, research should be conducted on the efficiency of various remedies and earlier diagnostic procedures.

LUNG CHANGES are permanent and treatment is essentially the same as for emphysema. For this reason, any young miner with the slightest symptom should change occupation. We realize that this is easier said than done.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

WATERFALL STOMACH

A reader writes: What is a cascade stomach?

REPLY

This term is applied to a deformity in which food is trapped in the upper part of the stomach, due to a peculiar bend in its contour. After the top is full, the meal spills into the lower part of the organ like a waterfall. Pressure, fullness, or sharp pain in the left lower chest after eating are usually noted. Symptoms are less likely to occur with smaller meals. Distress also can be discouraged by assuming a posture that helps the stomach empty itself.

TESTING FOR HARDENED ARTERIES

H. D. writes: How are the arteries tested to determine the extent of the hardening process?

REPLY

The retinal arteries can be seen with an ophthalmoscope. In addition, solutions that show up under the X-ray can be injected to visulaize the arterial tree (arteriograph).

TUBERCULOSIS AND KIDNEY

T. L. writes: Does kidney tuberculosis come from lung tuberculosis?

REPLY

Not necessarily, but often enough to warrant chest X-rays. Many victims of renal tuberculosis have perfect lungs.

HEAT AND THE EYES

E. writes: My friend says it is harmful for anyone with glaucoma to keep basting her roast that is cooking in the oven. Heat, supposedly, is bad for the eyes. Is she correct?

REPLY

No, there is no harm.

Today's Health Hint — Avoid unnecessary bending or stretching at all times.

TRANVERSE FRACTURE

B. C. writes: What is meant by a transverse fracture? My husband broke a small bone in his ankle and this is what the doctor called it.

REPLY

The bone is cracked from side to side (transverse) in contrast to an up and down (vertical) break. Another way of saying this is that the bone is fractured at right angles to its axis.

SCARLET FEVER EFFECTS

A. d. writes: Does scarlet fever injure the kidneys and hearing?

REPLY

Yes, but thanks to the wonder drugs, these complications are not common today. Involvement of the ears and the kidneys stems not only from the causative organism but from the toxins manufactured by the streptococci.

CAUSES OF SINUS DISEASE

B. L. writes: What causes sinus trouble?

REPLY

Neglected nasal infections are the most frequent origins of sinus disease.

PROUD FLESH

A reader writes: What causes proud flesh on a big toe?

REPLY

Following a wound, repair of the underlying tissues exceeds that of the skin and projects above the surface. Unless removed, healing is delayed. Proud flesh is insensitive to pain and is easily clipped off with scissors and cauterized.

Contract For New Bridge Seen Tonight

The Coast Guard has approved the construction of a fixed bridge at Washington Street in Petaluma, with the city council expected to award construction contracts tonight.

Knowing the council must act on the contracts by March 20, Mayor Helen Putnam traveled to Washington, D.C., two weeks ago in an attempt to speed Coast Guard approval. In giving the signal to go ahead with construction, the Coast Guard agreed to halt navigation on the Petaluma River upriver from the bridge.

The council is expected to award the contract to the apparent low bidder, the Future Construction Co. of Dublin at $275,327. City engineer David Young had estimated the cost at $281,840 and said, "This figure is $7,000 under my estimate and I consider it a fine bid."

Construction costs include demolition of the old drawbridge, construction of a new five-lane bridge with pedestrian walkway and an improve entry intersection at Petaluma Boulevard North. The bridge will be 105 feet long and 89 feet wide. Three lanes of traffic will travel west and two lanes east.

Sidewalks with three extending balconies on each side will provide a place to stop and view the river. A special safety feature will be a five-foot brick divider. Pedestrians will be protected from traffic by an attractive steel barrier.

Texas has more than 200 species and varieties of trees.

Warrant Stop Leads To Marijuana Count

A Novato man stopped on an outstanding traffic warrant early Saturday was arrested by Novato police on suspicion of possession of marijuana.

Booked into Marin County Jail was Rene Gabriel Reclus of 42 Los Alondras Court. He was held on $500 bail.

Discrimination Charges Due Probe

Evidence in a case charging the Kaiser Foundation Hospital at 99 Montecillo Road, Terra Linda, with racial discrimination in discharging two Negro orderlies in November 1967, will be heard by a panel of the Fair Employment Practice Commission on Wednesday, starting at 10 a.m. in Room 4190, 455 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco.

FEPC Chairman Pier Gherini issued the accusation of discrimination against the hospital following an investigation of complaints made by Eugene Washington and Curtis L. Bailey.

Court Denies Bias On Jury

An appellate court has ruled the fact that a Marin Grand Jury foreman was a friend of the district attorney did not prejudice proceedings against a man convicted of smuggling marijuana into the County Jail, District Attorney Bruce B. Bales has reported.

The state Court of Appleas has denied an appeal by Eugene O. Boehm, convicted by jury in July 1967 for the smuggling incident.

Boehm's attorney, A. Leonard Bjorklund, claimed in the appeal that since Clifford S. Lund, foreman of the Grand Jury which indicted Boehm, was Bales' former campaign manager that the jury was prejudiced against Boehmn.

The higher court ruled that nothing had been presented to show that there was bias against the defendant.

Lund was Bales' campaign manager when he successfully ran for district attorney in 1966 against Bjorklund.

Boehm, who was serving time in jail for felony child beating, and his common-law wife, Roberta Marie Buckley, were accused of conspiring to smuggle marijuana into the jail.

Boehm had been convicted of beating Mrs. Buckley's son, who died later at Marin General Hospital.

Boehm received an additional year in the County Jail for the marijuana conviction in addition to the year he spent on the child beating sentence.

Another Bond Vote May Be Set

A resolution calling for another bond election will be considered by the San Rafael Board of Education at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district office.

The board indicated at its last meeting it would try to place the $2.1 million elementary district bond issue before the voters again in June. The issue was defeated Feb. 18.

The board will also consider a recommendation on daily patriotic observances in the high schools instead of daily recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance.

Charge Dropped Against Visitor

A charge of marijuana possession has been dismissed in Marin Municipal Court against William Edward Pola, 20, of Alameda, after the district attorney's office said the evidence in the case probably had been obtained illegally.

Pola was arrested during a drug raid on a house at Muir Beach on Feb. 19. He arrived at the house while agents were there, and allegedly had a marijuana cigarette in his possession.

His attorney on Friday asked that Judge Hadden W. Roth also issued an order returning to Pola $324 which was taken from him at the time of the arrest.

Judge Roth ordered the sheriff's department to return the money but said that if it had been turned over to the Internal Aevenue Service, as often happens in such cases, he could not order the return as he had no jurisdiction over a federal agency.

Warrant Issued In Fraud Case

Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court has issued a bench warrant for Billy Gene McFarland of Oakland, who failed to make a court appearance Friday on a charge of possessing money orders with intent to defraud.

Bail on the bench warrant was set at $2,500.

Employment Increases Fifth Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's total employment rose substantially for the fifth straight month to 76.2 million in February and unemployment remained at a 15-year low of 3.3 per cent, the Labor Department said today.

"It occurred in almost all the industries," Asst. Commissioner Harold Goldstein of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said of the employment increase totaling 380,000 last month.

The total of Americans at work had risen 1.6 million in the last 5 months, twice the rate of growth in the first nine months of last year, Goldstein said.

The total employment figure of 76.2 million is an all-time high after adjustment for seasonal factors, he said.

The total of unemployed in February was 2.9 million. About one-fourth of them were seeking only part time jobs.

The jobless rate of 3.3 per cent of civilian labor force has remained unchanged for 3 straight months.

EARNINGS RISE

The bureau also reported that average hourly earnings for some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose one cent in February to $2.96.

"We should hit the three-dollar mark pretty soon," Goldstein said.

Average weekly earnings were up 37 cents to $111.00, an all-time high.

Goldstein noted that the average manufacturing work week has declined slightly for the fifth straight month to 40.5 hours, the lowest in nearly a year.

He said this could mean a possible slow-down in the economy, or just a tapering off in the rate of recent rapid growth.

GROWING FORCE

"It may not be a precursor of a decline in employment," he said.

Goldstein said that along with the big rise in nonagricultural employment totaling 1.6 million in five months, the labor force had grown almost the same amount in that period.

"That's a very substantial increase. It can't keep it up," he said.

The civilian labor force rose to 79.1 million in February.

The unemployment rate for men was 1.9 per cent in February, nearly a record low, and for married men 1.4 per cent, lowest on record.

The jobless rate for women was 3.5 per cent for the past 4 months, lowest in 15 years.

The long high jobless rate for teenagers remained at 11.7 per cent in February. It has been under 12 per cent only four other times in the last 11 years, the bureau said.

Speed Chase Leads To Arrest In Drug Probe

A 43-year-old Mill Valley man was arrested on suspicion of driving under the influence of narcotics early Saturday after a 100-mile-per-hour chase from Waldo Grade to Tamalpais Valley, the California Highway Patrol reported yesterday.

Officers said Harry Elmer Chapman of 32 Birch Street was halted at Miller Avenue and Almonte Boulevard after the chase along Highway 101 and Shoreline Highway at 3:25 a.m.

Officers said Chapman's car attracted their attention when it sped northbound through the Golden Gate Bridge toll lanes at 50 miles an hour.

They gave chase and when they put on the red light and siren, Chapman's car sped to more than 100 miles an hour.

Officers said they found a packet of white powdery substance in Chapman's car. He was booked on suspicion of driving under the influence of narcotics and possession of narcotics.

He was released under $500 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Stolen Property Suspects Nabbed

Two Bel Aire men were arrested by sheriff's deputies Saturday morning on suspicion of receiving stolen property, a car stolen from Chico, Butte County.

Booked at Marin County Jail under $1,875 bail each were William Owen, 28, also known as Robert Lee Henke, and Otho Lee Wood, 25, both of 83 Claire Way, Bel Aire, Tiburon Peninsula.

Bagley Criticizes Reagan For 'Bombing' Tax Report

I-J Special Report

SCRAMENTO — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, today criticized Gov. Ronald Reagan for rejecting the recommendations of the Govenor's Advisory Commission on Tax Reform.

"I just can't understand why the governor 'bombed' the distinguished members of his advisory commission, and the commission's report, before the ink was dry," Bagley declared in a press statement.

Bagley, as chairman of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, is expected to introduce legislation to carry out many of the commission's recommendations.

A principal recommendation, withholding of state income taxes, long has been advocated by Bagley in direct opposition to the governor's position against withholding.

"The State of California is facing a financial crisis in the financing of major construction projects," Bagley said, noting tha the state was unable to market $40 million in bonds last week. "This is the first time that I can remember when the state's bonds have been unsaleable," he said.

The "crisis," however, can be averted by withholding, which would raise $115 to $140 million a year in additional tax revenue, Bagley said. Withholding also would provide a one-year revenue hike of $300 million because the state would be collecting for two tax years at one time.

The governor's commission, headed by Controller Houston I. Flournoy, also recommended a statewide property tax and sales taxes on utilities and services.

A Capella Choir In Need Of Singers

The Mill Valley a capella group is in need of singers. The choral group meets on Thursdays at 8:30 p.m. in the Edna Maguire School music room.

Further information may be obtained by reaching Mrs. J. J. Diederich of Mill Valley or the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department.

In this tire-squealing, torque-out world, is there a place for an automobile that can stop heroically?

Mercedes-Benz thinks so.

The 250 comes with 4-wheel disc brakes. No domestic sedan does. Something to stop and think about.

At a traffic light, a number of sleek, snarling domestic cars can blast ahead of the sedate Mercedes-Benz 250 pictured at right.

So be it, say Mercedes-Benz engineers. So be it, say Mercedes-Benz 250 owners.

A question of emphasis

It's not that the Mercedes-Benz engineers don't know how to build a potent motor car.

Their 6.3 Mercedes-Benz 300SEL, for example, recently appraised by Road and Track as "merely the greatest sedan in the world," is the fastest series production sedan ever made.

But that exuberant machine is intended for the autobahns, and other wide open spaces, where high speed driving is relatively safe. And it sells to a rather rarefied clientele at a rather rarefied $14,450*.

For their bread-and-butter models in the $4,500 to $10,000 range—cars for everyday people in everyday traffic—Mercedes-Benz engineers take a much more pragmatic view. Stubbornly refusing to sacrifice a driver's pocketbook to his libido, they insist on striking a sane balance between engine size and fuel economy.

Result: the new 250 is endowed with a 6-cylinder, overhead-cam, 7-main-bearing gem of a powerplant. It can hurtle this 3,000 pound Mercedes-Benz along indefinitely at the highest posted speeds in America—with energy in reserve. Yet fuel consumption rivals that of the lowliest domestic compacts.

The hot-rodder who torques out in front of a Mercedes-Benz 250 scores a Pyrrhic victory indeed.

Turnabout

The owner of a Mercedes-Benz 250, on the other hand, can confidently challenge the driver of any domestic sedan to a stoplight duel—at stopping.

The blunt fact is that not one domestic sedan, regardless of price, comes with 4-wheel disc brakes. But every Mercedes-Benz, regardless of price—like 200-mph Grand Prix racing cars—comes with a massive disc brake at every wheel.

Why do experts rate discs superior to conventional drum brakes?

Because, in a variety of situations—in rainy weather driving when brakes may get wet, in downhill driving with continual braking, even in one smoking panic stop after another at extreme speeds—disc brakes are far better able to dissipate heat and moisture, and thus to resist fading or lock-up, the most common types of brake failure.

Mercedes-Benz engineers believe that the brakes should be the most powerful part of any car. In a Mercedes-Benz, they are.

One-upmanship

As you might expect, the Mercedes-Benz 250 also handles and corners better than all domestic sedans—even the newest 1969 "dreamboats" to roll off the assembly line.

Scrapping the solid rear axle system of conventional cars, the 250 uses an all-independent suspension, plus anti-sway bars front and rear. The result is leech-like roadability—even on rutted and potholed gravel lanes.

There is no sloppy play in the steering, either. You are blessed with the "feel" of the road. When you turn the wheel, the car reacts instantly. Suddenly, you are a more confident driver.

Many cars are designed to win admiration for their owners. Mercedes-Benz cars are designed to win admiration from their owners. Quite a distinction.

The pinnacle of safety

Of all the world's motor cars, concluded Car and Driver magazine after roadtesting the new 250, the current Mercedes-Benz line "represents the present pinnacle in safe car engineering."

This sober judgment is based in part on the remarkable responsiveness of the 250, its almost uncanny ability to evade blundering motorists.

But it reflects, too, the extraordinary measures Mercedes-Benz engineers have taken to provide protective packaging for passengers if the worst happens—measures that go beyond the letter of U.S. safety regulations.

The 250's entire passenger compartment is built as a sturdy "safety zone." Doors are designed to stay shut on impact. The front and rear sections of the car are engineered to crumple in a violent crash at a controlled rate, absorbing shock and reducing the threat of serious injury.

"My car was wrecked," reported a Mercedes-Benz owner after a serious head-on collision, "but thanks to Mercedes-Benz safety engineering, I escaped with my life."

Flat-out in comfort

The 250 is as habitable as it is roadworthy and safe.

Probing with stethoscopes, engineers tracked down and winnowed out irksome harmonic vibrations in the bodywork and drive train. "There is as little inside noise at 100 mph as at a standstill," observed a journalist after test runs on a racing circuit.

Slip into the seat of a 250. It reclines—for catnaps. Check the rear shelf. Carpeted. Nudge the door closed. A satisfying "ka-chunk."

Born to last

Your 250 is built with uncompromising care to make it a durable investment, too. It is not bolted into being, like an ordinary car, but solidified by thousands of welds. After 50,000 miles or so, you may begin to wonder if it will ever rattle.

More than four coats and 44 pounds of paint and primer rust protection are lavished on each car at the factory. The insides of the hubcaps are coated.

Even the lines are designed for durability. Mercedes-Benz scorns planned obsolescence, and deliberately gives all its motor cars the same classic look, free of faddish touches that can readily betray age—and erode your investment.

(Sidelight: While this similarity between Mercedes-Benz models and vintages is a boon to the owner of a 250, it may be a hazard to some drivers. Consider the traffic-light dragster who guns his engine at a "250"—only to writhe in the ignominy of having taunted a 6.3 Mercedes-Benz 300SEL instead.)

If you think the 250 sounds like an unconventional car, you're right. It is. Defiantly so. Mercedes-Benz does not build conventional cars—and never will.

24-page brochure

For more details on the 250, a shrewd $5,299* investment, mail the coupon for a colorful 24-page brochure. Better yet, drop by the showroom and arrange to test the car. Driving is believing.

Other models to ponder:

280SE Sedan—the most roadworthy car you can buy in the luxury class, fuel-injection engine, $6,577*.

280SL Roadster—a sports car for grown-ups, combines soul-stirring performance with comfort, $6,885*.

220 Diesel—the only diesel Mercedes-Benz makes, gives small-car economy in a big, safe sedan that may well endure for decades, $4,780*.

600 Grand Mercedes—the ultimate motor car, $23,759*.

DURING THE TWO WEEKS that began March 3 the home economics department room at Tamalpais High School is being turned into a model restaurant from 9 to 10 a.m. when advanced food class students and F.E.A.S.T. students serve breakfast to faculty and staff members. This is part of their study and work experience program in preparation for occupations related to food and hospitality services.

F.E.A.S.T.

Food Education Includes 'Proof'

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

If you are interested in teenagers and the high school scene today, you should try to get an inviation to one of the Friday monthly luncheons planned, prepared and served by the advanced food class and F.E.A.S.T. students at Tamalpais High School. The luncheons are sponsored by the school and the Parent-Teacher Association.

THE F.E.A.S.T. (a very appropriate acronym for Food Education and Service Training) program itself conducted under the Vocational Educational Act of 1963 is fascinating — the luncheon is delicious — and you may learn some surprising and interesting things about what is going on at the school.

This was my experience when I attended the February luncheon with some 20 other people of the community.

Mrs. Richard Jessup, president of the Tamalpais High School P-TA unit, says the group became interested not only in offering the students another opportunity to practice their skills but in using the luncheons to promote better understanding of the school's problems by members of the community.

"The school is doing a tremendous job in trying to fill all the needs of the student who isn't college bound," she says, "and they study new programs all the time trying to give a very full, diversified program.

"IF THE PEOPLE who are uncertain about the high school would try to get more in touch with it and have a more positive feeling about it, it would be a much healthier situation."

During the luncheons held from noon to 1 p.m. in the faculty conference room, Tamalpais High School principal Robert Prather suggests several topics the guests may wish to discuss, and after giving information on one or more selected, gives the opportunity to ask questions or make comments.

The day I attended there was a lively discussion of the drug education program going on at the school.

One of the things housewives may want to explore is how the F.E.A.S.T. students put on the luncheons for 20 people with the $15 the P-TA provides for each luncheon. P-TA chairmen for the luncheons are Mrs. William Everts and Mrs. Hans Schiller.

MRS. MARCELETT HENRY, head of the home economics department at the school, supervises preparation of the food for the luncheons. She explained the workings of F.E.A.S.T.

"The specific purpose of the program is to train students to enter occupations related to food and hospitality services, such as those in hotels, motels, restaurants, clubs and hospitals," she said.

"Though the course is designed to develop some skills necessary for those who plan to go to work immediately upon graduation or to lay the groundwork for others who want to continue their education in the field at the community college or university level, we try to emphasize the developing of necessary behaviour for employment rather than the skills they can increase later. The course is especially good for any child who lacks employment skills."

The first objective of the program is to have students develop enthusiasm for the hospitality and service industry.

OTHER OBJECTIVES encouraged even before skills are taught are (1) pride in work well done (2) dependability and promptness (3) understanding of managements requirements and union contracts and regulations (4) ability to listen, take orders and follow instructions and work with all types of people under pressure and various work conditions and (5) learning about many kinds of kitchen equipment and sanitary and safety procedures.

The program is open to junior boys and girls who follow a curriculum that includes foods (nutrition, science, sanitation and quantity cookery), English and mathematics related to food service, social studies and physical education.

In the senior year the program follows a study and food service work experience plan. The curriculum includes American government, physical education and such electives as accounting, typing, bookkeeping and office machines.

UNDER THE WORK experience the students are employed a minimum of 12 to 15 hours a week at a minimum wage of $1.50 per hour in restaurants, hospitals and convalescent homes. This is done under the guidance of John Wilbert, the work experience coordinator, and an advisory committee made up of people from business and industry.

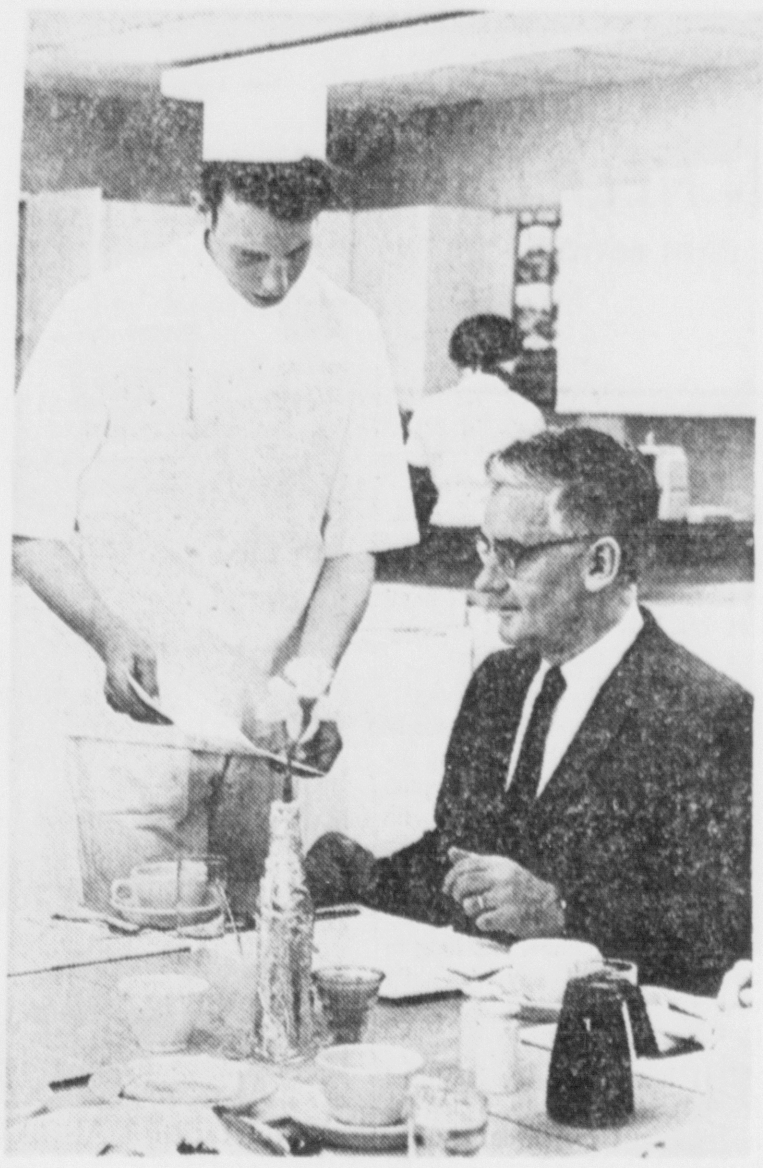
Employers in business and industry are pleased with the caliber of work done by the students, Mrs. Henry says.

The F.E.A.S.T. program has been going on at Tamalpais High School for two years, but it is the first year for the luncheons. During the two weeks that started on March 3 the students are working on a project that will give Mrs. Henry an opportunity to rate their proficiency in a complete operation involving all procedures in the program, and the students will also rate themselves.

THIS IS A MODEL restaurant set up in the home economics department where the faculty may purchase breakfast at a minimum cost. Involved are purchasing, planning and cooking the food, taking orders, operating a cash register and cleanup afterwards. During the second week the students may invite their parents for breakfast.

Anyone wishing to attend one of the monthly luncheons may have his name placed on the list by calling Mrs. Everts or Mrs. Schiller, both of Mill Valley.

TAMALPAIS HIGH SCHOOL advanced food class and F.E.A.S.T. students have the most modern commercial kitchen equipment, including a microwave oven, to use in preparing food for the breakfasts and community luncheons. Students are, from left, Margaret Andersen, Kirp Chapman, Kevin Greene and Gladys Porter. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)



MAITRE D'HOTEL Nick Clark takes the breakfast order of Tamalpais High School principal Robert Prather in the restaurant operation that gives F.E.A.S.T. students practical experience. They also serve luncheons once a month to some 20 people invited from the community. During these luncheons, sponsored by the school and the P-TA, guests discuss with Prather topics of current interest at the school.

MARGARET HENRY (right), head of the home economics department, supervises preparation of food for the faculty and staff breakfasts and community luncheons planned, prepared and served by food classes and F.E.A.S.T. students at Tamalpais High School. With a cloud of smoke and a hearty hi-ho hot rod, this Top Fuel dragster roared away from starting line for quarter-mile run in National Open meet at new Sears Point International Raceway yesterday.

Crowd Of 12,000 At Sears Point Drag Races

JIM GILMARTIN

Race Track Traffic Backed Up For Miles

PUTT PUTTS FROM MOTORLAND—Mr. Alan S. Hart of 150 Oak Street, San Francisco, can expect a considerable amount of fan mail in the next few days.

Mr. Hart, you see, is district engineer for the state Division of Highways, District 4, which encompasses, in particular, the junction of highways 37 and 121. And when the new Sears Point International Raceway at that southern Sonoma County junction opened this weekend there resulted a monumental traffic jam that defys description, particularly yesterday.

The crowd of 12,000 and another 3,000 to 5,000 turned away, had traffic backed up for miles in most directions, particularly to the south on highway 37, a divided thoroughfare that funneled the mass of humanity onto two-lane 121 and the entrance to the huge motor sports complex.

During the day Raceway officials distributed 10,000 form letters addressed to Hart, saying in part, "The only major problem Sears Point has is the fact that the ingress and egress is poor. The highways serving the property must be improved . . . I am a taxpayer and I buy gasoline and part of the tax money goes to highway improvement. Can some of this money be spent to make access to Sears Point better?"

Super Test Of Patience

Getting into the raceway was a super test of patience. It took I-J photographer Jim Kean 45 minutes to travel the last mile and one-quarter into the raceway shortly before 11 a.m. The traffic was backed up south beyond the Marin-Sonoma county line at times during the morning.

One elderly couple, out for a ride in the country, innocently found itself in the mess, was directed to a parking area and couldn't get out. Screamed the gent, "I don't want any part of your ⅜$//"&⅜ race track. I just want to go to Sonoma; get me outta here."

After the race, Sunday drivers southbound out of the Valley of the Moon hit the traffic mess and, an hour after the last race, cars were backed up three and one-half miles. The last cars did not get out of the parking lots until approximately 6:45 p.m., some three hours after the race. Luckily, heavy rains did not start to fall until most cars were off the dirt parking areas.

Wait 'Til Sports Cars

But you ain't seen nuthin' yet, folks. Wait until March 29-30 when the first Sports Car Club of America road races on the new track are expected to attract far greater crowds than did the drag racers over the weekend.

The hot rod attendance was announced as 5,165 for qualifying Saturday and 12,000 yesterday. In most cases they were well behaved, but a few of the inevitable fist fights broke out. The place was beautifully policed and the people who paid $3 apiece Saturday and $4 yesterday seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves. Weather was good Saturday and yesterday morning, but a cold wind chilled the throng yesterday afternoon.

Most of the drivers and mechanics I talked to called the new raceway a really professional development and a credit to Sonoma County. There were the expected squawks, but those will be ironed out in time with completion of facilities. Raceway officials plan to make Highway 121 a three-laner directly in front of their property to ease traffic, and parking will be better when some flooded areas dry out. Only half of the 5,000-seat grandstand was completed for the hot rods but the remainder will be ready for March 29-30.

A Hungry, Thirsty Crowd

IN THE two days concessionaire Ed Hickerson's staff of 20 workers sold 15,000 hot dogs (40 cents apiece), amost 500 cases of beer (40 cents), 1,000 12-ounce cups of Coca Cola at 20 cents a cup, 8,200 cups of coffee at 15 cents a cup and 2,600 Poor Boy sandwiches.

"I never spent longer days in my life," whewed Hickerson of San Anselmo, father of College of Marin football star Bill Hickerson. "I think people go to races just to stand in line and eat. We could have sold a lot more if we could have got food and drinks out faster, but we'll be better prepared the next time."

He said the 500 cases of beer sold at the track represented only about one-third of the suds consumed on the premises as many folks brought their own six-packs.

Redwood Captures 5th Spot

By GARY TISCHLER

Redwood High School's basketball team, perhaps the second-best team in the tourney, finished fifth in the big Alameda Athletic League, 79-66, for the consolation title at the Oakland Coliseum.

It's a matter of pure speculation of just how far the Giants would have gone had they not lost in the First round to the Oakland Athletic League's Castlemont, which whipped Hayward 79-56 in the championship mismatch Saturday.

ROMPS

Sacred Heart of San Francisco romped over North Bay champ Montgomery of Santa Rosa for third place.

Redwood, which gave Castlemont its best game in losing 80-72 in the opener, added new prestige to the Marin County Athletic League.

The Giants of Redwood held the record for most points by a team in three games for two hours, with 231 points. But then Castlemont broke the record again with its 79 points for a 239 total. The old record was 228 points, set by McClymonds of Oakland in last year's tournament.

Jerry Piro, the leading scorer in the tournament along with Warren Morse of Hayward, easily made the all-tournament team dominated by Castlemont.

ALL-TOURNEY

Squirmy guard Mike Quick, 6-foot-7 center Robert Gums, and 6-5 Norman Knowles made it for Castlemont. Tom Tiedeman squirreled in for Montgomery, Morse and Dennis Bragonier were named from Hayward, while Mauro Luvisotti was named for Sacred Heart. Ken Gulliland, of disappointing St. Joseph, also was named to the team as was Mark Rosance of El Cerrito.

Piro's 68-point, 3-game total placed him eighth in the tournament's all-time scoring list, ahead of some pretty good company that includes former McClymonds star Paul Silas.

A FIRST

The win over El Cerrito was the first time that a Marin County Athletic League team had beaten an Alameda League team in the tournament's history.

At that, the victory didn't come as easily as the final score

Miss Walsh Defeated In Finals

Seventeen-year-old Sharon Walsh of San Rafael didn't win the title but made a heck of an impression in the first Lodi Invitational Indoor Tennis Tournament at the Grape Pavilion in Lodi this weekend.

After pulling off two straight upsets, Sharon finally lost in the women's finals, bowing to second-seeded Diane Carter of Los Altos in a thriller, 7-9, 7-5, 6-2.

Sharon, unseeded in the tournament, had knocked off top-seeded Ceci Martinez, nationally 11th-ranked women's singles player from San Francisco, in the opener, then whipped fourth-seeded Gail Hansen of Palo Alto Saturday. Both upsets came in straight sets.

Sharon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Les Walsh of San Rafael, is a student at San Rafael High School.

Garlits Wins Feature Event

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

To borrow a line from Francis Albert Sinatra, "It was a VERY Goodyear."

For national drag racing champion Don Garlits, that is.

Testing a set of experimental Goodyear tires, the "Big Daddy" of the wild world of the drags roared to victory in the top fuel eliminator class yesterday to highlight the two-day National Open Drag meet, first official event at the new Sears Point International Raceway.

A turnaway crowd of more than 12,000 persons created a gigantic traffic jam the likes of which Sonoma County has never seen. Saturday's qualifying runs for the 321 entries attracted a crowd of 5,165 for the National Hot Rod Association-sanctioned event.

CHAMPION

Garlits, the 36-year-old three-time national champion from Seffner, Fla., beat Seattle's Dick Kalivoda in a relatively slow finals, covering the quarter-mile run (1,320 feet) in 7.31 seconds at 184.42 miles an hour.

Garlits, whose fastest run was 215.84 mph and 6.99 seconds elapsed time in qualifying Saturday, explained yesterday's slow poke run: "That wind was so rough I almost lost it (control) and had to get off the throttle after 1,000 feet." His 6.99 ET was the first to crack the seven-second barrier at Sears Point.

"Big Daddy," thus named because of his pioneer work in 16 years of sanctioned drag racing, said his new Goodyears bit into the new asphalt track quite well and could have recorded faster times in warmer, windless weather.

STREAK

His AA-Fuel Class supercharged Dodge V-8 streaked across the finish line just two minutes before rain started to hit the area at 3:50 p.m.

Earlier in the afternoon a "rail" driven by Don Madigan of Santa Cruz went out of control after the finish of the Top Gas semi-finals, hit a bank and rolled over about five times. The engine blew on his car and spewed oil into his eyes, but he walked away otherwise unhurt.

Fastest clocking of the weekend was turned in Saturday by Walnut Creek's Jim Davis at 218.92 in the AA Fuel class, the heavyweight division of drag racing. But he was eliminated early yesterday.

Garlits picked up $2,000 for his victory, as did Danny Ongais of Honolulu for his victory in the Funny Car division, gunning Mickey Thompson's Mustang Mach I coupe to a finals clocking of 187.72 and ET of 8.22 seconds.

CITRUS OPEN

At Long Last, Ken Still Wins First Golf Tourney

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Ken Still and Sandy Koufax have something in common beside a personal friendship — they both waited along time to become winners.

But while Sandy sat on the Dodger bench waiting his chance, Still bounced around 16 years from job to job before winning his first golf tournament.

Ken's moment finally came yesterday at the $115,000 Citrus Open with a final round 70 for a 72-hole total of 10-under par 278, one stroke ahead of Miller Barber. But it came the hard way.

"It was a peculiar round," Still admitted after accepting the $23,000 first prize.

The friendly, 34-year-old bachelor from Tacoma, Wash., said he felt he'd win the tournament after an eight-foot putt for a par 5 on the first hole of the par 72 Rio Pinar Country Club course. But his prediction was premature.

He hit into a lake on the 165-yard, par 3 12th for a double bogey and scrambled for a par 4 at 14 when he ound the water again. And at 18 his second shot landed in the gallery.

"I started to cry in the middle of the 18th fairway because I knew if I'd par in, I'd win," he said.

"When I finished I felt like jumping over the top of the TV stand. I've never been so happy."

Barber blew himself out of contention when he topped his tee shot at 18 and landed his second shot under the bleachers for a double bogey 6.

Johnny Pott, tied after the third round with Bert Yancey, wound up at 280 with Orville Moody.

Gay Brewer finished at 281. In at 282 were Lee Trevino, Dave Stockton, Tom Weiskopf and Lee Elder.

Yancey posted a 283 and tied for 10th with Jack Nicklaus, 1968 champion Dan Sikes, Dean Refram and Dale Douglass.

Still, a baseball fan, met Koufax when he lived in Los Angeles. They frequently teamed for pro-am events.

"I admire Sandy more than anyone in sports," Still said.

Still's golf career almost ended when it began. He was released by the head pro at his first club job in Tacoma. From there on he worked various jobs before his money ran out.

Still got a new manager and joined the tour full time in 1961.

"I had my ups and downs after that and almost quit the tour in 1964," he said.

But he stuck it out. Yesterday's first prize boosted his career earnings to more than $75,000.

"Golf has been very good to me," Still said.

Red-Hot Celts Bomb Warriors 138-89

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors have finished their National Basketball Association season play with the defending champs, the Boston Celtics — and from the way the windup game went, they should be glad that's over with.

The Celtics thumped San Francisco 138-89 yesterday and the Warriors were behind 19 or more points from late in the second quarter on. In the last period Boston outscored the losers 45-22.

Sam Jones, who played on nine of the 10 Boston world champion teams, was honored between the halves because he is retiring at the end of the season. Jones' 16 points — all in the first half — helped the Celtics build up a 30-point lead.

The Warriors, for whom a three-game winning streak was snapped, and the Celtics, who ended a three-game losing string, have divided this season's play 3-3. It was the first time in six games the Celtics got above 100 points.

Larry Siegfried, with 28 points was high scorer and contributed 16 to the Boston buildup in the first half. His teammate, John Havlicek had 22, and Bob Lewis' 19 paced San Francisco.

The Warriors meet Milwaukee's Bucs here tonight.

HELEN HELP US!

Language 'Melts The Walls' And Wife Threatens Divorce

DEAR HELEN:

My husband is basically a good man, but his language is enough to melt the walls. It has always been this way, but I think his swearing and obscene words have become worse since the children came. Or maybe I notice them more because when you hear your child called a terrible, dirty name, you want to kill, almost.

We don't have a mad house, Helen, so he can't blame this on nerves. Those filthy words just flow out. He hardly remembers saying them, though they're worse when he gets mad.

I've tried everything including the threat of divorce. Nothing helps. He's a longshoreman, so I guess he comes by Those Words naturally, but why can't he leave them on the job? — FED UP

DEAR FED UP:

Uncontrollable swearing can be a disease. I wouldn't dare diagnose from here, but I do advise you to discuss this situation with your doctor. He will perhaps steer your husband toward professional help.

If Those Words are merely habit, you might cure him by walking out of the house the moment they start. Be sure you and the children stay away long enough to let the lesson percolate. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Is it true that the parents of the bridegroom must pay for the reception? — PERPLEXED

DEAR PER:

Not true. Parents of the bride foot the entire wedding and reception bill. A happy gesture is for the bridegroom's parents to entertain the wedding party at dinner after the rehearsal. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

It's a good thing I can't meet up with "Lonely Frustrated Husband" or we might just wander off into the sunset leaving our unloving mates behind.

I am nice looking, pleasant, keep a neat home. My husband has been given all the loving attention a man can handle, plus forgiveness for anything he does. Sex is never forbidden or bargained for — from my side.

He is the love-withholder, for any little annoyance. If I long to be kissed, he'll say, "What's wrong with you?" — making me feel almost obscene.

If I have been ill, he turns from me completely. When he had the flu I waited on him like a slave, but when I caught it, he never once came into the sick room. It was as if he hated me for inconveniencing him. Or I was "unclean."

When he wants love it's for his own satisfaction only. And this is very seldom, as if he feels guilty about it. He reads, eats and watches TV, and I don't dare talk to him.

Is it any wonder I dream about another man — almost any man would do? — LONELY FRUSTRATED WIFE

DEAR WIFE:

No wonder at all! But before you give up on this marriage, remember your husband is a lonely, blighted man who somehow associates sex with shame. If a counselor could change his attitudes, you'd find those daydreams aren't necessary. — H.

Texas High School Replaces Obscenity With Sex Education

By MIKE WESTER

WHITEFACE, Tex. (UPI)—The obscenity on restroom walls provides the only sex textbook for many of today's high school students—but not in Whiteface, a town of about 500 population in the Texas Panhandle.

Here, under the direction of Charles Booz, Whiteface High School principal, the sex education program became a part of home and family living classes for a mixed group of junior and senior boys and girls during the 1967-68 school year. It began at the request of both students and parents.

SEX EDUCATION is taught twice a week. The other three days are devoted to home and family living. Written permission from both parents is required before a student may enroll in the class.

Last year there were 10 girls and five boys enrolled. This year's class includes 44 of a possible 52 students.

BEFORE INITIATION of the first class the material to be taught was presented to the parents and the community including the four local clergymen. Parents were informed about the scope of the program, including an outline of material to be covered.

Consent from parents and the clergy was unanimous. Leaders of the community met with the school officials and the result was the same.

"Among 13 objectives set out in the course is to enable the students to base his decisions on sound knowledge not ignorance," Booz says. "We hope to give pupils a clear understanding of the place of sex in marriage and intersexual relations for the future, and also help them understand important features of masculine-feminine behavior as related to sexual behavior."

THE KEY to the success of the program is the ability of the teacher to communicate with the student and the desire of the students to communicate with each other.

Relief of the students' anxieties and the threats imposed by the subject is the first step in making this communication possible, Booz says.

"WE EXPLAINED to the students that the course would be based on discussion, for which they were grateful," Booz says. "They have a chance to discuss with each other the subjects which are a vital concern to them."

An adequate and correct vocabulary is also necessary so discussions can be meaningful to each student. Discussions are frank and open.

"TO BE OTHERWISE would defeat the purpose of the course," Booz says. "Students are encouraged to ask questions but not required to do so. Students may also write questions down and put them in a question box."

Booz says most students use the box at first, but after the first few weeks the embarrassment is gone and they feel free to ask anything that is of concern or interest to them.

STUDENTS actually determine the course content, based on the questions they feel are important. Questions openly discussed are on pre-marriage intercourse, sexual urges, pregnancy, birth control, venereal diseases, virginity and homosexuality.

Ministers, parents and other interested persons attend the class frequently.

"The students seem to grow up overnight in these classes," says one minister. "They not only better understand themselves but each other as well."

Why Cooking Varies For Meat

Many factors affect the cooking time for meat. That's why a range in cooking times is given in most recipes.

Boned roasts are more compact and thus usually require longer cooking time per pound. Other factors include the shape of the cut, ratio of lean to fat and the temperature of the meat when placed in the oven.

It's best to remove meat from the refrigerator and place directly in the oven. But since some refrigerators are colder than others, initial temperature of roasts may vary and hence cooking time.

Meat with a generous amount of fat covering tends to cook faster than leaner meat. That's because melting fat conducts heat well.

Giants Stretch Record To 3-0

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Say hey, say the Giants.

The famous Willie Mays' greeting was shouted by players to each other in the locker room after San Francisco ran its record to 3-0 in the Cactus League yesterday. Mays had another one of those days that make him famous.

The Giants walloped the Cleveland Indians 9-3 in an exhibition game, scoring five runs in the first inning.

Mays led off with a walk and six hits followed. One was a Jim Ray Hart scorcher that made Cleveland pitcher Luis Tiant duck.

Willie scored twice, singled twice, walked twice and now is averaging .555.

Gaylord Perry pitched the victory, yielding only four hits in the three innings he pitched.

Tiant led the American League in earned run average last year with a 1.60, but the Giants pounded him for nine hits and six runs in three innings.

Athletics To Battle S.F. In Exhibition

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Oakland's Athletics play off their current Cactus League series with the Seattle Pilots today and move to Phoenix for their first 1969 game against the San Francisco Giants.

Seattle squared the series at one game all yesterday by scoring three times in the sixth inning and beating the Athletics 6-3.

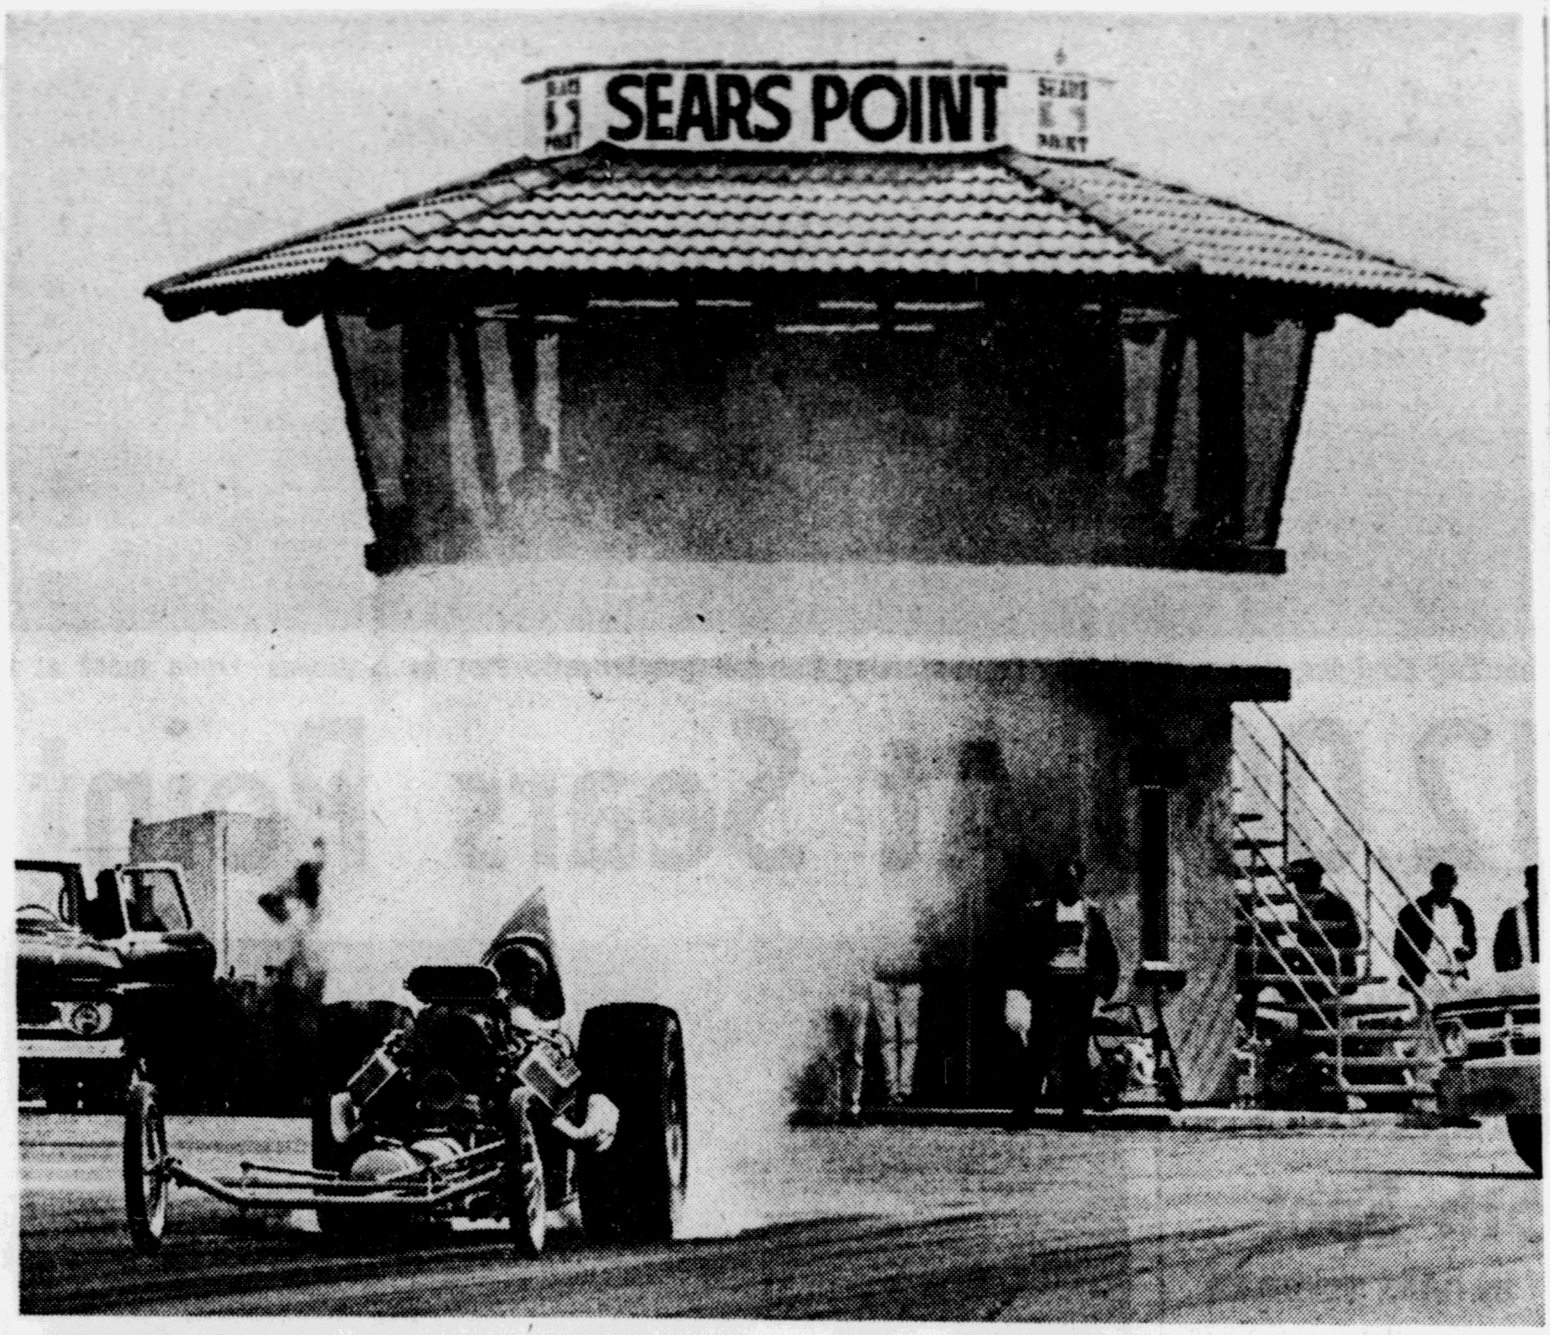
The A's had beaten Seattle 3-2 in 14 innings Saturday.

This time the Pilots broke a deadlock when pinch hitter Dan Mineher singled, Gerry McNertney doubled, Jim Gosger singled and advanced on a throwing error, and Mike Ferrao and Lou Piniella socked sacrifice flies.

The Athletics got out in front 1-0 when Danny Cater singled and went around on a fly ball and a passed ball.

In the third, Rick Monday walked, advanced on a fly ball and infield error, then scored on Reggie Jackson's sacrifice.

Oakland tallied again in the fifth when Tom Reynolds singled, went to second on an infield out and ran home on a single by Monday.



HE'S OFF—Dragsters such as this attained speeds up to 218 mph in a quarter-mile run witnessed by 12,000 spectators yesterday in the Sears Point meet sanctioned by the National Hot Rod Association. More than 300 cars of all descriptions entered the two-day meet, first ever held at the new Southern Sonoma County raceway.

Clippers Defeat Russ Soccermen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A spectacular thrust in the final period gained a 10-0 victory for the California Clippers over the touring Russian soccer stars, Dynamo Kiev, before 11,223 fans.

With yesterday's game deadlocked, Luis Sagastume passed across the field to 5-foot-5 Edgar Marin. He jumped up between taller players and knocked the ball to 5-7 John Kowalik, who headed the ball into the net past Kiev goalie Viktor Vannikov.

Before the finish, the Russians made several thrusts of their own, but Clipper goalie Mirko Stojanovic was equal to the challenge, making several brilliant saves.

The win gave the Clippers an even break in a three game series. The Russians won the opener in San Francisco and were tied in Los Angeles.

The Dynamos made 15 goal shots to the Clippers' seven. The Clippers' goalie made 13 saves to four for the Soviets.

The turf was dry, but it was a windy day with the sun coming and going and the temperature in the 50s.

The Soviets had agreed to play a maximum of four games but could not get another opponent. At one time there was the possibility of a game with a Mexican team in San Diego, but it fell through.

Ray Haugen Wins All-Events Bowling Crown

Ray Haugen has "unofficially" won the all events championship of the 21st annual Marin County Men's Bowling Association Tournament which concluded yesterday at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael and Greenbrae Lanes.

For nine games, three each in singles, doubles and team, Haugen had 1,750 pins scratch and 258 handicap for a total of 2008. Runner-up Elmer Tynes won the all-events scratch trophy with 1968. His 24 pin handicap placed him second at 1992, one pin ahead of Walt Silva (1883-108 — 1991).

Team championship went to Brandon Tires with 2844-244 — 3088. Team members were Ron Chesterton, Joe Cardoza, Don Fredette, Fred Schwab and Jim Folsom.

Tynes won the singles crown in both handicap and scratch divisions with 742-8 — 750 while Frank Bernardi-Dan Burke won doubles scratch and handicap with 1331-36 — 1367.

MCBA secretary Treadway said the unofficial results will be confirmed later this week along with other top scorers in all divisions. The tourney drew 121 team entries, 188 doubles teams, 376 singles and 313 all events. Frank Helbing's 289 was top game of the two weekend tourney.

In an instant replay of the Livermore game, which Redwood won in triple overtime, the Giants sped off to a 39-28 half-time advantage, then blew it all in the third period as El Cerrito outscored Redwood, 24-12, to take a 52-51 lead.

Piro then went to work. He went on a 12-point spree in the final period, igniting a 28-point outburst by Redwood that finally won it.

RALLY

El Cerrito wah ahead by 58-55 with 5:35 left when the Giants scored nine straight points to win going away.

Piro finished with his second straight 25-point night, John Boro had 16 points, rugged senior forward Jim Peters had 14 and 6-6 senior center Pete Webb had 12 points.

Webb, incidentally, hit on 15 out of 22 shots from the field for the tournament.

Montgomery had its second straight disappointing night of the tournament, not even putting up a close battle against hot Sacred Heart.

HOT SHOOTERS

The Vikings trailed by 19-8 at the end of the first period, and by 46-32 going into the final period. Luvisotti scored 26 points for Sacred Heart, which shot a fantastic 58.2 per cent from the field for the tournament.

Tom Fitchie paced the Vikes with 17 points. Montgomery had brought a 22-1 record into the tournament, but closed out at 23-3.

Redwood finished with a 25-5 record.

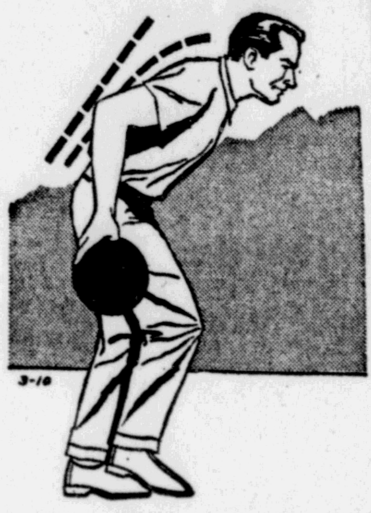
BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Don't wait until your final step to bend. You should be going into a crouch at least by the third step. The purpose is to counterbalance the weight of the ball on the backswing and to bring your body low enough for you to release the ball from just a few inches above the floor.

BASKETBALL ROUNDUP

Wooden Feels USC Upset Will Help Bruins' Play

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Santa Clara, New Mexico State and Weber State probably would have preferred that UCLA remain unbeaten.

Those teams are paired with the nationally top-ranked Bruins in the NCAA Far West regionals which open Thursday at UCLA's Pauley Pavilion.

Ernie Powell sank an 18-foot jump shots with six seconds remaining Saturday night to give arch-rival Southern California a 46-44 upset of UCLA. Bruin coach John Wooden looked upon his team's first whipping in 42 games as a blessing in disguise.

"This defeat night help us in the tournament," he said. "I don't feel too bad. We didn't play up to snuff."

UCLA showed signs of slipping in its two previous games. The Bruins had to go one overtime period to beat California and then were forced into double overtime by USC Friday night before winning.

Despite the loss, UCLA is favored to capture its third straight NCAA championship.

In opening round games Thursday, Big Sky champion Weber State tackles West Coast Athletic Conference titlist Santa Clara and New Mexico State meets UCLA. Finals will be Saturday.

Behind Willie Sojourner's 22 points, Weber State edged Seattle 75-73 and 12th-ranked New Mexico State eliminated Western Athletic Conference champ Brigham Young 74-62 Saturday night in NCAA first-round playoffs at Las Cruces, N.M.

UCLA and Santa Clara drew byes. The Broncos finished with a 26-1 record and 13-1 in the WCAC by whipping St. Mary's 72-56. Bud Ogden tallied 24 points to become the highest scorer in Santa Clara history with 1,410 joints, 17 more than scored by Mike Gervasoni.

At Las Vegas, San Francisco State College (20-8) led with two aces—Joe Callaghan and Girard Chatman—to win a trip to the NCAA college division championships at Evansville, Ind. The Gaters, with Callaghan scoring 22 points and Chatman 20, upset Nevada Las Vegas 77-72.

San Francisco State will play American International College (19-3) at Evansville Wednesday.

In other season-ending WCAC action Saturday, University of Pacific (17-9) overcame a six-point deficit with about five minutes left in the first half to swamp the University of San Francisco 94-72, San Jose State (16-8) crushed Pepperdine 92-60 and UC Santa Barbara rolled over Loyola 86-69. USF closed with a 3-11 conference mark and 7-18 overall.

San Jose State (11-3) finished in second place in the WCAC behind Santa Clara while UOP wound up in third place with a 9-5 mark.

UC Irvine, paced by Steve Sabins' 24 points, beat UC Davis 82-70 for the consolation title in the college division regionals at Las Vegas.

Also making "A" times for the Tamalpais Swim Club were Lee Spellman, boys 11-12; Robert Cruickshank, boys 10-under; Eric Palmer, boys 13-14; and Dick Atwood, boys 11-12.

Foursome Wins Golf Tourney

Frank Carbone, Fred Lesieur, Jim Simon and North Dawson won the Marin Country Club's Men's Association best ball foursome golf tournament at the Marin Country Club course in Novato yesterday with a score of 56.

They finished a stroke ahead of the foursome of Jim Dodd, Jim Henricks, Lloyd Ferguson and Dave Bloom. In a tie for third were foursomes of Ross McKay, Frank Conti, Sil DeMaestri and Joe DeMaestri; and Larry Smith, Bill King, Glenn Groth and Art Ballantine, 59.

Hockey Victory

Teams Need Pinch Hitters To Bat For Pinch Hitters

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Luman Harris and Ralph Houk have discovered, much to their satisfaction, that some good hitters are neither born nor made — but designated.

Now all they have to do is come up with a couole of able appointees to pinch hit for pinch hitters Hank Aaron and Roy White.

Aaron, batting in the pitcher's spot under the designated pinch hitter rule being tried out in spring training games, started Harris' Atlanta Braves to an 11-3 romp over Los Angeles Sunday by smashing a first inning home run.

White, playing the same role for Houk's New York Yankees, socked a tying, three-run homer in a four-run ninth that nipped Baltimore 7-6.

Aaron, however, was hit on the right knee by a Pete Mikkelsen pitch in the seventh inning and will miss today's Braves-Yankee exhibition at West Palm Beach, Fla. And White, who joined the Yanks on a weekend pass from the Army, will be back on duty at Fort Dix, N.J.

While Aaron and White were delivering the long ball in the pinch for the Braves and Yanks, conventional homers helped six other clubs nail exhibition victories.

Loe Lis hit a three-run blast in the 10th inning, keying Philadelphia's 8-4 triumph over Pittsburgh. Larry Hisle and Johnny Callison also homered for the Phillies and Jose Martinez connected for the Pirates.

Rookie Ken Myette pitched three scoreless innings and clouted a two-run homer, leading Cincinnati past the Chicago White Sox 4-0. Detroit scored five runs in the first inning — three on Bill Freehan's homer — and whipped Minnesota 6-3.

Homers by Dalton Jones, Reggie Smith and Billy Conigliaro powered Boston to a 12-4 romp over St. Louis.

Joe Morgan hit a two-run shot as Houston flattened the New York Mets 5-3 with five runs in the third inning and Al Ferrara touched off a four-run second inning burst with a two-run wallop, pacing the San Diego Padres to a 6-2 victory over the San Diego Marines.

Aurelio Rodriguez, Jarvis Tatum and Tom Egan cracked three hits each as California thumped the Chicago Cubs 10-5.

Kansas City's A team trimmed Washington 5-2, handing Ted Williams' Seantors their third setback without a victory, and the Royals B squad, rocked by five Montreal runs in the top of the eighth, struck back with six in the bottom half for an 8-5 conquest of the Expos.

11 Important Questions Answered By IRS Service

Wikel

The Internal Revenue Service, in a meeting with one of the accounting societies, answered questions and made suggestions for handling various matters.

I have been fortunate in securing a copy of these questions and answers and list some of them below with the hope that they may help you.

1. Correspondence with the Western Service Center, Ogden, Utah:

To facilitate the handling of correspondence with the Service Center all letters should include the following information: (1) Name and address as shown on the most recent return and on the return in question, if different; (2) taxpayer identification number (social Security number or Employer Identification number); (3) type of return, and (4) taxable period in question. It also would be helpful if the telephone number of the taxpayer or accountant is furnished.

2. Use of piggy-back labels:

The use of piggy-back labels and pre-addressed, precoded envelopes expedite the processing of returns and correspondence.

3. Proper credit for estimated tax payments after a change in name:

Wherever a taxpayer changes his or her name, the Service Center should be notified at the same time the Social Security Administration is notified of the name change.

4. Extensions of time:

The IRS is very concerned about the large number of extension of time requests submitted each year. Approximately 60 per cent of the requests are approved with adequate justification; however, the remaining 40 per cent of the requests that are denied are causing the greatest concern. Ethically, if a request for an extension cannot be justified, it should not be submitted. Facetious requests should not be submitted merely to cause a delay in the filing of a return.

As a matter of policy, 10 days have been granted to file returns when extensions were denied; however, extensions of time are granted at the discretion of the district director and continued abuse of the program could lead to a complete change of policy.

5. Requirement of a court certificate in connection with statement of claimant to refund due deceased taxpayer, Form 1310:

A court certificate will not normally be required with a Form 1310, "Statement of Claimant to Refund Due Deceased Taxpayer," if the form is otherwise complete and the answer to question 3, Schedule A, is "Yes." This is the question which asks if distribution will be made in accordance with state laws.

6. Time allowed for response to computer generated notices:

The Service Center believes that sufficient time is presently allowed when there is a prompt response. It is recognized that effective taxpayer education is needed to elicit a prompt response.

7. Place of field audit examination:

The convenience of the government was stressed. The examination will normally take place at the taxpayer's place of business where the books and supporting documents are available for inspection. The examining officer will generally refer to the accountant's work papers for significant items only, such as classification of accounts, adjustments between the books and the tax return, and where the work papers contain background material to support a complex issue.

8. District conference procedures:

Per Revenue Procedure 68-4, it will not be necessary to file a protest in order to obtain a district conference or subsequent consideration by the Appellate Division if the tax change in any one year does not exceed $2,500. If a practitioner intends to represent the taxpayer and a power of attorney has not been previously filed, it should accompany the request for a district conference.

This enables the service to contact the representative directly in arranging a suitable time to hold the conference. Only attorneys, CPAs or enrolled persons are eligible to represent a taxpayer at a district conference.

It is the policy of the service to obtain agreement at the lowest level. Therefore, in most cases, if the agreement is not reached with the examining officer the group supervisor will discuss the issues with the taxpayer and attempt to achieve agreement. This discussion is informal. It does not constitute nor should it be mistaken for a district conference with an independent conferee.

In an effort to avoid unreasonable delay in the closing of cases, the district has adopted a more stringent policy for granting request for an extension of time to file a protest.

9. Points:

Points paid in connection with VA or FHA financing are not deductible as interest. In conventional financing one "point" will generally be considered as paid for services and additional "points" are deductible as interest. "Points" paid by the seller are not interest but an expense of sale.

10. More returns to be filed directly with the service center:

Individual taxpayers will be requested to mail their tax returns to the Internal Revenue Service Center, 1160 West 1200 South Street, Ogden, Utah, 84405.

11. signature of preparer of return:

Income Tax Regulations Section 1.6065-1(b) requires the signature of the preparer of an income tax return on the place designated on the return. A rubber stamp does not fulfill this requirement, but may be used in conjunction with the signature. The preparer of a return is the person responsible for the information appearing thereon and not one performing merely clerical functions.

Mill Valley Chase Nabs Woman Check Suspect

A 22-year-old San Francisco woman, who allegedly tried to cash $250 in stolen travelers checks at a Mill Valley bank, has been arrested after a chase joined by two of the bank's officials and another man.

Francille Ann McGee, who already was being sought for failing to appear in court on earlier check charges, was booked into the County Jail on suspicion of passing stolen and forged checks. Her bail was set at $50,000. She was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Mill Valley Police Sgt. Robert Dyche said Miss McGee entered the Crocker-Citizens National Bank at 525 Miller Avenue Friday and tried to cash the checks. The teller took them to assistant manager John Gilbert, who remembered seeing her name on a flier from the bank's main office. Gilbert went to manager Jack Packard who called the main office in San Francisco.

By this time, according to Dyche, the woman had left the bank, saying she wanted to get her little boy out of her car. Once outside, she broke into a run with Gilbert and Packard in pursuit.

Miss McGee outran them and drove away in a 1969 Cadillac. Then Charles Mack Jr., a student and part-time employee of a nearby service station, joined the chase. He, Gilbert and Packard drove Mack's car to look for the woman.

When they spotted her on Blithedale Avenue, Mack pulled his car in front of her and Packard got into her car and forced her to drive back to the bank where she was arrested by Dyche and Inspector Robert Fisk.

San Rafael police then re-arrested Miss McGee on a $25,000 bench warrant issued after she failed to appear in Marin Municipal Court last week on other bad check charges from last summer.

She also is wanted on warrants in San Francisco and Alameda Ctunty, police said.

Dyche said the woman had passed $150 stolen and forged checks in Corte Madera earlier yesterday. Other checks, cash and a stolen payroll check from San Mateo were found in her car, he said.

Phillips' Curve Closely Watched

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My husband and I have heard newscasters mention the Phillips' Curve. Can you make this clear to us and how it may affect us? — M. B.

A. You're already affected by it through the woes of inflation. A chart of the Consumer Price Index over a period of years through 1968 shows a steeply rising curve. This is the Phillips' Curve presenting half of a distrubing lesson in economics. The other half of the lesson concerns the rate of unemployment for the same period of years. Prof. A. W. Phillips of the London School of Economics has made a parallel study of these two sets of statistics from which he points to a significant correlation between inflation and minimum unemployment (or high employment).

This seemingly favorable condition, however, brings rising wages and more expendable cash, tending not only to push up prices but to increase demand for goods and services. Total labor costs run higher, competition among employers in securing workers may boost wage rates and union contracts may do the same. With more money to spend the public pays for prosperity with inflated prices.

President Nixon wants to ease inflationary pressures as soon as possible. The Phillips' Curve warns him that this may adversely affect labor by increasing unemployment. Here is a dilemma for delicate handling by the President and his economic advisers.

Q. If a convertible bond is neither converted nor sent in for redemption by the advertised date, does the bond then become worthless? — S. C.

A. Yes, it does, and for this reason wide publicity is given to the redemption or call date. A 30-day notice is sent to all registered holders to which they should respond promptly. Of course, there are sometimes justifiable personal reasons for delay.

I'm certain, though, that companies issuing a redemption notice are troubled by the possibility of eventual loss to some bondholders because occasionally I have been asked by a company to include a reminder that time is running out on an advertised redemption.

Negotiations Under Way For Part Of Store's Transfer

Negotiations are going on between Lawrence Mayer of Mill Valley and Peninsula women's wear store owner Maurice Hack for the latter to take over the women's and children's wear and housewares store of Mayer's Ltd., Mill Valley.

Mayer, who started practicing law in Mill Valley with Robert Anderson two years ago, says he hasn't enough time to take care of both, and would like to cut down his retail activities to attend to his increasing legal work.

The men's wear store would not be affected in any transaction with Hack — and neither would the property, which is owned by BAM'S Investment Co., headed by Mayer.

A transfer of ownership has not been consummated and no date has been set for a change in proprietorship. If the transaction should go through, Hack says the store will keep the same name. He owns and operates Moss Store in Burlingame as well as five stores in other states.

BAY HISTOLOGY SERVICE, Northgate Industrial Park, has formed a subsidiary company known as Marin Laboratory Supply Co. to market by direct mail a newly designed plastic box for shipping microscope slides.

Shaw-Clayton Plastics, also at Northgate Industrial Park, has contracted for the final design, tooling and plastic injection molding of the box and is now producing initial orders.

Over 8,000 samples have been mailed to members of the biomedical fields.

REX W. HIME of Terra Linda has been appointed manager of Wells Fargo Bank's Northgate office. Recently manager of the Coddington office in Santa Rosa, he joined the bank in 1946 at San Francisco and became assistant manager of the Marina office there in 1961.

He replaces James C. Gain, who is taking an extended leave of absence for several months to do some traveling abroad. He is expected to rejoin the bank in another capacity when he returns.

ROBERT J. BURKHARD of Greenbrae is one of three new assistant vice presidents at Dean, Witter and Co., San Francisco. He joined the company in 1951 and is an assistant manager of the 45 Montgomery Street office.

Pell

MARIN REAL ESTATE BROKER Richard Godfrey has joined a former associate, John Reynolds, at the latter's Reynolds Realty office in Terra Linda. He has been active in real estate here since 1961 and a Marin resident 11 years. Among his clients is his famous father, radio and television star Arthur Godfrey, for whom he handles California real estate investments.

ANOTHER NEW ADDITION at the Reynolds office is Edward Pell of San Rafael. He is a former safety officer with the U.S. Navy and has lived in the county for four years.

TWO MARIN RESIDENTS have received promotions at Honig-Cooper and Harrington, San Francisco-headquartered advertising agency.

Robert W. Maier of Kentfield has been appointed executive vice president. Formerly vice president and assistant to the president and chairman, he came to the agency in 1963 from Lever Bros. in Canada where he was product manager.

Computer Can Trace Names

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A computer system that will verify addresses instantly for law enforcement agencies when complaints are received was introduced yesterday by Sylvania Electric Products Co.

The Beatfinder system was developed by Sylvania's new sociosystems laboratory here and recently tested for the nearby city of San Jose. It replaces the time-consuming manual card index system presently used to check addresses reported by street, intersection, shopping center or building.

The new system divides the city into several hundred "basic area units" of 16 to 144 blocks, with a normal police patrol beat assigned to several of the units. The computer informs the police dispatcher which patrol is responsible for the address reported.

NEW HALL OF JUSTICE

Civic Center Postman Has Extra Steps Ahead

By WAT TAKESHITA

Civic Center postman Lynne F. Boyd Jr. figures to lose a few pounds when the enlongated new Hall of Justice opens this summer.

His present foot beat at the Civic Center, 530 feet long, will be extended by another 858 feet, which means the total length from end to end will be more than a quarter-mile.

But Boyd, who has been on the Civic Center-San Rafael Meadows-Merrydale route for 10 years and in postal service for 12, is game.

"I'm willing to take on the New Hall of Justice if they'd take me off Merrydale Road," said Boyd.

Walking doesn't scare a man who took off 30 pounds in six weeks when he first started the San Rafael Meadows-Santa Venetia route in 1959.

"When I came out of the Air Force in 1957, I weighed 190 pounds," he recalls. After working out of the San Rafael Post Office for two years, he was assigned to the San Rafael Meadows-Santa Venetia foot route in March of 1959. "I dropped to about 160 pounds in six weeks. It sure helped me get into shape. I must have walked 20 miles a day in those days" The 5 foot 10-inch Boyd now weighs 175 pounds, but he figures he won't be able to hang on to all of that if he gets the Hall of Justice.

At present, he spends from 45 minutes to an hour in the Civic Center administration building, pushing and pulling a cart up and down the four floors. "I've never measured it but I guess I walk about a mile and a half a day in that building."

NEW DIMENSIONS—Mailman Lynne F. Boyd Jr. contemplates an addition to his mail route, on which he has grown thinner as it expands. Stretching into the distance behind him is the unfinished top floor corridor of the new Hall of Justice, which eventually will be his responsibility.

Some of his heaviest loads go to the county library on the fourth floor. "Some days I may get up to 150 pounds of books for the library alone," said Boyd. He loads a hand cart, which fits into his motor scooter, and totes the books up the elevator to the library. The ordinary mail he also loads on his cart and pushes along the corridors of each floor delivering to various offices.

The change in the Civic Center area during the last decade is almost incredible, says Boyd. When he first began walking the route from the Catholic Church at Northbridge to Los Ranchitos, the Civic Center area was a wide open, pastoral scene, with cattle and some fruit trees, just about where the circular fountain now spouts in front of the post office.

"Mr. Paganini, I forgot his first name, had his ranch house up there, and he had apples, peaches and some grapes." There were three houses near the present Civic Center Drive, and another house across the street from the barber shop.

Stopping off to chat with Paganini and taste his grapes was a pleasant interlude during his day's walk.

Now he drives one of the mail scooters from the Civic Center to San Rafael Meadows and Merrydale Road.

When he started, there were only eight apartments on his route, in front of Dandy's market at 238 Merrydale Road. Now his route includes 210 apartments, for a total of 450 customers, plus the Civic Center.

For old times sake, he would hate to give up Rafael Meadows.

Boyd knows many of his old time customers by name and is fond of his clients, although some of them give him a bad time.

"Just the other day, Playboy magazine was a few days late, and boy did they complain. Playboy and True Detective — if either one is late, they really give it to me. Some of the older folks think I sit down and read them before I deliver them. What would I want with a couple hundred Playboys and True Detectives?"

"And you gotta watch the older women customers. If you deliver one of those giveaway shopping sheets to one lady, you'd better deliver one to the other lady or you've had it."

But the easy-going, amiable Boyd has learned to minister to the individual needs of his clients.

"I also get a big kick out of the kids, because they're pretty sharp about remembering faces. The adults always see me in uniform and so when I'm off and shopping in town, they walk by without recognizing me. But quite often, a youngster looks up and yells, 'Hey, Mom, look, there's our mailman'."

Boyd lives with his mother, Mary Boyd, at 1714 Mission Avenue in San Rafael.

He has one son, Lynne F. Boyd III, who works for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in San Rafael.

Boyd heads for the Civic Center post office every morning at 6:30 to begin sorting the day's mail. About 10:30, he begins his route, and the day is scheduled to end at 3:30 p.m. But often, he must work after hours because of the increasing volume of mail.

"It's mostly junk mail, shopping sheets, and a terrific climb in magazines such as TV Guides."

As the Hall of Justice nears completion, he dwells at times on the quarter mile walk. "But I don't mind," says Boyd, hitching his trousers. "Might take a few pounds off me, but I'll be in good shape."

County Files Charges In Statue Plans

County officials have taken a dim view of a huge wooden statue of the Mother and Child now in skeletal form on the Sausalito waterfront and filed charges against its builders.

Misdemeanor charges of construction without a building permit have been filed in Marin Municipal Court against artist J. Christopher Roberts, who lives on a nearby houseboat, and his alleged backer, Andrew Loveman, of Mill Valley.

Roberts and Loveman were due to be arraigned Friday, but Judge Hadden W. Roth continued the case until next Friday, saying that if they did not appear then, that bench warrants would be issued.

The framework of the statue, 12 times life size, has been under construction for several weeks on an old marine pile driver mounted on a 130-ton barge.

The giant statue, planned to be semi-representational and finished in redwood and stained glass, is possibly scheduled for the centerpiece of an even larger project Roberts proposed 18 months ago.

This was a floating arts center, museum and galleries built in the four drydocks in Richardson Bay. The base of the statue itself could serve as a gallery, Roberts said.

County officials have indicated, however, that they wanted to look at Roberts' plans to see if the structure might present a hazard by toppling in a high wind.

Inverness Leader Quits Two Panels

Allan D. Telford has resigned as president of the Inverness Improvement Association and as a director of the Inverness Foundation.

Telford, who announced his resignation at a meeting Friday night, said today he found the position "conflicting in time and in some cases philosophy" with his job as manager of the Marin Mosquito Abatment District.

He said he resigned without animosity and to avoid possible conflicts of interest with his job.

Named to fill the vacant directorships of both groups was Igor Z. Sazevich of Sausalito, a San Francisco architect. Vice President Richard Plant Took over as acting president until the next meeting when an election will be held.

Sazevich's first action was to volunteer to sketch plans for a wharf at Shrivers boathouse which is now owned by the foundation. The pier would be designed for public fishing, adjacent to a 900-foot beach the foundation has purchased for community use, Plant reported.

The association agreed to sell five old round-bottom rowboats which are stored in the boathouse to raise money for the wharf project. Plant said the boats are about 30 years old and have "exceptionally good rowing qualities."

A general cleanup of the foundation owned property was scheduled for March, with definite dates to be announced.

The next meeting will be at 8:30 p.m. April 4 at Vladimir's Moravian Restaurant, Inverness.

Stolen Auto's Driver Arrested

A San Francisco man was arrested by San Rafael police Saturday after police found him driving a car reported stolen in San Francisco.

Delbert Carl Clark was held in Marin County Jail for investigation of grand theft pending $1,200 bail. He was scheduled to appear today in Marin Municipal Court for arraignment.

Police said Robert Polambino of 108 Professional Center Parkway, San Rafael, saw the car, which he said had been stolen from his automobile sales lot in San Francisco earlier this month, in the Bermuda Palms parking lot. Officers investigating the report stopped Clark driving the car a few blocks away from the motel, police said.

HEAVIER COURT CALENDAR?

New Mental Health Law Discussed

By CHARLES YOAKUM

California's new, liberalized mental health law will not increase Marin County's court calendar as many people fear, Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson predicted Saturday.

Wilson was one of four speakers who discussed the new law at an all-day seminar at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Wilson's prediction, however, was in direct contrast with the feelings of most of the law enforcement officers and attorneys who attended the six-hour seminar.

The new law — termed by many in the mental health field as a "major revolution" — forces every county with a population of more than 100,000 to establish a mental health rehabilitation program of its own rather than rely solely on the state hospital system.

The law also alters the procedures for involuntary commitments, offers greater protection to the civil rights of those committed and does away with the indeterminate commitment.

The law goes into effect July 1.

Under the new law, a person involuntarily committed must be screened within 72 hours. If, in the opinion of a psychiatrist, the patient is still mentally unstable, he may be held for a maximum of 14 days. The patient has the right, however, to demand a hearing or jury trial within 48 hours anytime during the 14-day period.

It is in this area that members of the county's district attorney's office saw possible problems with the new law.

"With Marin County's already crowded court schedule, it would be extremely difficult to arrange jury trials in two days," said Asst. Dist. Atty. Leonard Shaw.

Wilson said he based his prediction on a study of New York State's experience with a similar law.

"Judges there found very few requests for trials or hearings during the 14-day period," Wilson said. "I think we will find the same holds true here."

Wilson said that his experience showed that although persons were usually hostile and difficult during the first 72 hours, they generally cooled off within a week.

"Most of them," he said, "realize then that perhaps they are sick and take advantage of the treatment offered them while they wait for their regularly-scheduled hearing."

The judge noted that the new law did not cover persons who were metally disordered sex offenders, mentally retarded persons, drug addicts or mentally disordered criminal offenders.

"There still be two procedures for involuntary commitments," Wilson said. "There will be commitment by petition and the 72-hour emergency commitment, the one normally used by police. However, now the police will not have to take the patient all the way to Napa Hospital, but instead will take them directly to the county's Community Mental Health Center at Marin General Hospital."

Earlier in the seminar, a representative for the county facility said they hoped to open some sort of holding area by May 1.

"This type of local treatment is extremely beneficial to the patient, I believe," Wilson said. He noted that local treatment meant that the judge was able to get more information to help in later decisions concerning the patient.

Wilson explained that under the provision of the new law, a person who faces possible commitment will no longer be "arrested" by a law enforcement officer, but instead will be given the opportunity to appear voluntarily for examination by a psyciatrist.

This part of the law was challenged by Dr. George R. Caesar, a San Rafael psychiatrist.

"I have always worked on the principle that it's best to say nothing to the sick person until you are ready to come and get him," Caesar said. "Doesn't the new law just give him a chance to run away?"

His statement drew a sharp reaction from Valerie Bradley, a state research analyst who wrote much of the bill. "That's a fine way to treat someone who's already probably parnoid," she said, "He'll never be able to trust anyone."

Wilson said he approved of that particular part of the law because it "starts putting the problem on a medical rather than judicial basis, and that's bound to be better for the patient."

Wilson shared the speaker's platform with state Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, co-author of the bill; Dr. George Bauer, mental health director of Yolo County and Miss Bradley.

Petris told the seminar that the law was his answer to "gross injustice" which faced the mentally ill in California. He said, "For years we were willing just to shuttle off our sick to state 'warehouses' and forget them, but no more."

Petris said that the state Legislature expected appeals from various boards of supervisors around the state for financial aid in setting up the mental health programs.

"It's going to hit many counties hard," he said, "because they have done absolutely nothing in the past and will have to start from scratch. That's not the case here in Marin County, however."

The day-long seminar was sponsored by the Marin County Mental Health Association and drew law enforcement officials, attorneys, social workers, psychiatrists and marriage counselors, among others.

A rate schedule for cable television service in Fairfax will be considered by the city council at 8 p.m. today in the Fairfax Women's Club.

The council is also expected to hear a report on dog control in the city.

Five Persons Nabbed On Various Charges

Four San Rafael juveniles and a Muir Beach adult were arrested by Corte Madera police Saturday after they were found driving a reportedly stolen car and carrying concealed weapons and various narcotics paraphernelia, police said today.

Jan L. Weber, 23, of Muir Beach, was booked into Marin County Jail on investigation of criminal conspiracy, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and possession of narcotics paraphernelia.

Richard Sheldon Knowles, 17, of 49 Dolores Street, was placed in Juvenile Hall on suspicion of auto theft, carrying a switchblade knife and possession of narcotics paraphernelia.

Police said he was carrying the knife in his pocket along with a leather pouch with drawstring containing a vial of clear liquid believed to be narcotics. He also had, they said, a small measuring spoon, two hypodermic needles, tweezers, a small steel file and several "crutches," used in marijuana smoking.

Two 17-year-old girls, Deborah Jeanne Scheid, of 301 Belle Avenue, and Victoria Celeste Rinaldi, 17, of 523 B Street, were arrested on suspicion of criminal conspiracy and curfew violation.

The fourth juvenile, Mario Fogleson, 16, of 40 Miraflores Avenue, was booked on suspicion of criminal conspiracy, unlawfully carrying and possessing concealed weapons and curfew violation.

Officer Fred Talmadge stopped the 1960 red Volkswagen convertible at Corte Madera and Alexander avenues at 11:30 p.m. since the the car was similar to one reportedly stolen in San Rafael at 6:30 p.m.

He noticed the car had no key and that the license plate matched that of the stolen car.

Trio Sentenced For Burglaries

Three San Francisco men have been convicted of two Sonoma County burglaries by a jury of eight men and four women in Sonoma Superior Court.

Sentenced Thursday to 1-to-15 year prison terms were Cornell Shaw, 43; Julius Rollins, 41; and Percy Andrews, 42. The trio had been arrested by Cotati police on Dec. 18 following the burglary of the Cotati Oaks Hardware Store, 8025 Gravenstein Highway.

They were also convicted of burglarizing the Cunningham grocery store, Sebastopol.

Four Drunken Drivers Fined

Four persons have been sentenced by Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

James E. Lundgren, 19, of 55 Canal Street, Apartment 8, San Rafael, was fined $150 and placed on six months' probation. He was arrested May 30, 1968, in Corte Madera.

Edwin Gould Klinck, 31, of 55 Lincoln Drive, Sausalito, was fined $225 and placed on six months' probation. He was arrested March 1 in Sausalito.

Samuel W. Creer, 43, of 522 Northern Avenue, Mill Valley, was fined $150 and placed on six months' probation. He was arrested Sept. 7 on Highway 101.

Joyce Leone Jansen, 46, of San Francisco, who was arrested Jan. 4 on Tiburon Boulevard, was fined $200 and placed on six months' probation.

HEW Moves Against The New Segregation

The U.S Department of Health, Education and Welfare has finally moved to halt the promotion of racism on college campuses through creation of autonomous "black studies departments."

The department's civil rights office notified Antioch College at Yellow Springs, Ohio, that it must desegregate its Afro-American Studies Institute by the beginning of the summer quarter or lose federal funds.

It has followed this up with a memorandum to be sent to all colleges in the United States, warning that autonomous black studies departments violate the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

HEW HOLDS that a black studies department may not discriminate on a racial basis either in the hiring of teachers or the admission of students.

"If the university says that only a black professor can teach a course, it's illegal," says an HEW announcement. "We are going to make it very plain to all universities that they cannot segregate facilities."

This action by HEW points up the most blatant violation of the Civil Rights Act in our educational system — one in which college administrators and trustees have collaborated, either in a confused belief that they were helping the Negro, or as a yielding to threats and ultimatums.

As we said in this column on May 2 of last year:

"Everyone who condones a double standard based on color is racist — whether that double standard involves special status for white or for black . . .

"There is no place in democratic America for special treatment for anyone based on his skin color, his religion, or his antecedents."

That is the basis of the Civil Rights Act. It is the basis on which the National Association for Advancement of Colored People worked hard for many years to gain equal treatment — and on which the NAACP now threatens to bring suit against colleges setting up separate black studies departments.

THESE DEPARTMENTS, however, are not the only means used by schools to increase racism in the mistaken belief they are helping to end it. Racism is promoted daily in the schools in more subtle ways.

For Instance: Many English classes concentrate on books promoting black separatism for reading and writing assignments.

For Instance: Reed School holds a "Blue-Eyed Day," followed by a "Brown-Eyed Day." On the first, children with blue eyes are mistreated and given all the menial chores; on the second, they get their revenge on those with brown eyes.

For Instance: Black pupils in some schools are permitted to use words which would bring reprimands to white children — thus subtly degrading their race by the implication they cannot otherwise express themselves.

For Instance: Second graders at a Sausalito school are taken to visit headquarters of the Black Panthers, who advocate a separate black government — but not to visit the NAACP, which dedicates its efforts to equality for all under one government.

Such attitudes as these activities show cannot be ended by government action. But at least, by moving against autonomous black studies departments, HEW has helped put in perspective the new segregation, which has invaded our schools waving the banner of civil rights which it in fact would destroy.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

The Uses Of Pre-Trial Publicity As Determined By Bench And Bar

(Reprinted from Wall Street Journal)

We're happy to note that a committee of the American Bar Association has recommended that the Louisiana Bar investigate the conduct of New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison; it will be interesting to see if disciplinary action does result. It is, among other things, an excellent test of the bar's asserted ability to police pre-trial publicity.

Mr. Garrison has now had his day in court, and the jury made short work of his case that businessman Clay Shaw conspired in the assassination of President Kennedy. The upshot, indeed, has been to vindicate his opponent. The Warren report has never looked better; this long and well-financed investigation of its findings turned up nothing new.

SO IT IS with no little irony that we remember the typical picture of the press painted in the debate over pre-trial publicity. The press, it was argued, was an intruder in the judicial process, creating a vindictive atmosphere likely to convict the unjustly accused. In the Garrison episode, the truth seems more nearly the opposite. Any poisoning of the public atmosphere came from an official of the courts who indicted an innocent man for conspiring to commit the most notorious murder of our times, then repeatedly recited in public the supposed details of the conspiracy. And who spoke out against him? What he called "eastern news agencies. . . ."

While Mr. Garrison was repeating his various conspiracy theories, the bar had very little to say about their obvious prejudicial effect. This newspaper found that a spokesman for the Reardon committee said he had thought about these implications of the Garrison investigation, but was unwilling to be quoted about them. Very little in the legal maneuvering, moreover, suggested that the bar and bench had much ability to put their own house in order.

IN APRIL of 1967, the trial judge, following the spirit of the Reardon report, ordered all participants not to talk about the case. But in May, Mr. Garrison was on television proclaiming, for example, "Purely and simply it's a case of former employes of the CIA, a large number of them Cubans, having a venomous reaction from the 1961 Bay of Pigs episode. Certain individuals with a fusion of interests in regaining Cuba assassinated the President."

If any direct action was taken to silence the district attorney, we have not heard about it. However, two days after NBC broadcast its denunciation of Mr. Garrison, the judge called together newsmen to warn them about unnamed persons being "deplorable and contemptuous of the court orders." . . . In September, Mr. Garrison again elaborated his theories in an interview with Playboy magazine.

IN ANOTHER notorious case, meanwhile, the attorney defending James Earl Ray in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King was cited for contempt on the grounds of improper publicity. The offense was that one of his investigators complained to the press about the condition of Ray's imprisonment, a matter obviously irrelevant to guilt or innocence.

Is this, then, what restrictions on pre-trial publicity are to mean in practice: That a lawyer for the defense may not sneeze in public, but that a prosecutor with popular support in his home jurisdiction can take inflammatory parts of his case to such fine legal forums as Playboy?

Planner's Facts About Lagoon

In view of your obvious interest in reporting the events relating to Bolinas Lagoon, I would like to correct a few of your facts, in the interests of proper public information.

Contrary to your recent statements, the federal government has never rejected Bolinas Lagoon as a harbor of refuge site, nor has there been any statement that no federal money would be spent on Bolinas Lagoon. Bolinas is still listed as a primary site in the federal "Chain of Harbors of Refuge for the Northern California Coast. . ." The status of the Corps of Engineers' study is, at present, in a state of limbo, awaiting the results of the present local study program before completing their review. The present U. S. President's federal budget includes an amount of $10,000 for further study of the Bolinas Channel mouth — a strange inclusion if the federal government has, in fact, decided to spend no more money in Bolinas Bay!

The remedial dredging program in the Bolinas Channel was decided upon after numerous and growing complaints from constituents of the Bolinas Harbor District to the harbor board. Contrary to your statements, the board of supervisors in fact voted in favor of this remedial program last year. . .

The master plan for Bolinas Lagoon, reviewed in 1966, included an estimate of $2.2 million — not $22 million as you report. An error of ten times, however, is fairly consistent with the size of error in other reports pertaining to Bolinas Lagoon which have been circulating lately! . . .

The plan reflected a degree of development that would be necessary only if the harbor district had to face restoring the water circulation of Bolinas Lagoon, vital to its environmental quality, out of revenues from facilities alone. Other solutions, entailing much less actual development, consisted of various combinations of grant funds, which for their success required the cooperative efforts of federal, state, county, local and conservation interests working in harmony. I strongly recommended that course of action. For the past two years I have dedicated my efforts toward the completion of a comprehensive program of scientific analysis aimed at determining exactly "what makes Bolinas Lagoon tick," with the objective of planning for the preservation of its environment. As the hail of political flak bursts around us, this program is two-thirds complete! . . .

County Trade Benefits Cities

Re: Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen renewed drive to relieve city residents of paying county taxes for services they don't receive.

We are a family of eight, and about 99 per cent of all items we purchase are in Marin County cities. The 5 per cent sales tax we pay to these cities is forwarded to the State Franchise Tax Board, then a big big portion is returned for the cities to expend. In all fairness, I am wondering which way the inequity exists.

It rubs me wrong to read that Mill Valley Mayor (Dean N.) Meyer insinuates that they have a better chance of support since four of the five supervisors are former city councilmen. Who will lobby for we residents of Los Ranchitos, San Rafael Meadows, Northbridge the rest of Gallinas Valley — in fact for all the unincorporated area? If it is proven that we are receiving more than we are paying for, we shall ante up more. Will you city people do likewise?

MARIE J. SESSI
San Rafael

'Laymen' Mustn't Criticize 'Experts'

It would be "kind of dangerous" if the grand jury could NOT go into a department to investigate "especially when personalities are involved," especially when said personalities are being paid by the taxpayers.

In other words Mr. (Paul C.) Zucker should not be criticized by mere "laymen."

Why $103,000 For Runway Lights?

Last week I was informed that Marin County had contracted $103,000 for lighting and runway improvements at Gnoss Field, Novato. Being a member of the general aviation community, I am very interested and concerned with improvements at Marin County Airport. However, I'm also a taxpayer, and I fail to see where that much money is necessary for these improvements.

Enclosed is a clipping from the March issue of Flying Magazine advertising FAA approved runway, threshold, taxiway, and rotating beacon lights, the total cost being $486.20.

Of course, I don't know the extent of the runway improvements planned, but I would be very interested in seeing an itemized list of all the services being provided Marin County for $103,000.

One careless moment and a helpful household product can become a child killer. Look around your home today, Where are your detergents, furniture polishes, drain cleaners, lighter fluids, pesticides, aspirin, tranquilizers, sleeping pills, oven cleaners, paints, and other potential poisons? Are they out of reach? Are they locked up? Will your negligence cause a poisoning?

The Marin County Pharmaceutical Association urges you to visit your pharmacy during National Poison Prevention Week, March 16-22, for a free bottle of ipecac syrup and antidote chart. Remember, "Poisons have many names."

Kol Shofar Story Warmly Praised

I want to congratulate the I-J on the recent publication of the article by Don Keown about Congregation Kol Shofar.

It was brilliantly done, extremely informative, and I am sure gave an excellent presentation of the aims and purposes of this conservative congregation to the Marin community. I also enjoyed the discussion and explanation of the Purim holiday. The author certainly caught the spirit and essence of the meaning and significance of this holiday.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

CALVIN COOLIDGE had his moments. Once, at a banquet, he was presented with a cane by the chairman, who rhapsodized, "The mahogany from which this cane is fashioned is as impregnable as the rock-bound coast of Maine, and as beautiful as the sunkissed shores of Hawaii." Mr. Coolidge arose, examined the cane for a moment, then turned to his expectant audience. "Birch," he said loudly — and sat down.

A psychiatrist was puzzled by disclosures made to him by a new patient. "Is there any insanity in your family?" he demanded finally. "There must be," nodded the patient. "They keep writing me for money."

Will Nixon Feel Now Is The Time To Push For Atlantic Union?

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Will Richard Nixon as President act on his conviction that patching up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization just would not be good enough?

Will he take bold initiative on his long-held view that the Atlantic Alliance should be an Atlantic Union?

Mr. Nixon has strongly backed the proposed congressional resolution to invite interested NATO countries to prepare the way to turn the present military alliance into a federal union.

When the Atlantic Union Resolution was before the House Foreign Affairs Committee in 1966, he spoke for it:

"It is fitting that the United States, the world's first truly federal government, should be a main force behind the effort to find a basis for a broad federation of free Atlantic nations."

As President, he can turn promise into performance.

IN 1966, Mr. Nixon noted that "the concept of an 'Atlantica' is at present only a dream, but, in the age of the rocket, dreams become reality with a speed which is difficult to imagine."

On his recent European trip the President found ample evidence that every nation he visited, except France, wanted to be partners in a more unified Western Europe.

Three years ago Mr. Nixon was "deeply disturbed" by the "renewed nationalism of France" and on his latest trip he found President de Gaulle as nationalist-minded as ever.

But in 1966 Mr. Nixon said that "by adopting a measure such as the Atlantic Union Resolution we could give new impetus to the spirit of federalism in Western Europe."

And there is more support for further unifying the Atlantic community now than there was three years ago. Most European nations now outside the Common Market — Britain, Scandinavia, Greece, Switzerland and others — want to join, and all the Common Market countries, except France, want them to join.

In the United States there is a wide political base to encourage the President to actively help the move for a citizens' convention to see what first steps can be taken to enable the free nations of the Atlantic world who want to join closer together to do so.

TIME WAS when it was venturesome, even perilous, for American political leaders to show that they favored any moves toward a federation of like-minded free nations.

No longer. And President Nixon would have no reason to fear any serious political opposition from either the responsible right or left if he put his prestige behind the Atlantic Resolution.

Few, if any, congressional proposals have won such wide and prestigious backing as the Atlantic Resolution. It is supported by nearly every national Republican leader — Dwight Eisenhower, Mr. Nixon, Nelson Rockefeller, Barry Goldwater, George Romney, William Scranton, Charles Percy, Mark Hatfield and others. It was supported by the contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination — Hubert Humphrey, Robert Kennedy and Eugene McCarthy.

It probably wouldn't take either courage or daring for President Nixon to put himself behind an Atlantic convention. But it would take something because the tendency of many presidents, once they are in office, is to feel that it is unwise to rock the boat in foreign relations.

But the President may well feel on the basis of his trip to Europe that now is the time to act more boldly if the Atlantic world is, in Mr. Nixon's own words, to respond adequately to "the incredible change which is going on in the world around us."

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Congressman Rips Secrecy From U.S. Gift To France

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S. C., chairman of the powerful House Armed Services Committee, is taking the Nixon Administration at its word that it is pursuing an "open government" policy in making significant information available to the public.

When a top Defense Department official attempted to suppress data relating to De Gaulle's eviction of NATO from France, Rivers brusquely "declassified" it.

The sharply rebuffed official is Ralph Earle, acting assistant secretary for international security affairs. The information he sought to secrete relates to some $378 million in claims for a wide variety of military installations the U. S. left in France when De Gaulle booted out NATO two years ago.

NO SECURITY or any other sensitive matters are involved. Earle's insistence on secrecy was just another instance of quite common bureaucratic high-handness.

It not only got short shrift from Rivers, but he tersely rebuked Earle for the government's prolonged failure to vigorously press for payment of the huge French obligation. Said Rivers:

"You have classified this information as 'confidential', I can see no reason for such a classification. It seems to me you have failed completely to make any progress with the French government concerning this problem, and I think the American people are entitled to know."

For that purpose, Rivers gave a copy of Earle's letter to this column — which initiated the inquiry about the long-pending French debt.

In his reply to Rivers, Earle did two things:

1. Disclosed the heretofore unknown fact that total claims by all NATO countries for vacated property in France exceed $671 million. Of this huge amount, U.S claims are $378 million.

2. In support of his claim for secrecy contended "our chances to collect would be diminished if we now air the details in public. For this reason these details should, we believe, not be made public at this particular time."

Significantly omitted from Earle's letter was any hint as to what is being done about requiring payment from the DeGaulle regime for the numerous vacated NATO properties—from which the French are profiting handsomely.

From other sources, it can be authoritatively reported that nothing is being done.

STILL LIVING IT UP — Thanks to Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., Rep. Adam Clayton Powell is now handsomely ensconced in one of the plushest offices of the huge $100 million Rayburn House Office Building — despite his being readmitted to Congress only on condition he paid a $25,000 fine for alleged misuse of public funds.

In the last Congress, the flamboyant Harlemite was barred completely and stripped of his chairmanship of the prestigious Education and Labor Committee. While seating him this year, the new Congress cancelled his 22 years of seniority and he now ranks as a rookie.

Notwithstanding, he has one of the choicest offices on Capitol Hill — although he rarely uses it, as he has been in the capital only a few times since the session began early in January.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Don't Throw Away Chance For A Little Bit Of Relief

Don't throw away any chance to save about $75 in next year's taxes.

A yellow form entitled "The 1969 Claim for Homeowners Property Tax Exemption" was mailed to some 50,000 Marin homeowners about a week ago. Apparently, some people thought this was just a duplicate of another claim form which they filled out in January.

The January form was a pink one entitled "1968 Claim for Homeowners Property Tax Relief Payment."

They are two different documents, and both must be filed with the county assessor by April 15. If you inadvertently tossed out the second (yellow) form, you can still apply to the homeowners exemption section of the county assessor's office in the Civic Center for another form.

IT'S ALL VERY confusing, but don't get too angry because the whole thing resulted from Proposition 1-A which the majority of us passed last November.

In a nutshell, this is what happens:

1. The 1968 claim (pink form) is to get a $70 refund for your 1968-69 taxes. By the time we approved 1-A in November, the tax rolls had long been completed. There was no other way to give homeowners tax relief for that year except by refund. The $70 refund will come directly from the state about June.

2. For the 1969-70 fiscal year, there is time to give homeowners tax relief by tax exemption. That's what the 1969 claim (yellow form) will do. Each homeowner who files and qualifies will get a tax exemption on $750 worth of assessed value. In other words, if your home has an assessed value of $7,750, you'd be required to pay taxes on only $7,000 assessed value. That means a saving of about $75.

We've heard comments that the whole thing is silly — "you impose heavy taxes, then turn around and give some of it back."

True. But here's the difference: The $70 refund for 1968 and the annual exemption of $750 from 1969 onward are both reimbursed by the state. Therefore, a part of the tax burden (about $75) is shifted from the homeowner to the state. The state fund also comes from the people, but from all sources like industry, land, income, and various sales taxes.

The net effect is that part of the tax burden is shifted away from the homeowner and spread among other sources. This carries out the aim of Proposition 1-A, which was to give some relief to the "overburdened homeowner."

PERSISTENCE is apparently paying off in the case of control over logging in the county.

Almost everybody figured the state had pre-empted the field of logging, and the county could do nothing about it. But conservationists insisted, and the result is a proposed new ordinance setting up a district (natural resources protective district) where logging would be prohibited.

If the district is adopted and applied, then the corollary should be that taxes will be reduced in such a district to reflect the fact that trees there are no longer potential lumber and therefore cannot be assessed as such.

A BATTLE (?) is brewing between supporters of the private Smith Ranch Airport and nearby residents who are concerned about the growing activity at the strip, which has been operating without a permit.

The new aviation commission just came out in support of the Smith Ranch Airport. Former Aviation Commissioner Ben Ostlind, who was replaced in January, was one jump ahead. He was supporting the Smith Ranch Airport all along, even while he was a member of the commission, by having his plane tied down there, instead of at the county airport north of Novato.

The Long, Desperate Quest For What We've Always Had

Years ago in my roamings, I happened to be in Port au Prince, Haiti, with time on my hands — days full of time. Things were not going well for me. I was restless. Having nothing better to do, I spent hours prowling about the city exploring the alleys and quays, the marketplace, and occasionally, to cool off in the heat of the day, I would stop in some dingy bar for a bottle of beer.

It was Tim Kane, my friend (a coffee buyer, he was), who finally suggested, perhaps to get me out from under his feet — for when I wasn't about the city I was in his office — that I should visit Yanni Yanni.

YANNI YANNI was an old Greek, at that time 85 years old — give or take a year or two — who lived far up country above the Artibonnete Valley, the valley with the banana plantations, past the dusty, ramshackle, corrugated-tin village of St. Marc, up the rolling coastal land to Gonaives and beyond, beyond where there are no roads of any kind and you have to use a guide to take you over the forested hills, riding a donkey.

As Tim talked of Yanni Yanni, I found my interest skyrocketing. I had to see the old man of Gonaives.

The rest of that day I spent arranging for a jeep and making other preparations for the trip north. And while doing this, I discovered many of the city people who knew Yanni Yanni and they all spoke warmly of the old man.

Twice a year, I was told, he would make a pilgrimage into Port au Prince, bringing with him a long string of bulkily loaded donkeys, all carrying natural sponges taken from their sea beds in the Gulf of Gonaives. He would sell his sponges, buy supplies, visit friends, and then return to his distant, desolate coastal corner, but not before finding a new native girl to replace the one he had brought back to the city.

THE DRIVE to Gonaives took a full day and I spent the next making arrangements for a guide to take me to the place of Yanni Yanni.

Daan of the third day found us urging a pair of scrubby, filthy donkeys over a narrow trail and by late afternoon we came down out of the hills to a long, curved, silver beach bordered on the land side by green and copper-colored sea-grape trees.

Amidst a grove of tall bananas, waving pandanus and sturdy lignum vitae stood the house of Yanni Yanni. A large, airy house it was, and it had a heavy thatched roof and a broad, open veranda across the front. A wide path from the house cut directly through the grove to the beach and sea.

Yanni Yanni was expecting us, thanks to the efficiency of the Haitian jungle "telegraph." The old man was a warm and cordial host and, though I had planned to spend only one day with him, he insisted I stay longer and I spent three.

HE WAS an amazing man, with energy and vigor incredible even for a man many years his junior. He had traveled the world, had served with a Spanish merchantman before the turn of the century, owned a bar in Singapore, worked in the digging of the Panama Canal, fought on the side of the British in the Boer War, and once, during the Chicago days of the '20s, he ran bootleg whiskey in a Dusenberg. And now, sponges in Haiti!

At the end of the third day, late in the night while sitting before a drowsy kerosene lantern, I couldn't help asking:

"Tell me, Old Man, what are you looking for?"

He smiled, then threw back his head and laughed.

"Nothing that I haven't always had," he said. "Just a reasonably comfortable shelter, a decent meal once a day, a good woman to care for me — and something worth fighting for . . ."

Auto Stolen

Sydney R. Greve of 14 Mount Diablo Circle, Marinwood, told Marin County sheriff's deputies that someone stole his 1958 Rambler, license DEL 220, from the Marinwood overpass at Highway 101 between 8 a.m. and 6:40 p.m. Thursday.

County Youth 'Seed Money' Requested

A request by the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission for $2,000 in "seed money" to provide matching funds for youth activities will be considered by the board of supervisors at tomorrow's all-day meeting, beginning at 9 a.m.

In other business, Joseph B. Leach, director of county data processing, will ask for a contract authorizing the county to convert from International Business Machines equipment to Radio Corp. of America computers. Conversion would probably take place in September, said Leach.

Parks and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske will submit for review a draft letter to the state Department of Parks and Recreation giving county support for state acquisition of a scenic easement on Dr. Ethel Righetti's property along Bolinas Ridge. A logging firm from Coos Bay, Ore., has purchased timber rights on the Righetti Ranch.

In the afternoon, residents of Bel Aire Estates will present a petition opposing the establishment of a county service area to pay for maintenance of a neighborhood park.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost will give a progress report on a slide on the property of Frank M. Gelardi at Shoreline Highway and Almonte Boulevard.

A hearing scheduled on a new ordinance to control houseboat marinas may be postponed because Supervisors Michael Wornum and Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. will be absent.

The Story of a Winner

–and how he got that way

John Taylor, I-J carrier, chosen one of six top newspaperboys in California

Newspaperboys don't come any better than young John Taylor, I-J carrier of San Rafael. Because none have gone any further. First, John was named Carrier-of-the-Year for the I-J–out of 825 other youngsters. Now, he's been chosen one of the six best newspaperboys in the state–out of 80,000. The judges reviewed his scholastic record, his route record, his outside activities and the essay required of him. No question, he HAD to be judged a winner.

This is the second successive year that an I-J carrier has been named for this statewide honor–which makes the I-J the only newspaper with boys who've repeated two years in a row! We don't presume to claim that the I-J's special training program was responsible for this unusual record. But it does show that newspaperboy training attracts young fellows like John who bring a genuine capacity for service and responsibility to the job. The training brings out their best . . . and they bring their best to the training!

Not easy! Young John was selected from 80,000 newspaperboys in the state

LIKE ALL I-J newspaperboys, John Taylor is an independent businessman. He manages his route, assumes responsibility for customer service, collects, pays his bills. A merchant who delivers!

ONE of the main strengths of the I-J's carrier training program is that each boy (like John here) has a supervisor who works with him . . . counseling, advising, helping each youngster develop in ability.

WHAT does John's father say about it? "I can't think of any training so beneficial to a boy. It's really terrific the way the I-J people work with youngsters to help them achieve their best."

Some of the values of the I-J's unusual training program

- ☆ Develops initiative, responsibility
- ☆ Encourages punctuality and service
- ☆ Develops the skills of managing

When the late Novato Fire Chief, George J. Cavallero, was stricken by a heart attack while headed for a fire on Feb. 2, a radio message foul-up caused an ambulance to go to the wrong location, according to a report by County Administrative Analyst Timothy M. Jackson.

The report will go to the board of supervisors tomorrow.

Cavallero was headed for a fire at Rancho Olompali shortly after 5 a.m. when he was stricken. His car went off Highway 101 into a ditch just north of San Marin Drive.

First report of the fire came at 5:02 a.m. At 5:14 the Novato fire station called for an ambulance on an emergency north of San Marin. The county communications confirmed: "San Marin turnoff northbound 101." The communications center asked Doctor's Ambulance to send an ambulance "San Marin Drive 929 (fire) at Rancho Olompali."

The Doctor's Ambulance crew said it was told "to respond to a fire on San Marin Road, north of Novato" about 5:15 a.m. At 5:20, the ambulance reached San Marin Drive, went up and down but could find no flames. Doctor's Ambulance employees said, "The dispatcher informed us that it was a major fire and to be prepared for burn and smoke inhalation patients."

The ambulance men said they were finally told it was a dry run. "We then headed back to Novato and met a policeman who showed us where the fire actually was. We watched the fire for awhile and then returned to the office at approximately 6:20 a.m."

Meanwhile, Novato firemen had notified the communications center at 5:30 a.m.: "transporting in station wagon. Can't wait any longer."

Annexation Issue To Be Discussed

When a developer wants to develop land contiguous to a city, how much pressure should be applied to force an annexation to the city?

This question will be discussed by the City-County Planning Council Thursday at 8 p.m. in Room 426 of the Civic Center.

The issue was raised in March of last year by the Novato City Council, which asked that owners of land adjoining Novato be directed to annex to the city whenever development is proposed for such land.

The council will also discuss the county's balanced transportation study and a policy statement to define the jurisdiction of the City-County Planning Council.

Home Looted

Burglars took a television, a double barrel shotgun and $53 in cash from the home of Clement P. Shook, 9 Sonoma Street, San Rafael, between 7:40 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Friday, police reported.

Procyon Is Good Pointer For Expert

By SHERMAN WALKER

Canis Minor (the Smaller Dog) is a rather disappointing constellation for the casual observer, although it does have one bright star. The one star can be lined up with other bright stars in the neighborhood and becomes a pretty good pointer. The star is known as Procyon or Alpha Canis Minoris.

To locate Procyon, face southward at 9 p.m. Standard Time and look at the region of the sky that is three-fifths of the distance up from the southern horizon to overhead.

The name Procyon means "before the dog." It is so called because this star rises a few minutes before Sirius, the Dog Star. It may seem strange that Procyon rises first because later when both stars are near the overhead meridian (the closest point to overhead) Procyon is east of Sirius and should rise after it. The curvature of the earth makes the difference.

Procyon is slightly brighter than first magnitude and is almost straight off Castor and Pollux in Gemini. It is a double star, but its companion is very dim, not more than 12th magnitude.

Procyon is one of the stars nearer to the solar system, only 11 light years away, and is getting closer all the time because it is rapidly approaching us.

Three bright stars in this region of the sky make a very good equilateral triangle. The other two stars are Betelgeuse in Orion and Sirius in Canis Major.

Two Prisoners Freed In Ambush Of A Prison Bus

LONDON (AP) — Two men ambushed a police bus during the morning rush hour in a tough South London district today, squirted ammonia in the faces of two unarmed prison officers and freed two robbery suspects being taken to court for trial.

They escaped in a car, leaving six other prisoners on the bus. A number of passersby witnessed the ambush but it was over before they could summon help.

The Home Office, said the two men who escaped were Kenneth Edward Drury, 29, a grocer charged with robbery with violence, and John William Ferguson, 26, a salesman accused of armed robbery.

The Home Office said the bus's doors were unlocked as a precaution in case of a traffic accident.

Special Session Set In Petaluma

The Petaluma City Council will meet in special session at 7:30 p.m. today to consider placement of an eight-inch water line on Petaluma Boulevard south between H Street and Mountain View Avenue.

Contracts for construction of a new Washington Street bridge will be also awarded if permission has been received from the Coast Guard to halt navigation on the Petaluma River at the bridge.

The council may later adjourn to a study session to discuss items for inclusion in a possible bond issue in the June 10 municipal election.

Bahia Planning Plea On Agenda

Changes in the master plan for 900 acres of the Bahia development at the end of Bugeia Lane in Novato will be discussed by the planning commission when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Union Bank of Los Angeles, which now owns the property, has asked to enlarge the central lagoon and place townhouses and apartments around it.

The commission will also hear a request to rezone from retail to multiple dwelling the land south of Warner Creek and east of Diablo Avenue for J. C. Youngberg and William J. Guinnane; a change from agricultural to commercial for three lots on the northeast corner of Center Road and Diablo Avenue owned by Robert and Edith Warner, and an amendment to the zoning ordinance to allow veterinary clinics by use permit in professional or commercial zones.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Man-Made Pneumoconiosis Still Kills Thousands In U.S. Mines

VAN DELLEN

Mining is a hazardous occupation and there is nothing like an explosion to remind us of this fact. But a more serious hazard is pneumoconiosis (black lung disease) that kills thousands of coal miners annually.

Coal dust is the culprit and it is estimated that 125,000 miners suffer from the disorder.

Fine, powdery dust gets into the eyes, ears, nose, and pores of the skin. It is inhaled and trapped in the bronchi where the particles, engulfed by scavenger cells, are deposited agound tiny pulmonary blood vessels or in the lymph glands adjacent to the passageways.

SMALL COLLECTIONS of this trapped coal dust coalesce forming large scars. Those that form cuffs around the blood vessels ultimately cut off circulation to the lungs.

Many miners with demonstrable evidence of black lung disease are not bothered; they continue working and being exposed.

OTHERS DEVELOP shortness of breath that increases slowly and insidiously over the years. The coughing and narrowing of the bronchi ultimately lead to chronic bronchitis and crippling emphysema. In time, the heart is affected.

Prevention is the key. Since pneumoconiosis is man-made, it is the responsibility of those who create the conditions that produce the disease to eliminate them. Workers must also cooperate by wearing masks and watering the dust.

Coal worker's lung disease is preventable, yet every day more men are afflicted. The main problem centers about our lack of knowledge relative to the safe limit of exposure to the dust.

Furthermore, research should be conducted on the efficiency of various remedies and earlier diagnostic procedures.

LUNG CHANGES are permanent and treatment is essentially the same as for emphysema. For this reason, any young miner with the slightest symptom should change occupation. We realize that this is easier said than done.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

WATERFALL STOMACH

A reader writes: What is a cascade stomach?

REPLY

This term is applied to a deformity in which food is trapped in the upper part of the stomach, due to a peculiar bend in its contour. After the top is full, the meal spills into the lower part of the organ like a waterfall. Pressure, fullness, or sharp pain in the left lower chest after eating are usually noted. Symptoms are less likely to occur with smaller meals. Distress also can be discouraged by assuming a posture that helps the stomach empty itself.

TESTING FOR HARDENED ARTERIES

H. D. writes: How are the arteries tested to determine the extent of the hardening process?

REPLY

The retinal arteries can be seen with an ophthalmoscope. In addition, solutions that show up under the X-ray can be injected to visulaize the arterial tree (arteriograph).

TUBERCULOSIS AND KIDNEY

T. L. writes: Does kidney tuberculosis come from lung tuberculosis?

REPLY

Not necessarily, but often enough to warrant chest X-rays. Many victims of renal tuberculosis have perfect lungs.

HEAT AND THE EYES

E. writes: My friend says it is harmful for anyone with glaucoma to keep basting her roast that is cooking in the oven. Heat, supposedly, is bad for the eyes. Is she correct?

REPLY

No, there is no harm.

Today's Health Hint — Avoid unnecessary bending or stretching at all times.

TRANVERSE FRACTURE

B. C. writes: What is meant by a transverse fracture? My husband broke a small bone in his ankle and this is what the doctor called it.

REPLY

The bone is cracked from side to side (transverse) in contrast to an up and down (vertical) break. Another way of saying this is that the bone is fractured at right angles to its axis.

SCARLET FEVER EFFECTS

A. d. writes: Does scarlet fever injure the kidneys and hearing?

REPLY

Yes, but thanks to the wonder drugs, these complications are not common today. Involvement of the ears and the kidneys stems not only from the causative organism but from the toxins manufactured by the streptococci.

CAUSES OF SINUS DISEASE

B. L. writes: What causes sinus trouble?

REPLY

Neglected nasal infections are the most frequent origins of sinus disease.

PROUD FLESH

A reader writes: What causes proud flesh on a big toe?

REPLY

Following a wound, repair of the underlying tissues exceeds that of the skin and projects above the surface. Unless removed, healing is delayed. Proud flesh is insensitive to pain and is easily clipped off with scissors and cauterized.

Court Denies Bias On Jury

An appellate court has ruled the fact that a Marin Grand Jury foreman was a friend of the district attorney did not prejudice proceedings against a man convicted of smuggling marijuana into the County Jail, District Attorney Bruce B. Bales has reported.

The state Court of Appleas has denied an appeal by Eugene O. Boehm, convicted by jury in July 1967 for the smuggling incident.

Boehm's attorney, A. Leonard Bjorklund, claimed in the appeal that since Clifford S. Lund, foreman of the Grand Jury which indicted Boehm, was Bales' former campaign manager that the jury was prejudiced against Boehmn.

The higher court ruled that nothing had been presented to show that there was bias against the defendant.

Lund was Bales' campaign manager when he successfully ran for district attorney in 1966 against Bjorklund.

Boehm, who was serving time in jail for felony child beating, and his common-law wife, Roberta Marie Buckley, were accused of conspiring to smuggle marijuana into the jail.

Boehm had been convicted of beating Mrs. Buckley's son, who died later at Marin General Hospital.

Boehm received an additional year in the County Jail for the marijuana conviction in addition to the year he spent on the child beating sentence.

Two Cars Gone, One Recovered

Two stolen cars were reported to San Rafael police Saturday.

Suzie Crowfoot of Dominican College told police someone stole her 1964 Volkswagen sedan, license DWT 797, from 122 Eye Street, shortly after midnight.

Helen Marie Robinson of 400 Canal Street said someone stole her 1961 Chevrolet, license VOG 440, parked near her home between 10:30 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. Friday. The car was recovered late Friday in San Jose, police said.

Another Bond Vote May Be Set

A resolution calling for another bond election will be considered by the San Rafael Board of Education at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district office.

The board indicated at its last meeting it would try to place the $2.1 million elementary district bond issue before the voters again in June. The issue was defeated Feb. 18.

The board will also consider a recommendation on daily patriotic observances in the high schools instead of daily recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance.

Charge Dropped Against Visitor

A charge of marijuana possession has been dismissed in Marin Municipal Court against William Edward Pola, 20, of Alameda, after the district attorney's office said the evidence in the case probably had been obtained illegally.

Pola was arrested during a drug raid on a house at Muir Beach on Feb. 19. He arrived at the house while agents were there, and allegedly had a marijuana cigarette in his possession.

His attorney on Friday asked that Judge Hadden W. Roth also issued an order returning to Pola $324 which was taken from him at the time of the arrest.

Judge Roth ordered the sheriff's department to return the money but said that if it had been turned over to the Internal Aevenue Service, as often happens in such cases, he could not order the return as he had no jurisdiction over a federal agency.

Warrant Issued In Fraud Case

Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court has issued a bench warrant for Billy Gene McFarland of Oakland, who failed to make a court appearance Friday on a charge of possessing money orders with intent to defraud.

Bail on the bench warrant was set at $2,500.

With a cloud of smoke and a hearty hi-ho hot rod, this Top Fuel drag ster roared away from starting line for quarter-mile run in National Open meet at new Sears Point International Raceway yesterday.

Crowd Of 12,000 At Sears Point Drag Races

JIM GILMARTIN

Race Track Traffic Backed Up For Miles

PUTT PUTTS FROM MOTORLAND—Mr. Alan S. Hart of 150 Oak Street, San Francisco, can expect a considerable amount of fan mail in the next few days.

Mr. Hart, you see, is district engineer for the state Division of Highways, District 4, which encompasses, in particular, the junction of highways 37 and 121. And when the new Sears Point International Raceway at that southern Sonoma County junction opened this weekend there resulted a monumental traffic jam that defys description, particularly yesterday.

The crowd of 12,000 and another 3,000 to 5,000 turned away, had traffic backed up for miles in most directions, particularly to the south on highway 37, a divided thoroughfare that funneled the mass of humanity onto two-lane 121 and the entrance to the huge motor sports complex.

During the day Raceway officials distributed 10,000 form letters addressed to Hart, saying in part, "The only major problem Sears Point has is the fact that the ingress and egress is poor. The highways serving the property must be improved . . . I am a taxpayer and I buy gasoline and part of the tax money goes to highway improvement. Can some of this money be spent to make access to Sears Point better?"

Super Test Of Patience

Getting into the raceway was a super test of patience. It took I-J photographer Jim Kean 45 minutes to travel the last mile and one-quarter into the raceway shortly before 11 a.m. The traffic was backed up south beyond the Marin-Sonoma county line at times during the morning.

One elderly couple, out for a ride in the country, innocently found itself in the mess, was directed to a parking area and couldn't get out. Screamed the gent, "I don't want any part of your ⅜$//"&⅜ race track. I just want to go to Sonoma; get me outta here."

After the race, Sunday drivers southbound out of the Valley of the Moon hit the traffic mess and, an hour after the last race, cars were backed up three and one-half miles. The last cars did not get out of the parking lots until approximately 6:45 p.m., some three hours after the race. Luckily, heavy rains did not start to fall until most cars were off the dirt parking areas.

Wait 'Til Sports Cars

But you ain't seen nuthin' yet, folks. Wait until March 29-30 when the first Sports Car Club of America road races on the new track are expected to attract far greater crowds than did the drag racers over the weekend.

The hot rod attendance was announced as 5,165 for qualifying Saturday and 12,000 yesterday. In most cases they were well behaved, but a few of the inevitable fist fights broke out. The place was beautifully policed and the people who paid $3 apiece Saturday and $4 yesterday seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves. Weather was good Saturday and yesterday morning, but a cold wind chilled the throng yesterday afternoon.

Most of the drivers and mechanics I talked to called the new raceway a really professional development and a credit to Sonoma County. There were the expected squawks, but those will be ironed out in time with completion of facilities. Raceway officials plan to make Highway 121 a three-laner directly in front of their property to ease traffic, and parking will be better when some flooded areas dry out. Only half of the 5,000-seat grandstand was completed for the hot rods but the remainder will be ready for March 29-30.

A Hungry, Thirsty Crowd

IN THE two days concessionaire Ed Hickerson's staff of 20 workers sold 15,000 hot dogs (40 cents apiece), amost 500 cases of beer (40 cents), 1,000 12-ounce cups of Coca Cola at 20 cents a cup, 8,200 cups of coffee at 15 cents a cup and 2,600 Poor Boy sandwiches.

"I never spent longer days in my life," whewed Hickerson of San Anselmo, father of College of Marin football star Bill Hickerson. "I think people go to races just to stand in line and eat. We could have sold a lot more if we could have got food and drinks out faster, but we'll be better prepared the next time."

He said the 500 cases of beer sold at the track represented only about one-third of the suds consumed on the premises as many folks brought their own six-packs.

Redwood Captures 5th Spot

By GARY TISCHLER

Redwood High School's basketball team, perhaps the second-best team in the tourney, finished fifth in the big Alameda Athletic League, 79-66, for the consolation title at the Oakland Coliseum.

It's a matter of pure speculation of just how far the Giants would have gone had they not lost in the First round to the Oakland Athletic League's Castlemont, which whipped Hayward 79-56 in the championship mismatch Saturday.

ROMPS

Sacred Heart of San Francisco romped over North Bay champ Montgomery of Santa Rosa for third place.

Redwood, which gave Castlemont its best game in losing 80-72 in the opener, added new prestige to the Marin County Athletic League.

The Giants of Redwood held the record for most points by a team in three games for two hours, with 231 points. But then Castlemont broke the record again with its 79 points for a 239 total. The old record was 228 points, set by McClymonds of Oakland in last year's tournament.

Jerry Piro, the leading scorer in the tournament along with Warren Morse of Hayward, easily made the all-tournament team dominated by Castlemont.

ALL-TOURNEY

Squirmy guard Mike Quick, 6-foot-7 center Robert Gums, and 6-5 Norman Knowles made it for Castlemont. Tom Tiedeman squirreled in for Montgomery, Morse and Dennis Bragonier were named from Hayward, while Mauro Luvisotti was named for Sacred Heart. Ken Gulliland, of disappointing St. Joseph, also was named to the team as was Mark Rosance of El Cerrito.

Piro's 68-point, 3-game total placed him eighth in the tournament's all-time scoring list, ahead of some pretty good company that includes former McClymonds star Paul Silas.

A FIRST

The win over El Cerrito was the first time that a Marin County Athletic League team had beaten an Alameda League team in the tournament's history.

At that, the victory didn't come as easily as the final score

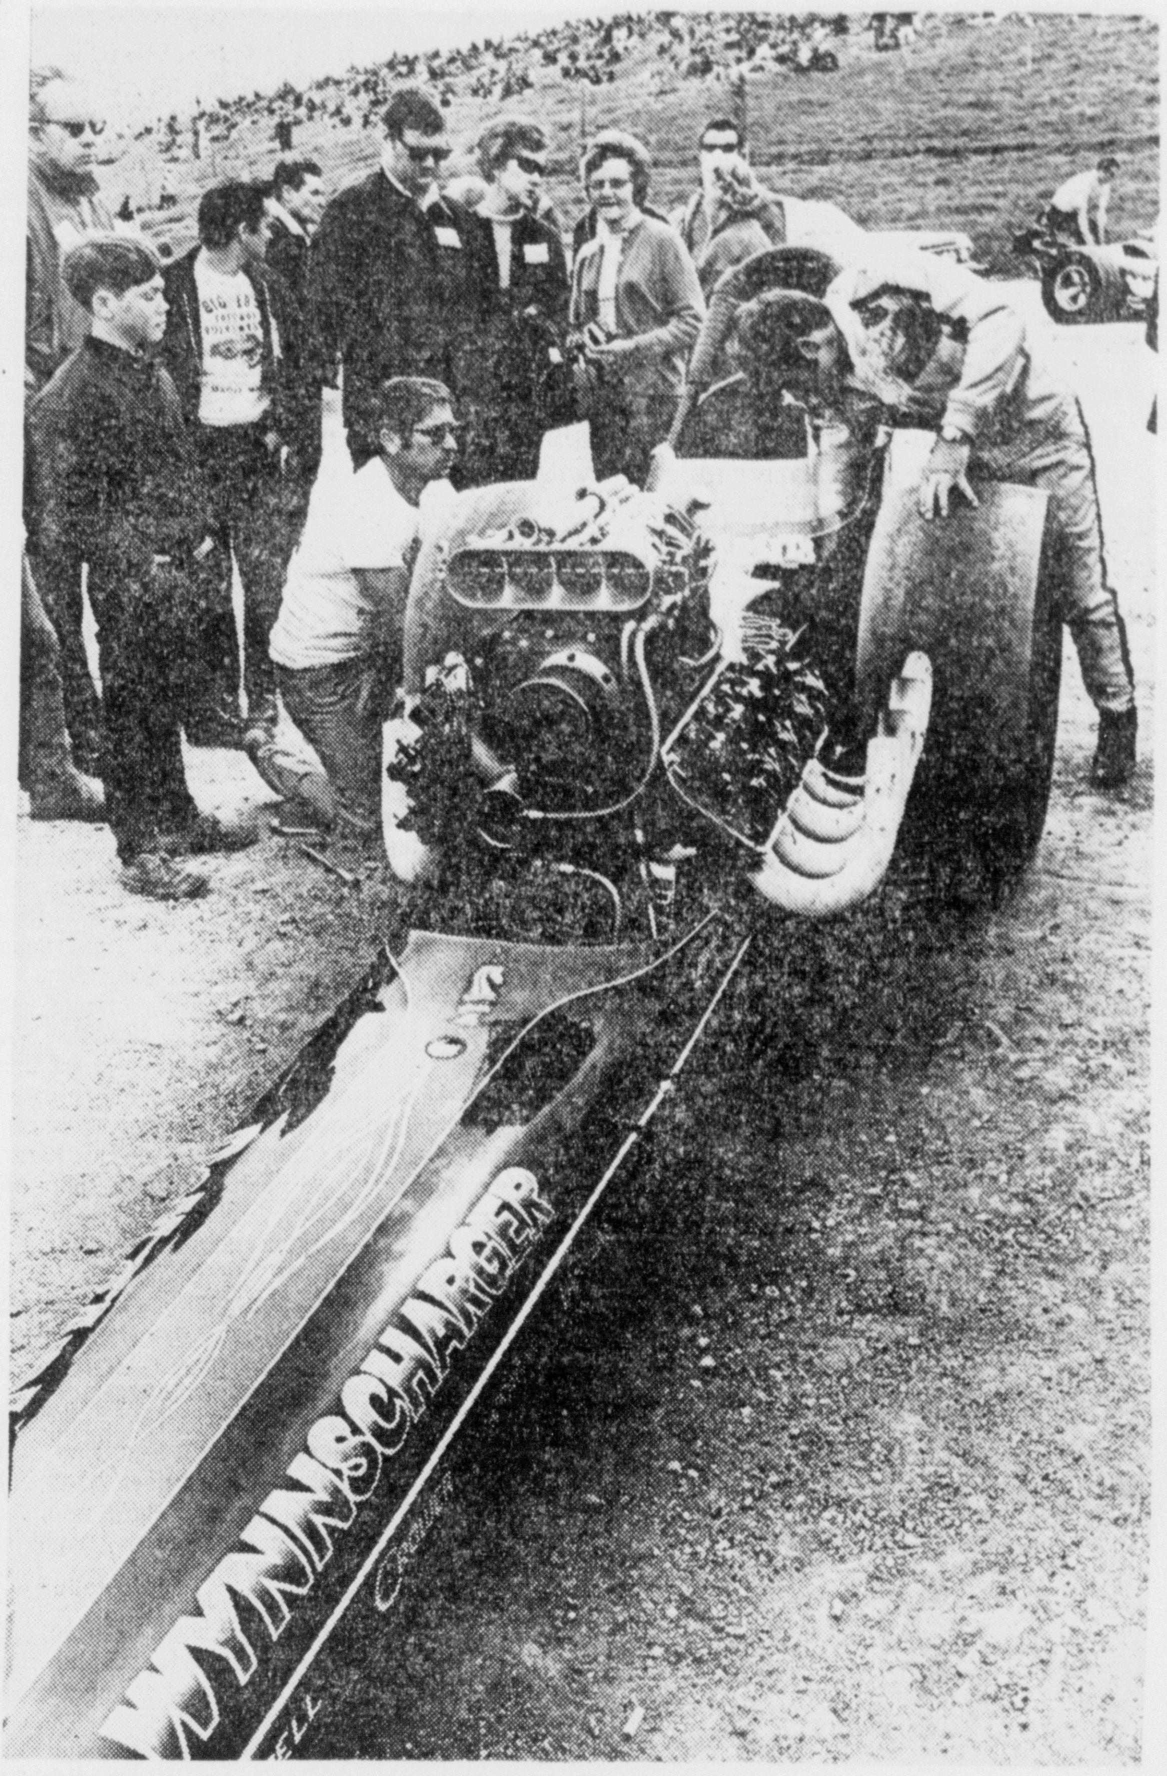
Miss Walsh Defeated In Finals

Seventeen-year-old Sharon Walsh of San Rafael didn't win the title but made a heck of an impression in the first Lodi Invitational Indoor Tennis Tournament at the Grape Pavilion in Lodi this weekend.

After pulling off two straight upsets, Sharon finally lost in the women's finals, bowing to second-seeded Diane Carter of Los Altos in a thriller, 7-9, 7-5, 6-2.

Sharon, unseeded in the tournament, had knocked off top-seeded Ceci Martinez, nationally 11th-ranked women's singles player from San Francisco, in the opener, then whipped fourth-seeded Gail Hansen of Palo Alto Saturday. Both upsets came in straight sets.

Sharon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Les Walsh of San Rafael, is a student at San Rafael High School.



THE WINNER—Don Garlits (right) of Seffner, Fla., checked over his AA Fuel Class supercharged Dodge V-8 after his $2,000 victory in the National Open drag races yesterday befores a crowd of 12,000 fans at the new southern Sonoma County racing complex. Garlits is three-times national champion. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

CITRUS OPEN

At Long Last, Ken Still Wins First Golf Tourney

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Ken Still and Sandy Koufax have something in common beside a personal friendship — they both waited along time to become winners.

But while Sandy sat on the Dodger bench waiting his chance, Still bounced around 16 years from job to job before winning his first golf tournament.

Ken's moment finally came yesterday at the $115,000 Citrus Open with a final round 70 for a 72-hole total of 10-under par 278, one stroke ahead of Miller Barber. But it came the hard way.

"It was a peculiar round," Still admitted after accepting the $23,000 first prize.

The friendly, 34-year-old bachelor from Tacoma, Wash., said he felt he'd win the tournament after an eight-foot putt for a par 5 on the first hole of the par 72 Rio Pinar Country Club course. But his prediction was premature.

He hit into a lake on the 165-yard, par 3 12th for a double bogey and scrambled for a par 4 at 14 when he ound the water again. And at 18 his second shot landed in the gallery.

"I started to cry in the middle of the 18th fairway because I knew if I'd par in, I'd win," he said.

"When I finished I felt like jumping over the top of the TV stand. I've never been so happy."

Barber blew himself out of contention when he topped his tee shot at 18 and landed his second shot under the bleachers for a double bogey 6.

Johnny Pott, tied after the third round with Bert Yancey, wound up at 280 with Orville Moody.

Gay Brewer finished at 281. In at 282 were Lee Trevino, Dave Stockton, Tom Weiskopf and Lee Elder.

Yancey posted a 283 and tied for 10th with Jack Nicklaus, 1968 champion Dan Sikes, Dean Refram and Dale Douglass.

Still, a baseball fan, met Koufax when he lived in Los Angeles. They frequently teamed for pro-am events.

"I admire Sandy more than anyone in sports," Still said.

Still's golf career almost ended when it began. He was released by the head pro at his first club job in Tacoma. From there on he worked various jobs before his money ran out.

Still got a new manager and joined the tour full time in 1961.

"I had my ups and downs after that and almost quit the tour in 1964," he said.

But he stuck it out. Yesterday's first prize boosted his career earnings to more than $75,000.

"Golf has been very good to me," Still said.

Red-Hot Celts Bomb Warriors 138-89

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors have finished their National Basketball Association season play with the defending champs, the Boston Celtics — and from the way the windup game went, they should be glad that's over with.

The Celtics thumped San Francisco 138-89 yesterday and the Warriors were behind 19 or more points from late in the second quarter on. In the last period Boston outscored the losers 45-22.

Sam Jones, who played on nine of the 10 Boston world champion teams, was honored between the halves because he is retiring at the end of the season. Jones' 16 points — all in the first half — helped the Celtics build up a 30-point lead.

The Warriors, for whom a three-game winning streak was snapped, and the Celtics, who ended a three-game losing string, have divided this season's play 3-3. It was the first time in six games the Celtics got above 100 points.

Larry Siegfried, with 28 points was high scorer and contributed 16 to the Boston buildup in the first half. His teammate, John Havlicek had 22, and Bob Lewis' 19 paced San Francisco.

The Warriors meet Milwaukee's Bucs here tonight.

Garlits Wins Feature Event

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

To borrow a line from Francis Albert Sinatra, "It was a VERY Goodyear."

For national drag racing champion Don Garlits, that is.

Testing a set of experimental Goodyear tires, the "Big Daddy" of the wild world of the drags roared to victory in the top fuel eliminator class yesterday to highlight the two-day National Open Drag meet, first official event at the new Sears Point International Raceway.

A turnaway crowd of more than 12,000 persons created a gigantic traffic jam the likes of which Sonoma County has never seen. Saturday's qualifying runs for the 321 entries attracted a crowd of 5,165 for the National Hot Rod Association-sanctioned event.

CHAMPION

Garlits, the 36-year-old three-time national champion from Seffner, Fla., beat Seattle's Dick Kalivoda in a relatively slow finals, covering the quarter-mile run (1,320 feet) in 7.31 seconds at 184.42 miles an hour.

Garlits, whose fastest run was 215.84 mph and 6.99 seconds elapsed time in qualifying Saturday, explained yesterday's slow poke run: "That wind was so rough I almost lost it (control) and had to get off the throttle after 1,000 feet." His 6.99 ET was the first to crack the seven-second barrier at Sears Point.

"Big Daddy," thus named because of his pioneer work in 16 years of sanctioned drag racing, said his new Goodyears bit into the new asphalt track quite well and could have recorded faster times in warmer, windless weather.

STREAK

His AA-Fuel Class supercharged Dodge V-8 streaked across the finish line just two minutes before rain started to hit the area at 3:50 p.m.

Earlier in the afternoon a "rail" driven by Don Madigan of Santa Cruz went out of control after the finish of the Top Gas semi-finals, hit a bank and rolled over about five times. The engine blew on his car and spewed oil into his eyes, but he walked away otherwise unhurt.

Fastest clocking of the weekend was turned in Saturday by Walnut Creek's Jim Davis at 218.92 in the AA Fuel class, the heavyweight division of drag racing. But he was eliminated early yesterday.

Garlits picked up $2,000 for his victory, as did Danny Ongais of Honolulu for his victory in the Funny Car division, gunning Mickey Thompson's Mustang Mach I coupe to a finals clocking of 187.72 and ET of 8.22 seconds.

Giants Stretch Record To 3-0

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Say hey, say the Giants.

The famous Willie Mays' greeting was shouted by players to each other in the locker room after San Francisco ran its record to 3-0 in the Cactus League yesterday. Mays had another one of those days that make him famous.

The Giants walloped the Cleveland Indians 9-3 in an exhibition game, scoring five runs in the first inning.

Mays led off with a walk and six hits followed. One was a Jim Ray Hart scorcher that made Cleveland pitcher Luis Tiant duck.

Willie scored twice, singled twice, walked twice and now is averaging .555.

Gaylord Perry pitched the victory, yielding only four hits in the three innings he pitched.

Tiant led the American League in earned run average last year with a 1.60, but the Giants pounded him for nine hits and six runs in three innings.

Athletics To Battle S.F. In Exhibition

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Oakland's Athletics play off their current Cactus League series with the Seattle Pilots today and move to Phoenix for their first 1969 game against the San Francisco Giants.

Seattle squared the series at one game all yesterday by scoring three times in the sixth inning and beating the Athletics 6-3.

The A's had beaten Seattle 3-2 in 14 innings Saturday.

This time the Pilots broke a deadlock when pinch hitter Dan Mineher singled, Gerry McNertney doubled, Jim Gosger singled and advanced on a throwing error, and Mike Ferrao and Lou Piniella socked sacrifice flies.

The Athletics got out in front 1-0 when Danny Cater singled and went around on a fly ball and a passed ball.

In the third, Rick Monday walked, advanced on a fly ball and infield error, then scored on Reggie Jackson's sacrifice.

Oakland tallied again in the fifth when Tom Reynolds singled, went to second on an infield out and ran home on a single by Monday.

In an instant replay of the Livermore game, which Redwood won in triple overtime, the Giants sped off to a 39-28 half-time advantage, then blew it all in the third period as El Cerrito outscored Redwood, 24-12, to take a 52-51 lead.

Piro then went to work. He went on a 12-point spree in the final period, igniting a 28-point outburst by Redwood that finally won it.

RALLY

El Cerrito wah ahead by 58-55 with 5:35 left when the Giants scored nine straight points to win going away.

Piro finished with his second straight 25-point night, John Boro had 16 points, rugged senior forward Jim Peters had 14 and 6-6 senior center Pete Webb had 12 points.

Webb, incidentally, hit on 15 out of 22 shots from the field for the tournament.

Montgomery had its second straight disappointing night of the tournament, not even putting up a close battle against hot Sacred Heart.

HOT SHOOTERS

The Vikings trailed by 19-8 at the end of the first period, and by 46-32 going into the final period. Luvisotti scored 26 points for Sacred Heart, which shot a fantastic 58.2 per cent from the field for the tournament.

Tom Fitchie paced the Vikes with 17 points. Montgomery had brought a 22-1 record into the tournament, but closed out at 23-3.

Redwood finished with a 25-5 record.

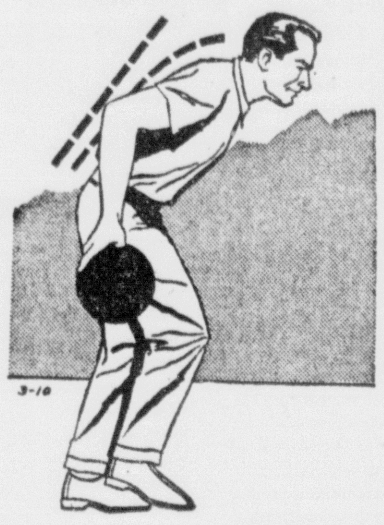
By DON CARTER



Don't wait until your final step to bend. You should be going into a crouch at least by the third step. The purpose is to counterbalance the weight of the ball on the backswing and to bring your body low enough for you to release the ball from just a few inches above the floor.

Clippers Defeat Russ Soccermen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A spectacular thrust in the final period gained a 10-0 victory for the California Clippers over the touring Russian soccer stars, Dynamo Kiev, before 11,223 fans.

With yesterday's game deadlocked, Luis Sagastume passed across the field to 5-foot-5 Edgar Marin. He jumped up between taller players and knocked the ball to 5-7 John Kowalik, who headed the ball into the net past Kiev goalie Viktor Vannikov.

Before the finish, the Russians made several thrusts of their own, but Clipper goalie Mirko Stojanovic was equal to the challenge, making several brilliant saves.

The win gave the Clippers an even break in a three game series. The Russians won the opener in San Francisco and were tied in Los Angeles.

The Dynamos made 15 goal shots to the Clippers' seven. The Clippers' goalie made 13 saves to four for the Soviets.

The turf was dry, but it was a windy day with the sun coming and going and the temperature in the 50s.

The Soviets had agreed to play a maximum of four games but could not get another opponent. At one time there was the possibility of a game with a Mexican team in San Diego, but it fell through.

Teams Need Pinch Hitters To Bat For Pinch Hitters

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Luman Harris and Ralph Houk have discovered, much to their satisfaction, that some good hitters are neither born nor made — but designated.

Now all they have to do is come up with a couole of able appointees to pinch hit for pinch hitters Hank Aaron and Roy White.

Aaron, batting in the pitcher's spot under the designated pinch hitter rule being tried out in spring training games, started Harris' Atlanta Braves to an 11-3 romp over Los Angeles Sunday by smashing a first inning home run.

White, playing the same role for Houk's New York Yankees, socked a tying, three-run homer in a four-run ninth that nipped Baltimore 7-6.

Aaron, however, was hit on the right knee by a Pete Mikkelsen pitch in the seventh inning and will miss today's Braves-Yankee exhibition at West Palm Beach, Fla. And White, who joined the Yanks on a weekend pass from the Army, will be back on duty at Fort Dix, N.J.

While Aaron and White were delivering the long ball in the pinch for the Braves and Yanks, conventional homers helped six other clubs nail exhibition victories.

Loe Lis hit a three-run blast in the 10th inning, keying Philadelphia's 8-4 triumph over Pittsburgh. Larry Hisle and Johnny Callison also homered for the Phillies and Jose Martinez connected for the Pirates.

Rookie Ken Myette pitched three scoreless innings and clouted a two-run homer, leading Cincinnati past the Chicago White Sox 4-0. Detroit scored five runs in the first inning — three on Bill Freehan's homer — and whipped Minnesota 6-3.

Homers by Dalton Jones, Reggie Smith and Billy Conigliaro powered Boston to a 12-4 romp over St. Louis.

Joe Morgan hit a two-run shot as Houston flattened the New York Mets 5-3 with five runs in the third inning and Al Ferrara touched off a four-run second inning burst with a two-run wallop, pacing the San Diego Padres to a 6-2 victory over the San Diego Marines.

Aurelio Rodriguez, Jarvis Tatum and Tom Egan cracked three hits each as California thumped the Chicago Cubs 10-5.

Kansas City's A team trimmed Washington 5-2, handing Ted Williams' Seantors their third setback without a victory, and the Royals B squad, rocked by five Montreal runs in the top of the eighth, struck back with six in the bottom half for an 8-5 conquest of the Expos.

Phillips' Curve Closely Watched

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My husband and I have heard newscasters mention the Phillips' Curve. Can you make this clear to us and how it may affect us? — M. B.

A. You're already affected by it through the woes of inflation. A chart of the Consumer Price Index over a period of years through 1968 shows a steeply rising curve. This is the Phillips' Curve presenting half of a distrubing lesson in economics. The other half of the lesson concerns the rate of unemployment for the same period of years. Prof. A. W. Phillips of the London School of Economics has made a parallel study of these two sets of statistics from which he points to a significant correlation between inflation and minimum unemployment (or high employment).

This seemingly favorable condition, however, brings rising wages and more expendable cash, tending not only to push up prices but to increase demand for goods and services. Total labor costs run higher, competition among employers in securing workers may boost wage rates and union contracts may do the same. With more money to spend the public pays for prosperity with inflated prices.

President Nixon wants to ease inflationary pressures as soon as possible. The Phillips' Curve warns him that this may adversely affect labor by increasing unemployment. Here is a dilemma for delicate handling by the President and his economic advisers.

Q. If a convertible bond is neither converted nor sent in for redemption by the advertised date, does the bond then become worthless? — S. C.

A. Yes, it does, and for this reason wide publicity is given to the redemption or call date. A 30-day notice is sent to all registered holders to which they should respond promptly. Of course, there are sometimes justifiable personal reasons for delay.

I'm certain, though, that companies issuing a redemption notice are troubled by the possibility of eventual loss to some bondholders because occasionally I have been asked by a company to include a reminder that time is running out on an advertised redemption.

Negotiations Under Way For Part Of Store's Transfer

Negotiations are going on between Lawrence Mayer of Mill Valley and Peninsula women's wear store owner Maurice Hack for the latter to take over the women's and children's wear and housewares store of Mayer's Ltd., Mill Valley.

Mayer, who started practicing law in Mill Valley with Robert Anderson two years ago, says he hasn't enough time to take care of both, and would like to cut down his retail activities to attend to his increasing legal work.

The men's wear store would not be affected in any transaction with Hack — and neither would the property, which is owned by BAM'S Investment Co., headed by Mayer.

A transfer of ownership has not been consummated and no date has been set for a change in proprietorship. If the transaction should go through, Hack says the store will keep the same name. He owns and operates Moss Store in Burlingame as well as five stores in other states.

BAY HISTOLOGY SERVICE, Northgate Industrial Park, has formed a subsidiary company known as Marin Laboratory Supply Co. to market by direct mail a newly designed plastic box for shipping microscope slides.

Shaw-Clayton Plastics, also at Northgate Industrial Park, has contracted for the final design, tooling and plastic injection molding of the box and is now producing initial orders.

Over 8,000 samples have been mailed to members of the biomedical fields.

He replaces James C. Gain, who is taking an extended leave of absence for several months to do some traveling abroad. He is expected to rejoin the bank in another capacity when he returns.

ROBERT J. BURKHARD of Greenbrae is one of three new assistant vice presidents at Dean, Witter and Co., San Francisco. He joined the company in 1951 and is an assistant manager of the 45 Montgomery Street office.

Pell

MARIN REAL ESTATE BROKER Richard Godfrey has joined a former associate, John Reynolds, at the latter's Reynolds Realty office in Terra Linda. He has been active in real estate here since 1961 and a Marin resident 11 years. Among his clients is his famous father, radio and television star Arthur Godfrey, for whom he handles California real estate investments.

ANOTHER NEW ADDITION at the Reynolds office is Edward Pell of San Rafael. He is a former safety officer with the U.S. Navy and has lived in the county for four years.

TWO MARIN RESIDENTS have received promotions at Honig-Cooper and Harrington, San Francisco-headquartered advertising agency.

Robert W. Maier of Kentfield has been appointed executive vice president. Formerly vice president and assistant to the president and chairman, he came to the agency in 1963 from Lever Bros. in Canada where he was product manager.

Computer Can Trace Names

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— A computer system that will verify addresses instantly for law enforcement agencies when complaints are received was introduced yesterday by Sylvania Electric Products Co.

The Beatfinder system was developed by Sylvania's new sociosystems laboratory here and recently tested for the nearby city of San Jose. It replaces the time-consuming manual card index system presently used to check addresses reported by street, intersection, shopping center or building.

The new system divides the city into several hundred "basic area units" of 16 to 144 blocks, with a normal police patrol beat assigned to several of the units. The computer informs the police dispatcher which patrol is responsible for the address reported.
